Gulf War Syndrome

U. S. Sells Biologicals To Iraq

Part II: George Bush & U. S. Outbreak!

8/21/95 RICK MARTIN

The following is a continuation of a transcription from the radio program The End of the Line with Jeff Rense. Jeff's guests have been Joyce Riley, last week's Front Page story, and now, Peter Kawaja.

Kawaja has a 28-year security career, both in electronic/computer-based systems and in physical security in investigative analysis. His company, The International Security Group (which no longer exists), was a systems house and did large proprietary DOD/DOE work with defense contractors and large high-risk systems, internationally.

In 1988-89, Kawaja's company was awarded a one-million-dollar security contract for a computer-based system for a food processing plant, PIT or Product Ingredient Technology in Boca Raton, Florida. After being contracted to the project that was supposedly to manufacture an all natural cherry-flavored food additive with a very high risk system, Kawaja found that one of the products or by-products of the PIT plant was hydrogen cyanide.

Now, we'll just move right into the interview...

Senator Dole's Secret ADL/Mishpucka Connection

8/21/95 GARY WEAN

To: Silver State III, Dan Gertsch

From: Gary Wean

Re: The 4-page letter you received from Sen.

Robert Dole, a copy of which you sent to me [see box].

Dole starts off his letter by saying to you, "My Fellow American". Well, right here and now is the time to make Dole's terrible lies and deception clear—lies that in his arrogance he does not even hesitate to put in writing.

First, Senator Dole, the Senate Majority Leader is not a fellow American.

Robert Dole is, and has been for many years, a secret, paid agent of the ADL Mishpucka, a sneak saboteur and provocateur who sinisterly uses his high office to treasonously take deadly actions to destroy America and to grievously harm American citizens.

On the first page of his letter Dole talks of his, "good friends at the judicial Selection Monitoring Project (JSMP)".

Dole further states, "as your Senate Majority Leader, I work closely with JSMP", etc., etc. Well, the JSMP is an ADL Mishpucka organization that gets its orders direct from Israel. The JSMP is a special project of the phony "Free Congress Foundation" which is a 501(c)3 tax exempt, so-called "non-profit" organization. JSMP and the Free Congress Foundation are just two more of the thousands of ADL Mishpucka outfits like the phony Simon Weisenthal (Holocaust) Center which is also operating under the tax-exempt 501(c)3 "non-profit" racket. The Simon Weisenthal scam under the operation of a ratty little Rabbi named Marvin Hier, which just stole another $10 million from the taxpayers with Sen. Dole's help. Remember in my previous "Notice to the People" I explained how this mentally sick little Jew, Marvin Hier, along with Los Angeles Mayor Tom Bradley, extorted millions of dollars from the Coors Brewery Co. All of these people are ADL Mishpucka gangsters who couldn't survive without the thievery and connivance of Robert Dole and the rest of the Senators.

Still on page one of Dole's letter he states, "As your Senate Majority Leader, I work closely with JSMP to make sure our courts have judges who rule according to the Bill of Rights", etc., etc. Dole continues by saying, "Just look at two Clinton nominees who became judges when the Democrats ran the Senate."

Dole's above statement is the proof, as if we needed more proof, that there is no difference between the crooked Democrat Party and the crooked Republican Party.

As we go to page two of Dole's letter, he mentions the judicial depredations of two of Clinton's ADL Mishpucka buddies, lawyers who Clinton appointed to the Federal bench, H. Lee Sarokin and Rosemary Barkett.

With this, Dole makes a plea for the American citizens to reach into their pockets and pull forth more money to support these slime-ball ADL Mishpuckas in the JSMP.

Then, adding more insult to the citizens, Dole says, "The work of the JSMP has been a vital resource for the entire Senate for some time."

Read page three of Dole's letter several times and think very carefully about all his clever duplicity until you get down to the part where he says, "Ever since the liberals destroyed Judge Robert Bork's nomination to the Supreme Court, they have worked overtime in their bid for a 'hostile take-over' of our federal courts."

At this point Dole again exhorts the bleeding taxpayers to make a cash gift to the scum operating the JSMP. Dole pleads, please send the JSMP your money today.

Senator Robert Dole then signs his letter, "For Impartial Justice, Bob Dole, Senate Majority Leader".

But there is more, below his signature Dole once again implores the suffering, out-of-work citizens to send money to the ADL Mishpucka's JSMP scam.

In his letter, Robert Dole talks of the "liberals" bid for a hostile take-over of our federal courts.

But this is more of Dole's clever lies. He knows the federal courts have been taken over by his brother-ADL Mishpucka agents years ago.

In 1985, the ADL Mishpucka ordered President Reagan to appoint and the Senate to confirm Alex

BOB DOLE

Enclosed is a copy of your Bill of Rights. It protects your ten most basic freedoms.

It is the backbone of justice in America. Judges should follow it to the letter.

But if the liberals running the White House get their way, they will give 340 of their friends lifetime jobs as federal judges.

Do you trust them to put aside their personal views when they enter our courtroom?

My Fellow American,

Do you want 340 of Bill Clinton's close friends making decisions about what's good for you and your family?

Do you trust them to put aside their liberal bias when ruling on everything from crime prevention to taxes to voluntary prayer in schools?

I don't.

And neither do my good friends at the Judicial Selection Monitoring Project (JSMP).

As your Senate Majority Leader, I work closely with JSMP to make sure our courts have judges who rule according to the Bill of Rights rather than their own notions of justice.

Our courts are not the place for liberals who want to act as social workers or judges who believe in the rights of criminals rather than victims.

Think this can't happen? Just look at two Clinton nominees who became judges when the Democrats ran the Senate:

Rosemary Barkett who signed an opinion to overturn the death sentence of a gang leader who sent a grisly audio tape to a mother detailing the murder of her son. Now a federal judge.

Imagine listening to that tape?

H. Lee Sarokin who opposes pre-trial detention of violent criminals, even though 80% of state inmates have previous convictions and 30% of criminals out on bail are re-arrested for other felonies while awaiting trial. Now a federal judge.

Do you want hardened criminals accused of violent crimes in your neighborhood?

Only 846 Federal Judges protect your liberties as defined in the Bill of Rights and the rest of the Constitution.

Shouldn't they follow the laws we have rather than create new ones?

Judges that rule without a political or social bias have been an underpinning of our entire culture. And we could lose this in a court system run by activist judges appointed by Bill Clinton's White House.

That's why I need your help today. You can make sure no more Barketts or Sarokins make it to your federal bench.

How?

By supporting JSMP (Judicial Selection Monitoring Project) with your tax deductible gift of $20, $25, or even $50 today.

This may be the first time you have heard of JSMP, but their work has been a vital resource for the entire Kozinsky to the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeal. Alex Kozinsky is one of the most evil, vicious, anti-American Jew thugs from Russia to get on the federal bench since Jimmy Carter appointed Stephen Reinhardt to the Ninth Circuit Court.

In 1985, honest loyal citizens all over the United States did everything in their power possible to advise the U.S. Senate of Kozinsky's evil, treasonous judicial acts and to prevent him from being confirmed.

Loyal federal employees came forward and testified to Kozinsky's crimes knowing that they were jeopardizing their jobs and their careers.

With Senator Robert Dole backing Kozinsky along with other Senators who call themselves conservatives, Kozinsky was confirmed. He immediately caused revenge to be taken on the loyal federal employees who had opposed him.

My book, There's a Fish in the Courthouse, which took 25 years to write and which covers a period of political and judicial corruption dating from January 1946, when I joined the L.A.P.D. until 1987, when my book was printed.

In 1987, along with an associate, I traveled to Washington, D.C. and, at that time, I personally hand delivered a copy of my book and a Petition to each and every one of the 100 U.S. Senators, Robert Dole being one of them. The Petition was from the people pleading with the U.S. Senate to investigate judicial corruption in the Ninth Circuit and to protect the people from gangster judges who were involved in every crime from murder, mayhem, stealing the people's property, drugs, etc., etc.

At that time, 1987, Senator Robert Dole engaged in and involved himself along with all the other 99 Senators in covering up the evidence and facts of judicial corruption. Regardless of Dole's pathetic lies in his letter and overt acts to deceive the people, it matters not if judicial nominees are Clinton liberals or Dole conservatives.

Regarding the Presidential election coming soon, the choice for the people is obvious—not a single one of the Republican politicians dying to become the next president can be considered under any circumstances.

Only Buchanan could be considered a choice if he swears in a platform address to the people under the most dire of oaths that he will rid the country of NAFTA, GATT, Federal Reserve, IRS, clean out the Department of Justice, and investigate and remove all federal and state judges who have failed to protect the people's rights and liberties as defined in the Bill of Rights and the rest of the Constitution.

If Buchanan fails to swear to this platform in the very near future the people must search for a person—someone whose name has never before even been heard—someone who can give the people confidence and someone who will swear to commence the above actions within hours after he has been sworn to the presidency and who will never cease until the above demands and more have been completed.

In this communication, I have included pages 628, 629, and 630 from my book [see next column]. The third paragraph of page 628 deals with Alex Kozinsky, who under no circumstances should have ever been considered for office of any kind in the U.S. Government.

These sentences on these pages were written over ten years ago, but it can be plainly seen that the quickening drum-beats of murderous events are marching America ever more swiftly to that point of destruction planned by the ADL Mishpuckas.

A horrendous tidal wave of political and judicial corruption, treachery, and treason is about to sweep away every vestige of Americanism. The last paragraph of page 630 holds true after ten years; I don't know who the small group of loyal Senators are, but Robert Dole is not one of them.

And if there is indeed a small group of loyal Senators still holding fast for America, they had better stand and make themselves known very shortly. Our country desperately waits for an American hero to arise, as one has always done in time of terrible despair and danger.

August 21, 1995

...screaming for trade and economic sanctions against them. A massive plot to crucify Pretoria by wiping out millions in trade and monetary investments with the city of Los Angeles is underway by Councilman Joel Wachs. All over the world in financial centers the pattern is the same.

L.A. City Councilman Joel Wachs screeches out his concern for black people in a country six-thousand miles distant. His motives are sinister; in Watts, a black ghetto several blocks south of City Hall, Wachs does nothing for them. A vicious AIDS-driven homo, Wachs is wed to another Mishpucka councilman. Out of his closet, Joel is insolent; he flaunts his life-style. Thereby hangs the tale: a group of ten Harvard University scientists working at New England Regional Primate Research Center, in Southborough, Mass. discovered under their electron microscopes a virus in blood cells of Rhesus monkeys identical to human AIDS. With identical deadliness, it kills monkeys and humans. With their microscopes laying bare the killer virus, the scientists note: "The Rhesus monkeys dying from the immune-deficiency syndrome formerly lived in group cages where both heterosexual and homosexual relations and the eating of feces and spraying of urine were frequent." The scientists were appalled, reluctant to admit that the world faced an epidemic, millions of corpses laying in the streets. Not even the terrible bubonic plague of the Middle Ages matched the terror of this. They had discovered that gays weren't gay, they were shit-eaters, a deadly mass incubator, spreaders of a killer virus, for which there is no cure.

Chaos...! Chaos...! From every conceivable direction, the American industry is being attacked and destroyed by the international trade conspiracy. Dancing to the Mishpucka's tugs on his strings, President Reagan cons the people: "Low priced imported shoes are saving the American people millions of dollars." This clever glib coming while our American factories close and thousands of people are put out of work. Israeli-made shoes have captured over seventy percent of the U.S. market because Israeli can make shoes cheaper. Reagan sends them billions of taxpayers dollars to do it. Reagan commits even more deadly chaotic insanity with his nomination of Mishpucka Alex Kozinsky to a lifetime appointment to the Federal Appeals Court in San Francisco. A thirty-five-year-old Jew born in Russia, Kozinsky mysteriously became a lawyer for President Reagan and a law clerk to Chief Justice Warren Burger. This treasonous Mishpucka actually ghost-wrote critical decisions that were made by the Chief Justice of the United States.

Absurdly, Kozinsky became Chief Judge of the U.S. Claims Court, and there, the treasonous agent provocateur sabotaged and thwarted criminal investigations into military waste and procurement frauds. He then conspired to destroy the federal employees who had exposed frauds against the U.S. Because of Kozinsky's Senate for some time.

Their resourceful and efficient staff makes sure the judicial rulings and records of Clinton nominees are not "sanitized" by the White House and ignored by the liberal news media.

These full judicial track records are then hand delivered to every Senator and the news media with protecting your rights in mind.

But, this is not as simple as it sounds.

It can take weeks or months to thoroughly review just one nominee. And right now there is an immediate backlog of 85 vacant judgeships in our federal system. And there are probably 200 more Clinton nominations to review and process over the next 18 months.

With the Senate in session about 38 weeks each year—you can see we are counting on JSMP to help us cover a lot of ground in a short time.

Bill Clinton knows time is short. He is working hard to push as many nominations through the system as he possibly can. He knows he has the raw power to nominate as many as 340 of his friends to lifetime jobs as federal judges—creating the most permanent legacy of his political agenda.

If his handpicked liberal activists slip through our screening process it could subvert the will of the voters, because as judges, they could reject laws and reforms passed by Congress as unconstitutional in their eyes.

JSMP clearly understands this threat and is there to carefully and fairly scrutinize the judicial record of Clinton nominees placed before the Senate.

Presidents, regardless of political party, used to place nominees before the Senate who put the Constitution first and left their personal views at home. But ever since the liberals destroyed Judge Robert Bork's nomination to the Supreme Court they have worked overtime in their bid for a "hostile takeover" of our federal courts.

I cannot let this happen. Which is why I hope you will take this opportunity to make a gift of $20, $25, or even $50 to JSMP today.

Researching the legal background of a nominee can cost $1000 or more. With 85 judgeships vacant already, you can see this work is expensive for JSMP.

For Impartial Justice,

/s/Bob Dole

Senate Majority Leader

P.S. I've sent a copy of the Bill of Rights to you because many of these freedoms are in jeopardy. Why?

Because Bill Clinton has 85 vacant seats in the federal judicial system that he wants to fill with his activist friends. With hundreds more to come.

Believe me, their vision of America is much different than yours or mine when it comes to crime prevention to taxes to voluntary prayer in school. Our best hope for keeping Bill Clinton's friends from becoming federal judges is to tell the whole truth about their prior judicial records.

That's what JSMP does best. They make sure that his nominees' past judicial rulings and records are not "sanitized" by the White House and ignored by the liberal media. Their real judicial track records are made available to the full Senate and the news media, with you, the American voter, in mind.

I hope you will take this opportunity to send $20, $25, or even $50 to JSMP. Their work is important and I hope they can count on you today.

treasonous acts against America, two watch-dog groups and the Government Accountability Project, along with the Federal employees demanded that the Senate investigate into this Israeli saboteur's corruption and treason.

Former Dep. Special Counsel of the United States Claims Court, Jessie James, accused Kozinsky of making outright, absolute lies and statements to the Judiciary Committee at his confirmation hearing, May 17, 1985. But all this had no effect, understandably, the head of the Judiciary Committee is the traitorous Senator Strom Thurmond, who covered up the machine-gun crime for Pres. Reagan's National Security Director, William P. Clark. Then Senator Thurmond, aided and abetted by two cowardly Senators on the committee, ramrodded through Pres. Reagan's appointment of Alex Kozinsky, a treasonous Mishpucka from Russia.

Senators Paul Simon (Illinois) and Dennis De Concini (Arizona), admitted their betrayal of America to the news media: Simon stated, "Frankly I feel some un-ease with this nomination, but I do not have a basis to vote against it." And de Concini stated, "After all of those accusations made against him I feel some uneasiness about this Alex Kozinsky." Then attempting to cover his betrayal, De Concini came on with some sick slop: "I hope that Kozinsky will hear these words and that he will moderate his temperament and manners that he has exhibited in the past." Lord, what more had the Senators needed!

The Mishpucka strategy never changes. Gov. Dukmejian's Annual Report to the Legislature regarding Organized Crime in California is a lengthy document prepared by Attorney General Van de Kamps' Bureau of Organized Crime and Civil Intelligence. The report uses the same old worn-out Mishpucka propaganda they used on Carlos Marcello; they called him, "The King of the New Orleans Mafia". All they need is an Italian name—this time it's a half-assed bookmaker, Peter John Milano. In the report, Milano is labeled "The new Boss of Southern California's Crime Family". The dumb dago loves all the notoriety—eating it up. He plays the part just like Marlon Brando. But in the Report there is not a hint of the Mishpucka crime Family.

The Mishpucka chaos nears its peak—assassinations, terrorism and death around the globe, governments on the brink of collapse, world bank catastrophes, and AIDS, an uncontrollable deadly plague: chaos—deadly chaos.

The people have been run, harried like the hare by the hounds, but trapped against a stone wall with no place left to run, even the hare comes out fighting. And this time the hare has recognized his enemy; the "Jews" can manufacture no scapegoat to crouch behind; they have brought their evil down upon themselves.

As Jack Ruby babbed under duress of his horrible guilt, "Jews will die by the millions, they will be killed in the streets." And President Lyndon Johnson had known the truth; he had stated, "Forty million people will die if the truth is revealed. There were forty-million Jews in America.

Only the United States Senate led by the Constitu- tion is powerful enough to save America. Of one-hundred Senators, the treasonous, corrupt and cowardly will desert their country. The small group that remains will have to stand fast. If not, the people will have no choice; they will take over. The mighty war will be engaged, a Jihad...a Holy War to end Holy Wars...a deadly, bitter struggle to the End... [End of quoting.]

Each Day Measures Our Accomplishments

8/25/95 #1 HATONN

EACH DAY IS BUT A MEASURE OF ACCOMPLISHMENT

It matters not what time of day you arise from your data sorting. Yes, that is what sleep is for—to sort the things of experience and allow a body to renew and recycle itself without stress of labor against it. It is a time of healing and should be filled with visions of great things to come, dreaming to offer understanding and cleansing, sorting and discarding—not nightmares recurring which devour the will and present the failures to always immobilize. When you can dream and envision life in better ways that is presented in the “play”, then and only then can we move forward instead of slipping BACK into such things as Armageddon.

There are several parts to learning to do things, say, such as walking or flying. As a babe learns to toddle he falls a lot, gets up and often falls again before he can stand. Ah, but the infant has only a very short distance from which to fall or sit and usually also has a well-padded landing gear. Then life becomes more filled with responsibility and falling gets more and more impactful upon the self—from ego to rear-end. Then you reach out further into the atmosphere and get further and further from the landing strip OR the padding on the seat. You, let us instance, take up flying in aircraft. Now you have a real problem, THE LEAST OF WHICH IS GETTING OFF THE GROUND! If you can get the plane started and the thrust going—you WILL get off the ground, but, without preparation—what are you going to do now? It is rarely the takeoff that gets ya’ and surely, if the machine is operating well, it is certainly NOT the flying—but there in front of you is the landing!!! You have to set that piece of mechanical genius-apparatus BACK onto the ground. How well you do the landing is THE measure of a good pilot.

A RESPONSIBLE pilot will have his lessons and check his apparatus and his gear. He will prepare for contingencies—even a crash—and then as he reaches beyond his “self” he will take even more precautions and preparations for he will hold in his hands life or death of ANOTHER. A responsible pilot would rather perish himself than be at the controls when a craft crashes and the crew and/or passengers are deceased. HOWEVER, if you dwell in the “deathing”—you will never begin the LIVING! Therefore, you MUST learn how that craft works, how you can be the BEST pilot for that craft and MAKE PREPARATIONS WITH ALL THE KNOWLEDGE OF TRUTH YOU CAN GLEAN. YOU HAVE TO KNOW HOW TO LAND THAT SUCKER IF THE LANDING-GEAR FAILS.

Your entire world is on a crazy and dizzying flight, readers, without any signs of landing gears in operation. Even the tower flight systems at airports are failing all over the world, but especially in the U.S. right now as HAARP is tested. You are having one hurricane, unheard of in all of history, hitting one after another—since HAARP is in operation. Society as a whole is living in “the pits” of distress, stress and depression as the ELF, GWEN, HAARP and dozens of other systems are reaching their invisible tentacles onto and within your very beings. You are pulled and pushed until it becomes so difficult to change your patterns that you simply live with them—that you live on the merry-go-round with ever increasing out-of-control whirling. You have become dizzy with the distractions and expectations.

STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN

The pre-school teachings of Mother or Guardian now stand you in good stead—IF, you remember them! Remember the book, Everything I Ever Needed to Know I Learned in Kindergarten? Unfortunately, parents these days don’t often focus on that which the child NEEDS to know. Childish adults are too busy trying to survive in their own chaotic worlds to teach the children their necessary survival needs. Babies are now either aborted or birthed into the LIE. Mankind has FORGOTTEN TRUTH and therefore lost his way to build and sustain the actual act of “living”. You actually do not even know that to get calcium into bone structure—you have to have silicon—NOT CALCIUM. And further, if I or any other teacher tells you as much—the teacher is crucified for his daring. It is easy, students, to join the rabble crowds and milling masses; it is the leader who will see the moment for that which it is and seize that moment to act in wisdom.

Moreover, he who has taken responsibility and makes the WAY possible bears great, great burden, for OTHERS take the gain and finally turn their own complaints or failings upon the one. You come to my projects, for instance, and even in your unprepared manipulations you turn upon me as if I had somehow failed your ego casings. Then what happens next? “Well, if God wanted it different HE would make it different!” No, YOU offered and your offer was accepted—HE EXPECTS YOU TO FULFILL YOUR COMMITMENT CORRECTLY!

By GOD’s power, each day is made possible through HIS orderly structure of the UNIVERSE; call God whatever you may. Each day offers endless potential. You have “free wills” so each may choose what to do with each minute. Will you act like a big oversized child—or an adult with maturity and knowledge? Will you seek to fill the hole in the reservoir about to wash out your crops and homes—with silly putty and spoons of sand or sugar—or will you get steel and cement and properly stop the flow? Or, will you simply turn away and run from the confrontation or the task and let the dam burst? Will you serve, in responsibility, God’s tasks and projects—or will you walk away leaving others to pick up your failings??

There is a poem which Clay Harrison wrote and I take great, great exception to the message other than “Seize the Moment”.

*Seize the moment before it's gone,
For another day begins at dawn.
Embrace the night which brings you rest—
Awake and know you did your best.
Fight each fight, and run each race—
It matters not if you win or place.
Seize the moment... you'll be blest,
Then rest assured you passed the test,
For he who tries can never fail
When God directs the ship we sail.
Seize the moment and hold it dear
And rise by faith above your fear.*

Sounds good to you? Ummnn Humnn—let’s look at the MEANING of the poem.

Seize WHAT moment before it’s gone, for it suggests that this whole scenario is somehow taking place while you are in sleep. But rest assured, readers, that another day begins at dawn and embrace the night which brings you rest? Then when did you seize a moment and WHAT COULD HAVE BEEN IN THE MOMENT AT BEDTIME and DURING SLEEP?

Next: “Fight each fight, and run each race—it matters not if you win or place...” Fight? Run? It doesn’t matter if you win or place? What are you going to do—just fight and run?

Then it tells you that if you try, and fail, it is fine. NO, it is stupid to continue without learning or preparation, to just go try, and fail. “Try” expects failure. Go learn how to do something and THEN DO IT—stop “trying” to excuse your failures at success.

God does not direct ships which sink. Man runs ships that sink so if you are ACTUALLY sailing WITH GOD—you are doing things right for you will have accepted and worked at HIS perfecting lessons and will SEIZE THE MOMENTS FOR ACTION IN THE MORNING TIME AND STOP WORSHIPING THE SLEEP WHEN YOU ARE NOT LIVING AT ALL.

Now, students—the BEST way to RISE ABOVE YOUR FEAR—IS TO KNOW WHAT IN THE HECK YOU ARE DOING!! To seize a moment and HOLD it dear is to assume stagnation. You must take the moment’s opportunities, know all about how to step next and DO SOMETHING—BESIDES GO TO BED SO YOU CAN WAKE UP IN ANOTHER TIME, ANOTHER DAY—WHEN HOPEFULLY SOMEONE ELSE HAS DONE YOUR WORK.

Just because a poem rhymes and has words does not make it worthy of reprinting, much the less worthy of following instructions. Seize the Moment for service—YES. But try it in the morning so you can get something worthy accomplished. You have to ALREADY BE AWAKE to consider whether or not you did your best. Ponder it.

May we now turn to our lessons so that we might know HOW to live and grow—AWAKE!

have that happen.

Jeff: This is one to two years prior to Operation Desert Storm?

Peter: That is correct. Now, what is very important and how this ties together with, again, the headquarters for IBI (Ishan Barbouti International) was in Houston, Texas at the Gold Building, as it was called for many reasons—for the flow of money—but at 777 Post Oak Bldg., downtown Houston. I hear the building is abandoned at this time. It's a large office building. However, the Barboutis had holdings throughout the United States and, as you spoke with Joyce Riley, you know of the other biologicals that were developed in the Texas area and tested on the Huntsville prison inmates.

In Florida the specific strain, as there were several of them, of the hydrogen cyanide was called Prussian Blue, and it's very key in that Prussian Blue was being tested on gas mask filters about a year-and-a-half prior to the Persian Gulf War. So, that's very, very critical.

Jeff: I see. What happened next?

Peter: As things were going, how I got to know what I know and the evidence that I acquired is, I took the initial concerns to the CIA, the FBI, and U.S. Customs and actually operated for the United States Government under a code-name. I was told that IBI—that these people were international terrorists and that the government was going to prosecute them. So, I was mislead actually because, as I began to acquire my evidence—and I don't think anyone thought I would take it to an extreme as to bugging phones and doing other types of things like that, especially recording conversations of federal agents which I acquired—conversations with CIA, FBI, counter-intelligence, Customs agents, attorneys, members of Congress, people all the way up to the White House—calls from the United States to London and Baghdad. I amassed a lot of evidence which, in putting it together, found that in fact, this was not happening covertly in the United States but with the knowledge, consent, and assistance, and actually, what you would call a joint-venture with U.S. Intelligence and the United States Government.

Jeff: Do you remember the time when that realization really hit you?

Peter: Well, yes.

Jeff: And wondering how you felt at that time? Betrayed, duped, deceived?

Peter: Yes, very much so, betrayed. And as a result, I lost my wife through that and I lost a lot of other things, but very much betrayed in that I went to the people, I thought, who were to protect America, to protect what was happening. And, in fact, what I was doing was going to the enemy. I was turning over information to people who knew what was going on and were involved in it and basically, I guess they wanted to know how much of a leak there would be, what I would do and what evidence I would acquire. As a result, two weeks prior to the war with Iraq, on July 16, 1990, I refused to believe that the entire U.S. Government was involved in this conspiracy. I sent a Federal Express package to the National Security Agency to code-name M323CF and I issued a warning that Iraqi intelligence was operating in the United States and in close proximity to a classified military project and I asked two very deadly questions in writing:

(1) Is our military in a joint-venture with IBI to develop chemical and biological weapons for the U.S.? And,

(2) Does the President know?

As most people should be aware, Mr. Bush has claimed to have been left out of the loop on prior occasions when he was accused of criminal wrong doing...

Jeff: Don't they all?

Peter: Yes, sir, but he is the master of this act. Of course, I already knew the answers. I wanted something from them. What I got from them was a visit by eight Nazi-Gestapo federal agents with automatic weapons who came to my door with a search warrant to serve, by President Bush, under the International Emergency Economic War Powers Act. They came and sequestered me under armed guard for four hours. I was not allowed to view the search. I was not even shown the search warrant. They took boxes of documents and tape recordings from my place of business and I was threatened not to discuss this with the media.

Jeff: Or?

Peter: Or else, ok? Let me say that, at this time, I have a suit against federal agents and agents of FinCEN and U.S. attorneys and although I can speak very candidly about most things, there are some things that I will dance around only because it is evidence yet to prosecute people. As a result, what they did with the evidence, however—this was in early 1990—they sealed it and made it "national security" and to this day, actually, it is still national security. No one has been indicted or prosecuted and no evidence was ever presented to a Grand Jury to prosecute anyone, although I was subpoenaed to at least three Grand Juries, supposedly inquiring into the criminal activities of IBI and was the star witness for the U.S. Government.

No one thought that I would live for five years or the last four years, and I did, just barely. I've been hospitalized and attempts made on my life including attempting to blow up my vehicle. My wife suffered. I suffered a loss of my wife as a result of that. After four years I have been able to unseal that affidavit. I do not have the evidence; it is still considered national security. What the unsealing has done, it has basically been discovered to be a signed confession by federal agents and the U.S. Government in that they made a very, very strong case to the Magistrate in 1990 before anyone was harmed in Operation Desert Storm. And in the document, they actually are confessing now. What they are stating is they knew what was going to take place in the Persian Gulf. They knew about these weapons. They knew about gas mask penetration. They know all of these things that we've just been talking about and how the biologicals were developed and delivered on our troops with the mask penetration agent, Prussian Blue. If you remember when CNN aired some of the goings on about the Gulf War, there were some question brought up to President Bush as to why he did not wish to change the gas masks of the American forces to the same type of quick-change gas mask filters that the coalition forces had. And, of course, the public did not understand why. It really didn't matter whether you had a ten-second filter that you could change or a thirty-minute filter—it didn't have anything to do with it. You were going to get your dose either way. So, there were many things that took place during the war that, again, we just did not know, as far as the public.

Jeff: Peter, two things, and I hope it's not too personal. You mentioned twice that you lost your wife; what exactly happened?

Peter: It is a warfare agent that was used against her and that is evidence in my suit to prosecute these people. However, after she died I received a phone call from an agent delivering a message to me. Several threats were made on my life, including that the Pentagon issued a warning to me which came by the way of a Mr. Dave McMichaels at 2001 5th St., NW, Suite 740, Washington, D.C. phone number 202-483-9222. Part of the message goes like this: "Tell Peter Kawaja to chew on it. If he comes forward, we will deny. If he has evidence, credible witnesses will come forward and testify against him." That's the non-death part of the threat. This was after they had relieved me of documents and they were doing the "what if they didn't get it all?" As Joyce Riley told you, when she tried to call for a Congressional investigation with my documents, the only thing the National Security Agency wanted to know was, did they get all the copies of Peter Kawaja's evidence? And that was the only thing they were concerned about.

Part of the reason I am still alive today is that I am more dangerous dead than I am alive. I'm sure they're aware of that, although it doesn't mean they didn't attempt nor would like to still see me dead.

Jeff: They killed your wife. They've threatened you. You have somehow managed to protect yourself by making yourself so dangerous they would rather have you alive. This has been an ordeal that few men or women could go through. I wanted to ask the other question. Do you feel that, at some level, somewhere, American troops were sent over there with the full knowledge they would be used as guinea pigs to see how this stuff played out in large laboratory settings?

Peter: Oh, definitely, definitely. It's not a matter of question, and by the way for the listeners, I mentioned I have a suit.

There are two cases going on right now. When I speak, I speak from authority.

First, as being someone directly involved and doing work for the government in amassing the evidence. Of course, they never thought I would amass what I did, and/or dare to bug certain buildings or phone lines or acquire intercepted transmissions for the CCC-BNL from Switzerland, so my story is very lengthy. It couldn't be covered in one show. The evidence that I have proves what was to take place in the Gulf War and that, in fact, the Persian Gulf War was orchestrated several years in advance and you run down the players who are put into place and these people who are moved around to include John Deutch, who is now the CIA Director, who used to be involved—he's a professor of chemistry at MIT and chaired the Defense Science Board. Brent Scowcroft who was a consultant to the BNL. Scowcroft and Lawrence Eagleburger and James Baker, who were on the payroll of Henry Kissinger/Kissinger & Associates. Scowcroft and Kissinger, actually, wanted to go to war immediately with George Bush when Iraq went into Kuwait. Dan Mica, former member of Congress, also a Kissinger Associate—we recorded many conversations of politicians who came into town and I also bugged the corporate apartment, which was the guest suite for these officials, in meetings in very expensive, lavish surroundings and restaurants. H a i d a r Barbouti, the doctor's son, is discussing with members of Congress about the cyanide and dumping it into the water supplies in the United States and they refer to it as "Cyonara". So, there were several agendas that were taking place and, in fact, the unsealing of the affidavit now proves that warfare-grade, free cyanide was dumped into the city of Boca Raton's water supply. There may be other places that I cannot discuss and other things that were dumped down. I have since found that the city of Boca Raton has gone into the plant, poured cement down the drains, and has been going there periodically to take water sample tests in the area. What people need to know is that the plant, when it was shut down in 1990, after I broke the initial story publicly—what happened is that the RTC took it over. Then, mysteriously, Century Arms International appears on the scene to have occupied the building. You need to check out their background and ties to CIA and British MI-6. They were flying the British flag over that building until I released a document and made it public about what was taking place there and I have personally videotaped and taken pictures since, because I live in Boca Raton, of missiles that are being stored in a residential community—in the same place where a warfare plant was—in the heart of the Jewish community for South Florida. So, the public does not know any of this. [see box]

Jeff: Well, Peter, they're going to know a little bit more of it after tonight. [Break]

We're talking about some horrifying things. Peter, you just told me a moment or two ago that you actually have tape recorded Congressmen and a relative of the Barbouti family talking about cyanide in drinking water in Boca Raton's water system.

Peter: Yes.

Jeff: Why?

Peter: Well, it's not just cyanide alone, by the way, and it is warfare grade, what's called free cyanide. That is also the same ingredient that is common in what happened in Switzerland, Waco, Japan...

Jeff: In the subways, you mean?

Peter: Yes, all of these—also the World Trade Center bombing...

Jeff: There was cyanide in that?

Peter: Yes, sir. What happened, why it did not kill as many people, if you go back to the early reports—I could fax you a copy of the document—but the judge prosecuting the case stated that the bomb—the terrorists made a little boo-boo—that the bomb was so powerful that the tanks of sodium cyanide did not vaporize. They were exploded and blown away. So, there was a two-fold purpose of the bomb. If in fact the cyanide had vaporized, everybody in the north tower would have died, so it would have been a worse disaster than the Murrah [Oklahoma City] Building.

And, by the way, of course we're jumping ahead but there is no way to tell this in a sequential form...

Jeff: There's too much information.

Peter: At the Murrah Building [bombed], the V.A. hardfiles that were being kept on the returning Desert Storm veterans of their illnesses, the critical ones, were transferred to the Murrah Building and, gee, wouldn't you know? They got destroyed in that building.

Jeff: So the Gulf War Syndrome files are gone?

Peter: Yes, sir. Along with, of course, the NBC logs which are the nuclear, biological and chemical logs; the government is now claiming that some of them got accidentally burned.

I would like for the government and Janet Reno and Louis Freeh to know, of course—this message is for them—they know they have come already with an illegal warrant. So, nothing is at my home. I have miscellaneous copies but somehow, someone sent me more than 10 pages, I won't say how many hundred pages of the NBC [Nuclear/Biological/Chemical] logs before they were destroyed—proved several things: that GF [a nerve agent] was found by the Israeli military police, although the United States continues to deny the existence of GF in Iraq's arsenal after the Persian Gulf War, and that the MSDS on GF originates at the U.S. Army Chemical and Biological Defense Command at Edgewood Army Engineering Center, Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Maryland. It's very, very critical.

What people need to know also is that the PB pill, the Pyridostigmine Bromide pill was not to counteract Soman, as stated by the DOD, but was to counteract GF. That's why that is very critical.

Jeff: Which was given to hundreds of thousands of troops.

Dear Senator Mack:

Thank you for your letter dated March 13, 1995, on behalf Jim Brown and Peter Kawaja concerning cyanide being manufactured at the P.I.T. Plant and the waste by-product of the process being dumped down the drains.

This matter falls under the Department of Treasury, U.S. Customs Service in Washington, D.C. I am taking the liberty of forwarding your correspondence to Washington for a response.

Please feel free to contact me if I can be of further assistance to you.

Peter: That's correct. So, again, proving what was going to take place in the Persian Gulf War. In other words, if you know what is going to be deployed on troops and you prepare or supply them with, supposedly, the antidote, that was part of the test and only one.

Jeff: You're talking about a big laboratory experiment here.

Peter: Very big. You don't need 700,000 troops to take out a tiny little country like Iraq and, in fact, it proved itself out that we waged an air campaign rather than a ground war. That was planned, of course; there was a build-up over a long period of time.

Getting back to—prior to—the crimes. I would like to name some more criminals for the American public. As they were trying to take my evidence from me, one of the tricks I was referring to, a Trevor Armbruster, who is the senior editor of READER'S DIGEST as CIA, who arranged with James Baker III to fly me, and these were the words almost verbatim, "James Baker is waiting. We're going to fly you and land you and deliver you right on the steps of the White House." Of course, you understand the only aircraft that could land on White House grounds would be the Presidential choppers. And, James Baker was waiting for me; however, there was one stipulation—I had to bring all of my originals.

Jeff: Oh yeah.

Peter: I did not accept the offer. Howard Hebert at Defense Imaging and DBA Systems, a Defense contractor in Melbourne, was a very close friend of Brent Scowcroft. So, Mr. Scowcroft and Mr. Bush are not going to be able to state that he was left out of the loop. They were relayed information from me. There is just so much evidence as to what took place and, in keeping in line with the players, Janet Reno, of course, was moved to become Attorney General. Those of you who are familiar with her activities in Miami, Florida—she is from Miami, Florida as a prosecutor and person that covered-up VOTESCAM. Are you familiar with that?

Jeff: Yes, yes. She's got, allegedly, an incredibly sordid, immoral past.

Peter: Very disgusting, immoral past and I, of course, being the upstanding American I am, I would not lower myself to talk about the terrible things they talked about when they were doing this Clarence Henry Thomas thing because if I were, I would mention things that Attorney General Janet Reno was found in awkward positions with young females—of course, I won't say that. Certain Miami police approached me with pictures and things like that, but I won't talk about Janet Reno in that manner. She hired, knowingly as Attorney General, John Hogan to investigate and write the BNL Task Force Report and I don't know if you've seen that report. However, John Hogan was also, gee, a Miami attorney. And, also, happened to be a Miami attorney that represented none other than IDI, the Barboutis. So, naturally, the BNL Task Force Report on Iraqgate, the only section in the BNL Task Force Report that is considered national security is on, guess who, IDI. So, the Attorney General of the United States—as far as I'm concerned and I would like to charge her with felonies, multiple felonies—has lied to the American people. Not only is she the butch-er of Waco, but she has perpetrated many crimes against Americans in knowingly hiring an attorney who the government—and, by the way, I have secret, government documents, U.S. intelligence documents, Dept. of Defense documents that prove the United States Government itself state and prove—not me—I would not dare call Haidar Barbouti and Dr. Barbouti terrorists, even though they are. The United States Government has proved that, and yet, the Attorney General hires a Miami lawyer who worked for the same terrorists to write a report in such a manner that nothing took place in Desert Storm.

So, that will give you an idea of what's going on. Of course, James McAdams, the U.S. attorney who handled the cover-up of the BCCNL [CCC-BNL?], was also moved to Miami to also hide and cover up the Noriega scandal, which was drugs; and then, was moved to West Palm Beach, to, when I opened my lawsuit against federal agents, to cover-up Iraqgate and Gulf War Illness. When the process server went to serve the U.S. Attorney Tom O'Mally there and other agents, we found that Mr. McAdams was conveniently recalled to Washington on a special one-year assignment. His secretary is still there. His office is still in West Palm Beach but he is conveniently not available.

So, that will give you just an idea of a few players and I name them from the CIA all the way down. I am involved in the criminal aspects of it now. Let me say that I received in 1995, March 29, 1995, in addition to my suit that I have filed against federal agents, from the Inspector General, Dept. of Defense, a letter to me regarding some evidence that I sent to President Clinton. They make mention of that and I have the document that I could send to you. President Clinton, apparently, turned over the evidence to the Dept. of Defense, and they issued a case number to me—95-L59724 and opened up a case under my name regarding the Persian Gulf War. I was told that is highly unusual, however, I am not sure what the trick is here. I have called at the Pentagon, the same Pentagon that threatened me several years ago and they have until 9/20/95 before they will release any information. However, that will give you an idea that I think I have a few people worried as to what is going to happen with my evidence. [see box]

Now, what has happened with my suit is that the United States Government has appointed powerful U.S. attorneys to defend these criminal agents. They responded by putting in a Motion to Dismiss my complaint. They did not deny my charges. What they are stating is that even if the defendants committed misconduct—treason and war crimes—that's a new word, buzzword is "misconduct", they should still have immunity. Now, what happened with this response, I was given one day to respond. The judge—they pulled a trick—there are many illegalities they've done against me. I am fighting these powerful people—but it proves that they cannot fight me or fight the truth. When they responded with this, the judge then sent a separate order, ordering me and giving me one day to respond to their Motion to Dismiss. I fooled them and walked into the federal building and filed a two-and-a-half-inch-thick document with evidence, within the one day. Two days later I received a telephone call from the judge's secretary. They canceled the hearing that was to take place in another two days; this was in March of 1995. I filed a Motion for Continuance and they are in Default and have not continued. What they are doing is stalling either to kill me or hope that this will go away, or in fact, when they did that Notice it was done in March. And, conveniently, the Dept. of Defense issues me on March 29, a case number all of a sudden. So, what they are saying is that there is an ongoing investigation on criminals and on terrorists and that is the way they can keep my evidence as national security. Because as long as they claim there is an on-going investigation they cannot unseal any documents.

Jeff: It sounds almost like, Peter, they could also volleyball you around until the cows come home, if they really wanted to. It's got to be very frustrating for you. You're an extremely courageous man, brave; I don't know what word to even give you. But, you are obviously a man of great resolve and integrity and I think they know that.

Peter: Yes, they tried to buy me. I was offered, through another deal, a hundred-million dollars. I was offered untold sums of money. I was even recently offered a contract with the V.A., of all people, which I turned down. That was something that came through the President's office, I won't go into greater detail. But, this was an attempt to buy me off with a lucrative contract if I were to help Desert Stormers, of course, and compile the evidence for the government to help them to save these Gulf War veterans. Well, I don't need to do that because I am helping Gulf War veterans and I am not going to collect the evidence for the same government that is trying to kill Americans.

Jeff: Peter, we're going to have to pause for our next break. We're talking with Peter Kawaja on the Gulf War Syndrome, which comes from Operation Desert Storm where troops, maybe 200,000 people now infected with organisms that were generated by the Iraqis as warfare measures, which in turn and prior to that were manufactured, apparently, here in the United States and sold to the Iraqis prior to 1990. Peter, how many different biological warfare agents have you come across that you feel were involved in the war?

Peter: That would be a piece of evidence I couldn't say, however, it wasn't a matter of just—let me clarify something. There are two types of tests, actually more than two, but it wasn't just what was sold to Saddam Hussein. It was a matter of things that we developed ourselves that we tested on our own troops and, in fact, some of the vaccines—I'm not sure, are you familiar with Abe and First Flight?

Jeff: No.

Peter: Those were two horses that were originally pastured in Minnesota by the Joint Chiefs of Staff who became, all of a sudden, they became, I guess, ranchers. But these horses were being shot-up with anti-botulism, gradually increasing where they could take a hot toxin shot when one dose would kill a thousand horses. That's where they got the plasma. Eventually, they were moved to Ft. Detrick, Maryland and under the Joint Chiefs of Staff supervision that had at least a hundred horses or more that I can document from where they got the plasma for the vaccine.

Jeff: These horses could take botulism and survive it, you're saying?

Peter: Yes, sir.

Jeff: Unbelievable.

Peter: It is, sir. But, you know, we would get into another area of an anaerobic cell and what they are looking—you know, some of these babies that are deformed—babies that are born. That is a specific—that is one of the tests, by the way, being able to have someone either grow limbs, like a lizard if you cut the tail off and the tail regrows—it's sort of genetic engineering or manufacturing human bodies where you can have people with or without specific limbs and that is what Joyce Riley is talking about. It is not just an accident. There were many tests that were conducted in the Persian Gulf War. There are certain drugs that are now available, one of them for the treatment of Alzheimer's. The problem that the DOD is going to have with me and the FDA is that, where are the years of human trials? What happened is, in the Persian Gulf War, some of it was for military purposes and control of world population and things like that. Another part of it was for money and to test certain types of weapons and/or drugs that they would need—it would be illegal, in other words, to do that in a civilized society.

Jeff: Yes.

Peter: You wouldn't be able to do that. But they were saying, well, we have this war. It's a crisis. We don't have time to check out whether it is safe to administer this or not, so that's where we come in with this "informed consent" waiver that they were asked to sign. Basically, what the military did to all of our Desert Storm veterans is say, "Hey, we're not telling you what we're really doing but why don't you sign this little piece of paper because what we want to do is make you a rat and we're going to experiment with you in this war." It's just a crisis, you know, although the war was planned, you see?

Jeff: Yes.

Peter: Much of this is evidence that I have and it is just very, very sad for me to know what I know and to have gone through that. It is just unbelievable and my heart goes out to Gulf War veterans, but it is more than that. At this stage, what America needs to do is understand that I am talking about crimes perpetrated, war crimes, greater than any other crime in the history of the United States of America. Crimes against Americans, perpetrated specifically against Americans by supposedly the people who are suppose to protect us. You cannot leave this end here. You cannot just say the civilian population always wants to think it will not effect them. This is not only about military. This is a communicable disease. It is a slow form of Ebola Zaire. It transforms itself into all forms of cancer, and ultimately, death. Where it will go is death. It is not something which is just Chronic Fatigue that a lot of people think it is. So, it is a warfare agent by design and it is going to kill an immense amount of people and there are hundreds of thousands of people around the world now that are sick and dying. There is just a uniform black-out by the normal media about this; it's just terrible. They're not carrying the information. And if you heard about these individual staph, strep and TB outbreaks, these mini-outbreaks that you are hearing—that is part of the Gulf War Illness. So, I don't know if you've had any of that in your area but I am hearing it all over and the streptococcus...

Jeff: Sure, Group A strep, yes.

Peter: Yes, sir, and the flesh-eating. All of that has to do with the Gulf War Illness. As a result, if you would check, there have been so many outbreaks since the Persian Gulf War. Now, what the government is preparing everyone for is—I saw a TV program about two weeks ago and they are admitting or preparing America that it is not IF but WHEN will there be a world-wide outbreak. And they are trying to say that it is because of this international air travel that somebody is going to bring back the Ebola. In fact, all of these are warfare agents that were tested on people and in foreign countries. And it is not such, as Christians try to believe, that this God is punishing, like with AIDS, people of sin. It is, these are man-made weapons of war, including the HIV, and of course you know there are thousands of different strains of HIV.

Jeff: There are 2003 at last count that have been identified by the Pasteur Institute, not all of which are fatal but certainly each one of those organisms mutates quickly.

Peter: There you go. All of this is part of a plan by design and, of course, it leads into what we call the New World Order Plan. Sort of a cleansing, an ethnic cleansing. It is also a way to kill off or—most of the military is so sick. It is not just a matter of a few. And, of course, there are 300,000 foreign troops or U.N. troops in the United States almost making it a one-to-one where, on every military base if you've got a real American, you've got also some sort of foreigner there sitting side-by-side which is very disturbing to me. Very disturbing to me.

Jeff: At the very least. Time for our last break. Peter, many many people, maybe millions, have CFS (Chronic Fatigue Syndrome). Certainly not all of that came from the Gulf War, or do you think most of it did?

Peter: Well, again, I would be foolish to try to be the expert to say that but yes, as far as I'm concerned unless it was prior to 1990, the Chronic Fatigue Syndrome as it is out there today is as the result of the Persian Gulf War. And that's sad because it will not end with just that. That is the beginning of the symptoms.

I'd like to get something about Congress and John Scheibel. In 1991, when I tried to do an exposé with ABC NIGHTLINE and THE FINANCIAL TIMES joint-venture, THE FINANCIAL TIMES OF LONDON—I don't know if you remember seeing me on NIGHTLINE but I appeared there with Ted Koppel.

Jeff: No, I missed that.

Peter: It was brief and they did a partial exposé about this. When I questioned them about why they really didn't do a hard-hitting show they responded to me that, "We did not want to topple the entire U.S. Government."

Jeff: (Laughter.)

Peter: That's kind of like what ABC did, but I think they were on a fishing trip to find out what I know. They did some sort of exposé and for that I'm thankful. But, as a result of that I got a call from John Scheibel and he is on the sub-committee of International Economic Policy and Trade investigating the army of Iraq, and he asked me one question. "Who are you more afraid of..."—by the way, Mr. Scheibel, I tape recorded that call. "...Who are you more afraid of, George Bush or Saddam Hussein?" I replied, "George Bush." Scheibel immediately said, "Do not try him in the media," and hung-up. Within three months my wife died, amongst other people. I would like to also ask the question: is the public aware that Ron Brown is the U.S. Arms vice-president of marketing? Are you aware of that and does the American public know that U.S. Arms operates out of the Pentagon? What is the agenda of the U.S. Government or U.S. Arms? I'd like to read you an open letter, very short, a couple sentences, from President Clinton. And every president, as they get elected, miraculously become the C.E.O. of U.S. Arms. So, here is the statement. [Quoting:]

To Our Shareholders:

Strong growth in lean years is the hallmark of competitiveness and U.S. Arms has had a very competitive year. Some shareholders were worried by my campaign promise to press for strong international limits on the dangerous and wasteful flow of weapons to troubled regions. But I can assure you that I have held fast to the course set by former C.E.O.s Ronald Reagan and George Bush. The end of the Cold War has caused a drop in both domestic and global arms demand. U.S. Arms has responded by spending shareholder money to develop export markets in Asia and the Middle East. As a result, our share of global conventional arms agreements rose from 17 percent in 1988,

(two years prior to the Gulf War), to 70 percent in 1993. And, thanks to the efforts of our marketing team, the majority of our 1993 sales were to a promising new market, the developing world. In order to insure stability, unelected governments and developing countries feel the need to acquire more arms. (Oh, God.) We are reaching out to them vigorously; where we once catered to Cold War political allegiances, we now aggressively respond to supply and demand. With Russia, our major competitor, still severely crippled, we can look forward to several years of spectacular growth. [End quoting.]

Jeff: An astonishing letter. It's amazing.

Peter: Amazing, isn't it.

Jeff: Yes, you know you mentioned a lot of names earlier in this program. Names that have been around for many years. They continue to play musical chairs with this cast of characters—I don't want to call them ghouls, but—they certainly are involved in some pretty ghoulish business, according to you.

Peter: These are not allegations. Again, documents back this up and personal experience backs it up. That's exactly what you have. It's lateral shifting. People get put into positions. You know, if you are in the private sector in a business, you become general manager or president because you work your way up and you've done good. It seems that in the government, if you are moved into a position, it is because you've done bad or you've got skeletons so that the powers that be can control you. That's kind of how Janet Reno got shifted. The CIA Director gets shifted, John Deutch, involved in biological weapons. All of these people are players in these great crimes. It is just so very sad. I have very little to hold onto. I hold onto this only through my faith and only because I am avenging the death of my wife and the death of all Gulf War veterans and Americans and the atrocities. I know that one day I will die. It is a matter of time that they will kill me. I want the public to know that, no matter, if they have evidence and a video recording of Sister Mary Theresa standing over my dead body and a signed confession from her, I want the American people to know that I will die at the hands of my own government or, supposedly, the government of America. And I am wondering who the good guys are any more. So, I'd just like to make that statement. I live every day knowing that today could be my last. And it almost has been several times. And I've been in exile as a political prisoner in this country that is supposedly a free nation. That's basically where it's at. I am not going to quit. I can't quit because too many people are dying and it is a nation-wide outbreak at this stage and America needs to wake up and it is not a matter of getting mad. I am not a member of a militia group, although I support them. I am not suggesting that people take up arms. I am saying, "You better get ready because this is going to be something devastating, along with what's coming down with the New World Order." For those who do not understand what it is or why, you need to read the Constitution. You need to start finding out what's going on in this country. It is just too lengthy to cover here. That's basically my statement.

Jeff: Peter Kawaja, incredible. Breathtaking, heartrending story you've just told us. You're not selling anything. You're not out to profit. You've been offered huge amounts of money to shut up. You've lost your wife. How do you suggest the average America try to better inform him or herself?

Peter: They can contact the American Gulf War Veterans Association at 713-587-5437. They can also call me at 407-241-8407. We'd like to inform America of how they can help and I do need assistance in prosecuting the crime, but I have no product to sell. I sell no tapes and I am not writing a book.

Jeff: Thank you and we will remember this program for a long time. Would you come back and talk with us again?

Peter: Surely, I'd appreciate it.

Jeff: Thank you and the best of luck to you.

The following is a fax received by CONTACT from Peter Kawaja on 8/22/95:

The Saddest Chapter Of America's History Is Now Being Written

The people of America have yet to learn that indeed germ warfare was used on our servicemen/women during the Gulf War, and the greatest tragedy—it was a joint venture with the United States Government.

This information will shock, surprise, and sadden you. But yes, the worst is yet to come if Americans do not wake up and change our government. The evidence exists, and is overwhelming. Here are only a few atrocities committed against all of us:

- * Chemical & Biological (germ) warfare weapons of mass destruction were made in Boca Raton, FL, and Houston, TX—by "international terrorists" working with U.S. intelligence.

- * One of the special strains of HYDROGEN CYANIDE called Prussian Blue was being tested on Gas Mask Filters at the Florida Product Ingredient Technology (P-I-T) plant, for "gas mask penetration"—over a year prior to the Gulf War.

- * The PIT plant was financed/engineered by the same Dr. Barbouti/IBI (Ishan Barbouti International), builder of the Pharma-150 chemical/biological complex, at Rabta, LIBYA.

- * Former President George Bush, James Baker III, John Deutch (now CIA Director), had financial interests in some of the companies which developed/sold/transferred these weapons to IRAQ. Yes—whilst being Commander-in-Chief, President Bush was arming Saddam Hussein with these weapons of mass destruction, and two years later, "knowing" that (but the American Public did not)—placed American Forces in harms way.

- * President Bush, Brent Scowcroft (NSC), and U.S. intelligence were behind the testing/use of Prussian Blue which rendered our Troops defenseless against the biological agents that were to be tested in the upcoming Gulf War, a war which was planned for this purpose, at least two years in advance.

- * In addition, certain vaccines were "grown", several years again "in-advance", with prior specific knowledge of the type of weapon that the vaccine was designed to protect against. How did our military and Mr. Bush know, two years in advance, what weapons Iraq would use against us, so that "we" developed a specific vaccine/antidote for it?

- * The Pyridostigmine Bromide (PB) Nerve Agent Pre-Treatment Pill was NOT to counteract Soman, as stated by the DOD, but was a counteragent for the nerve agent "GF". The MSDS on GF originates at the U.S. Army Chemical & Biological Defense Command at Edgewood R&D Engineering Center, Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Maryland. The U.S. has continually denied that GF was in Iraq's arsenal after the Gulf War, yet the NBC (Nuclear/Biological/Chemical) Logs from CENTCOM (central command/Schwarzkopf) proves that the Israeli Military Police confirm finding GF. Why does the U.S. continually deny?

- * The NBC Logs also prove that Schwarzkopf was given the authority to use our own chemical & biological weapons. There are Gulf veterans who were involved in shipping out our own supplies of these weapons, most are now sick, others have died. They will testify at the proper time if we act now, whilst they are still alive and willing to come forward.

- * Peter Kawaja, a security specialist, was awarded a million-dollar security contract to provide a computer-based system for PIT, and was prime security contractor to IBI, providing bodyguards and other physical services. Kawaja was then asked (after being contracted) to install a hydrogen cyanide detection system.

- * Kawaja became suspicious and took his concerns to the CIA/FBI/CUSTOMS, and operated for the government under a code name because he was told that these people (IBI) were "international terrorists", and the government was going to prosecute them. This was in 1989, prior to any war, or anyone losing their life. Kawaja soon found however, that U.S. intelligence and the U.S. Government were acting in a joint venture with these same terrorists. Kawaja obtained video and audio recordings of these terrorists, federal agents and politicians (calls to/from the U.S., London, Baghdad), along with paper documents, and intercepted fax transmissions (originating from Switzerland) regarding the Commodity Credit Corp.-Banca Nazionale del Lavoro (CCC-BNL). Wanting to believe the entire government was not involved in this conspiracy, Kawaja sent a Federal Express package to code name M323CF at the National Security Agency, on July 16, 1990. Kawaja issued a warning of Iraqi intelligence operating inside the U.S., and in close proximity to a U.S. Classified Military Facility, and then asked these fatal questions:

- "Is our military in a joint venture with IBI to develop chemical/biological weapons for the U.S.?", and then the big one,

- "Does the President know?" (as George Bush had priorly used the excuse: "I was left out of the loop," when he was accused of being involved in other heinous crimes.)

The war was planned, and it went forward, however, 8 federal agents armed with automatic weapons raided Mr. Kawaja's offices of the International Security Group (ISG) in 1990, sequestered him under armed guard for 4 hours, and removed boxes of documents and tapes, evidence against not only foreign terrorists, but more importantly, against federal agents, and numerous persons and politicians, all the way up to the President of the United States. The Search Warrant and Affidavit for Search was not shown to Kawaja, and he was threatened not to speak with the media. The evidence was taken "somewhere" for seven days, before being presented to the Magistrate, and was then SEALED and made SECRET from the American Public, as "national security".

This illegal search was conducted through a warrant approved by President Bush obtained under the International Emergency Economic WAR POWERS ACT. When Mr. Kawaja tried to do an exposé to tell America about these crimes, as Gulf Veterans started getting sick and dying, he received a phone call from John Scheibel which was recorded (Subcommittee on International Economic Policy & Trade: re-Arming of IRAQ) who said, "Who are you more afraid of, George Bush or Saddam Hussein?" Kawaja replied, "George Bush." Scheibel immediately said, "DO NOT TRY HIM IN THE MEDIA," and hung up. Within 3 months, Eileen Kawaja, wife of Peter Kawaja—"DIED". One of the agents later called Kawaja to deliver a message. Mr. Kawaja's life and "freedom" were threatened numerous times, all documented in various manners, including police reports; however, the FBI, who was informed, NEVER investigated.

* The Affidavit for Search was (4 years later) unsealed finally by Mr. Kawaja, after much effort. No one thought he would live to survive to get it unsealed. That Affidavit and other government documents, sworn to (under penalty of perjury) by federal agents PROVES, the U.S. Government knew what was going to take place in the war with Iraq.

* Federal agents provided their evidence of "gas mask penetration" at the PIT plant.

* Federal agents provided their evidence (excerpt from a letter to a U.S. Senator from Louis Champon, partner to Haidar Barbouti in the PIT project), "I can assure you, if drums of Cyanide left our plant, Dr. Barbouti had his reasons, EITHER TO BE USED AGAINST AMERICAN TROOPS (written in 1990, we were at war with Iraq, but no deaths yet) or FOR U.S. TERRORIST ACTS AGAINST US HERE AT HOME."

* Federal agents provided their evidence, that Barbouti had established "chemical warfare production capability, at a facility identified as Product Ingredient Technology, in Boca Raton, Florida."

* Federal agents provided their evidence, that Barbouti owned "specialty chemical companies" and a company in Europe identified as CROSS LINK, in Belgium (re: CCC-BNL).

* Federal agents provided their evidence, that Ishan Barbouti was supplying MILITARY items to IRAQ!

* All of this and more was sworn to by federal agents in 1990, yet all of it, and ALL evidence taken from Peter

Kawaja under an illegal Search Warrant, WAS SEALED AND MADE SECRET FROM ALL AMERICA, and the President and Commander-in-Chief went ahead with the war with Iraq, and knowingly placed your sons, daughters, wives, and husbands in harm's way!

* None of this evidence was ever presented to a Grand Jury, to indict anyone. Yet, Peter Kawaja, who was subpoenaed to appear (to several) as the "star" witness for the U.S. government supposedly against the Barboutis et al., was NOT allowed to answer pertinent questions from the jurors, and when Kawaja attempted to tell the truth to the jurors, (AUSA) Assistant U.S. Attorney Thomas O'Malley shut down the Grand Jury, dismissed Mr. Kawaja, and motioned to waiting federal agents (one of them from FinCEN) who approached Kawaja and threatened him inside a federal building (this was documented in 1991).

* No evidence obtained in the raid against Kawaja, was ever presented to the Grand Jury, yet, the U.S. Government considered Kawaja's evidence so critical, A WAR POWERS ACT AFFIDAVIT/SEARCH WARRANT was used to seize his evidence. Instead of presenting it to America and prosecuting the terrorists that the U.S. Government itself proved in their sworn affidavits were, our Government sealed all of the evidence, so you—America, would never know. Only because Peter Kawaja survived, after 4 years, he was able to unseal this sworn (CONFESSION) Affidavit.

* Whilst the DOD and VA continue to deny the existence of GWI (Gulf War Illness/Syndrome) and Veterans are dying by the thousands, the U.S. Government, in a separate action, has responded to Mr. Kawaja's lawsuit filed against some of these agents in 1994, and our government states as follows: "That criminal investigation is ongoing and is centered

 GWIs a Communicable Disease, spreading worse than AIDS, by mere casual contact, through perspiration, or by being close to someone who coughs. You can become infected by brushing by someone at a store. Your children can be infected at a playground or at school. Mycoplasma incognitus contains most of the HIV (AIDS) envelope, which was tampered with by humans. It is a warfare agent BY DESIGN. Our government is involved in this great crime and cover-up. A nationwide/worldwide panic is going to be created, of such magnitude, that it will threaten our very existence. This same government will then step in to offer a solution; they will have "an antidote", a treatment, BUT, only those who will accept the medical ID will be treated, all others will be considered a danger and threat to society, hunted down, and imprisoned or killed. Americans will welcome this solution, will turn in their neighbors and friends in order to survive themselves. At the same time, this instrument WILL SUSPEND THE CONSTITUTION OF THESE UNITED STATES, to allow United Nations Rule, the New World Order/One World Government.

around persons involved in the manufacture and shipment of lethal and illegal chemicals to be used by terrorist nationals AGAINST the United States." The U.S. Attorney is attempting to have Kawaja's suit Dismissed, claiming the government has an ongoing investigation. Yet, all of the evidence exists to prosecute the criminals. There is no ongoing investigation. This is a tool and trick so that Kawaja's evidence can remain NATIONAL SECURITY, and you—America—will never see it. By "claiming" there is an ongoing investigation, our government can keep its secret—its crimes secret. However, in their same breath, in this response to Kawaja, they have admitted what the DOD continues to deny, that our troops were harmed by Chemical/Biological/Weapons "Made-in-the-USA". At the same time, claiming these federal agents should be granted immunity, even if they committed "misconduct" (Treason/War Crimes). Kawaja's suit will open up IRAQGATE and crimes against All Americans.

* James G. McAdams III (U.S. Attorney), who covered up the CCC-BNL, and the Noriega Case, was moved to West Palm Beach, Florida to cover up IRAQGATE and GULF WAR ILLNESS (GWI).

* Janet Reno, who was moved to Washington from Miami (see the book Votescam), to become Attorney General, was also used to cover up Iraqgate. Reno appointed John Hogan "Counselor", to investigate and present the BNL TASK FORCE REPORT on Iraqgate/GWI. Mr. Hogan, an attorney, was also from Miami, and represented the Barboutis (IBI), the terrorists that the same U.S. Government proved were terrorists, and who supplied weapons to Iraq to kill Americans.

* The only MAJOR portion of Mr. Hogan's BNL report that is blacked out and considered NATIONAL SECURITY, is on the Terrorists, Ishan Barbouti (IBI).

WHAT IS THE U.S. GOVERNMENT HIDING FROM AMERICA? HOW CAN TERRORISTS BE PROTECTED BY THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT?

* The PIT plant was taken over by the RTC, and now by Century Arms International, who flew the BRITISH FLAG over that building, until Peter Kawaja wrote and distributed a document about them. Please check out their background and ties to CIA and British MI-6.

* The city of Boca Raton Water Utilities have admitted that they have been performing periodic water sample tests from the plant area after all these years, and they went into the plant several years ago and poured cement down drains. The sworn affidavit by federal agents prove that warfare-grade "free" cyanide was dumped into the city's water supply, and they knew this since 1990 but kept this secret from the citizens of Boca Raton. Kawaja has received phone calls and inquiries from people who claim to live and work south of the PIT plant who either have or know of persons now in hospitals, "brain-dead" and DYING FROM CANCER.

* The Drs. Garth & Nancy Nicolson, both Ph.D.s, have published their report in JAMA and featured in CRIMINAL POLITICS MAGAZINE, wherein they describe how Dr. Nancy Nicolson almost died from Gulf War Illness; their cat also contracted this "disease" from their daughter-in-law, a Gulf veteran. They have made the tie also with George Bush/James Baker III et al., to biological weapons, genetically engineered/man-made, identified as Mycoplasma incognitus, one of the GWI "Syndromes" found in Desert Storm veterans. This warfare agent was being tested on death row prison inmates at Huntsville Prison, Texas. 350 prison employees came down with GWI in an OUTBREAK. ARMED DEFENSE INTELLIGENCE AGENTS entered the MD ANDERSON CANCER CENTER, and threatened the administration not to allow the Nicolsens to continue their research on GWI, nor to allow them to talk about it publicly. This is again, the same government, the same DOD/VA who denies GWI, states they want to help our veterans, yet denies them treatment, allowing thousands of America to die.

* The VA "hard" files (evidence) on GWI were moved to the Murrah Building (the Oklahoma Federal Building), and conveniently (er—accidentally/unfortunately) were destroyed in that bombing.

* The DOD "now" claims some of the NBC (centcom) Logs were accidentally destroyed.

* GW1 is a Communicable Disease, spreading worse than AIDS, by mere casual contact, through perspiration, or by being close to someone who coughs. You can become infected by brushing by someone at a store. Your children can be infected at a playground or at school. Mycoplasma incognitus contains most of the HIV (AIDS) envelope, which was tampered with by humans. It is a warfare agent BY DESIGN. Our government is involved in this great crime and cover-up. A nationwide/worldwide panic is going to be created, of such magnitude, that it will threaten our very existence. This same government will then step in to offer a solution; they will have "an antidote", a treatment, BUT, only those who will accept the medical ID will be treated, all others will be considered a danger and threat to society, hunted down, and imprisoned or killed. Americans will welcome this solution, will turn in their neighbors and friends in order to survive themselves. At the same time, this instrument WILL SUSPEND THE CONSTITUTION OF THESE UNITED STATES, to allow United Nations Rule, the New World Order/One World Government.

AMERICA WILL BE ENSLAVED

* Approximately 40% (from confidential sources) of the American population is already a CARRIER of one form (or another) of HIV, as there are now over 2,000+ strains, effectively making almost half of the population a carrier to infect others of (example) Ebola Reston, a slow acting DEADLY AGENT, taking years to manifest itself, killing you in pain and worse than Ebola Zaire, which is quick acting.

The government is already leaking news stories through the mainstream media, warning America: it is not IF, but WHEN, we will soon face a WORLDWIDE OUTBREAK. They are preparing you for what they already know and have planned. What they are saying however, is that this will happen by accident, because of international air travel, and Americans are believing that.

It is not by an accident of nature or deforestation, it is by DESIGN AND IT IS HERE.

Iraq admits to larger germ warfare arsenal

By Barbara Crossette
The New York Times

UNITED NATIONS — Iraq has told the head of a U.N. inspection team that its germ warfare program was larger and more advanced than it had previously admitted, including bombs and scud missiles armed with lethal biological agents, officials of the team said Tuesday.

In weekend meetings with the U.N. official, Rolf Ekeus, the Iraqis provided new details of stockpiles of germ weapons that included substantial quantities of anthrax, botulin and other agents.

The government of President Saddam Hussein also admitted that, contrary to earlier assertions, the biological agents and weapons were not destroyed before the start of the Persian Gulf War in 1991, according to Charles Duelfer, Ekeus' deputy.

Iraqi officials, who in July said their biological agents had been destroyed in the fall of 1990, now say that they eliminated the stockpiles after the conflict, Duelfer said in an interview here

Tuesday.

But some diplomats and officials say they are concerned that Iraq may still have biological weapons stored at secret sites.

Although Iraq had previously confessed to having both toxic agents and warheads, the inspectors said the fact that the warheads had been armed indicated the weapons were much closer to being used than previously known.

"Now they admit that these types of agents have been put on ammunition, including missile warheads, on bombs, and this is, of course, a major admission," Ekeus told reporters after his visit to Iraq. "That means also that the Iraqi weapons program was very much advanced."

Duelfer described the Iraqi biological weapons program as "very significant, advanced and mature" and a threat to the region.

Officials say they do not have enough information to be certain why Iraq did not use its biological arms during the war, but suspect that the Hussein government feared a huge retaliatory response by the United States and its allies. During the war Iraq hit Israel with missiles armed with conventional explosives.

In recent days Baghdad has also provided substantial new information on its nuclear weapons

"Lighting a candle is better than sitting in the dark."

program, a spokesman for the International Atomic Energy Agency said in Vienna Tuesday. The agency has its own inspector, Maurizio Zifferero, working on Iraq. He has been in Baghdad with Ekeus.

A Western diplomat said the new information includes confirmation that Iraq was continuing research into the nuclear fuel cycle, apparently trying to enrich uranium for weapons.

The new admissions by the Iraq government were apparently prompted by the defection to Jordan earlier this month of a son-in-law of the president, Lt. Gen. Hussein Kamel Hassan, who had been responsible for developing Iraq's weapons of mass destruction. Officials say that the Iraqis appeared to want to pre-empt Kamel, whom Ekeus met Tuesday in Amman, where he was given asylum on Aug. 8.

By revealing information that Kamel was likely to provide anyway, Iraq may hope to win favor for being forthcoming, and thus advance Saddam's campaign to end international sanctions against his country.

Ekeus, whose judgment of Iraq's candor would be influential, said the disclosures were a step toward lifting the sanctions. "We see a new language in Baghdad during our visit," he said. "How deep it is and how sustainable that policy will be, that is still, of course, open for judgment

New Gaia Products Offer Help

GaiaCol

GaiaCol is a combination of Colloidal Silver, Trace Colloidal Gold and Trace Crystalline Drias. This combination of ingredients has produced a product that is so high frequency and potent that it could quite possibly be the solution to our ongoing fight against the new antibiotic-resistant diseases that we face today. Colloidal Silver was used extensively and very successfully against bacteria, virus, fungi and the like before the advent of the first antibiotic, penicillin. The uses of Colloidal Gold were also significantly used in the restoration of health as early as 1885 and was noted for its ability to calm and harmonize the emotional body. Once the chemical companies began manufacturing the myriad of antibiotics, silver and gold were no longer looked to for treatment. The antibiotics they were producing, however, produced no effect on the more resistant viruses, fungi and parasites. Now we face a new generation of bacteria that are completely resistant to any antibiotics merely due to antibiotic over-prescribing and resultant survival of the fittest bacteria.

Research has demonstrated that Colloidal Silver is nontoxic to humans and allows no presently known disease-causing organism to live in its proximity. With the addition of Trace Colloidal Gold and Trace Crystalline Drias, the frequency of GaiaCol is remarkably enhanced to allow these newer, more powerful viruses and bacteria to be eliminated. GaiaCol is gentle enough to use topically on just about any skin, hair or mouth condition without fear of toxicity and is outstanding for burns.

For internal use during any type of infectious process, start with one teaspoon the first day and then 10-12 drops, 3-4 times per day under the tongue until the infection clears. Then maintain with 3-4 drops, 3-4 times per day under the tongue. Important: Due to the powerful nature of this product, friendly bacteria can be affected so it is advisable to replace the natural intestinal flora with some type of acidophilus/lactobacillus supplement daily or at least when symptoms are noted such as cramps, bloating, diarrhea/constipation and a general feeling of malaise.

GaiaCol is said to be safe for children and pets and can be taken with other medications without incident. This product is not addictive and does not build up a tolerance to it in the body. 2 oz. $10.00

GaiaGold

GaiaGold is a solution of 100% Colloidal Gold which is one of the oldest used substances for medicinal purposes and has no equal in affecting the physical body positively. Around 1885, colloidal gold was commonly used in the United States as the basis for the cure of alcoholism with additional uses including treatment of Arthritis, skin ulcers, burns and certain nerve damages. Colloidal gold does not have the same Germicidal/Antibiotic action of Colloidal Silver when topically applied, but it does have tremendous effect if taken internally for such as Syphilis and other diseases.

Colloidal Gold has been noted for its tremendous ability to balance and harmonize the emotional body, particularly in regards to unstable mental and emotional states such as "depression", "autism", "Alzheimer's", etc. Gold has further been found to aid in the healing of heart muscle and is highly beneficial in rejuvenating sluggish organs—especially the brain—as gold is the best electrical conductor yet recognized for nerve action. Another use for Gold is in cases of glandular and nervous incoordination because Colloidal Gold is said to rejuvenate the glands and stimulate the nerves which releases the pressure and allows the signals for function to reach through to the various organs and glands.

GaiaGold intake can benefit self-control in diet and quit-smoking programs because it helps to balance the brain's craving or need for such overindulgence or addiction. Taken in conjunction with GaiaCol, overall renewed vitality and longevity may be achieved. 2 oz. $20.00

Facing Truth The Old-Fashioned Way

8/23/95 #1 HATONN

FAST DANCING

With everything taking place around your globe from biological warfare admissions to cyanide in a South African water supply, I think it best if we leave the political comments to the ones focused on those topics of politics, and world governments to other members of the writing staff.

By the way, readers, there is an assumption of ones who somehow get CONTACT in instant delivery, BUT DO NOT SUBSCRIBE TO SAME, that I AM CONTACT. I am less and less "CONTACT" in content as I am trying to get on with that which involves your very physical existence and what to expect as things unfold on your globe. I am somehow relegated to "Doris' psyche" wherein things offered are annoying our adversaries. Those adversaries either have very poor memories or are currently in great illusion. Some continue to effort to turn this place into some kind of cult operation wherein one or two have powers over all things. There is nothing of the sort here and if the operations from onset of such connections, either with the paper or the Institute, were misdelivered by Mr. Green, that is not our business.

Mr. Fort seems to object to being considered part of a conspiracy but the very term is the only appropriate definition. He joined with George Green and then Abbott to damage and destroy the Institute through receivership and total lack of understanding about his OWN BUSINESS ARRANGEMENTS. These have been buried as the shouting is coming forth of "we have been wronged and their God is a liar, thief and cheat." Come now, accusers, you had better go check your own RECORDS and perchance you might just find that EVERY EFFORT was made to get funds BACK to Leon Fort only to have the agreement, after verbal agreement and Board of Director resolutions in conjunction with Legal Counsel, now called a "garbage agreement". Many THOUSANDS of dollars were paid in good faith to George Abbott addressed to Leon Fort. Mr. Abbott demanded the first payment one day before going on a trip to Italy. Two other payments were made in LARGE increments—all ENDORSED and CASHED by George Abbott! More than that amount is lost to George Abbott who has run up legal bills for frivolous suits to more than utilize, on paper, that amount—which he took and SPENT on his own account.

Sorry, Mr. Fort, it doesn't wash with the laundry of lily-white robes of honor! You can blame Ekkers, the Institute AND GOD, even if they were to be a bastardized handvalet of any god whatsoever—but NOTHING CAN BE DONE ABOUT YOU OR YOURS UNTIL THESE LEGAL MATTERS ARE SETTLED!! You act as if there are somehow, alternatives. Mr. Green took the GOLD, Sir, and that deprived the Institute of being able to attend the losses AND such as your demands for funds IN GOLD! Either you NEVER understood anything about business or you have made such blunders that you NOW CLAIM IGNORANCE. You claim that I, through Doris, and Ekkers, through some magic or other, have deprived your 90-year-old mother of something? Who did?? It would appear that YOU entered into these agreements AND continue to work with such as Green and Abbott. I find the insults to Nora's research to be without merit for the documentation speaks for itself in total integrity—perhaps you have not availed self of such flow of evidence in your own case??

I also find the last documents filed with the courts by Abbott to speak far more than your arguments. He has stated that a given amount is owed you—WITHOUT SO MUCH AS TAKING INTO CONSIDERATION THE AMOUNTS ALREADY PAID TO YOU. Where is it? Well, I suggest you consider questioning MR. ABBOTT! How much of your loan do you think will be remaining when Mr. Abbott gets through with his two-step through the court system and Associated Press? You will further note that the loan from you was well used prior to the moving away (with assets of the Institute) of Greens. You will find that Mr. Green BORROWED from the Institute (in addition to the gold coins he took), on A PROMISSORY note, over $150,000 which, if he paid back from his court-stated "under oath" testimony of personal fortune of just less than $5 million, you could have been abundantly rewarded with full interest in addition to anything you might have placed for his use. I do not care what you "think", for the documentation is right there in front of you for the looking.

I am interested in the dislike you show for Dr. Young's sharing for we noted great humor and pleasure when you joined with Luke Perry, Green and Abbott in trashing us in the Associated Press. That, sir, constitutes "conspiracy" to damage! FACTS SPEAK FAR LOUDER THAN WORDS.

I am further interested that you and your team-mates continue to DEMAND that this or that be published in the CONTACT and then, when Dr. Young does so, he is further bashed, battered, insulted and proclaimed a dupe when your presentations do not hold water, much the less truth or fact. Do you not think him capable of discovery of facts? The documentation speaks for itself—and all the wishing it could be otherwise simply does not make it so.

You do not care for me or my people—fine; I don't think very much of your advisors either! I do not like your living arrangements, your lack of acceptance of your own actions, your use of others to present your quarrels and/or ones who hide behind bashing of another to hide one's own transgressions, even if in ignorance of errors. What you consider "unconditional love" is actually "directed unconditional hate" but that is certainly your own prerogative for feelings and actions. It is also Dr. Young's prerogative to respond or not respond in any way he chooses. Your opinions of me are none of my business. However, let us get one last thing—straight: You did not demand your loan paid back immediately, in gold coins, for the heck of it and for your family and 90-year-old mother. You wanted it back IN GOLD so Mr. Green could manage it, invest it in a development (which he also took from the Institute) and to put into a gold mine speculation in the Mojave Desert. I weary of your complaint of someone taking your poor mother's assets! So far nobody has taken or "lost" anything—except what you keep pouring into the drain-hole of George Abbott and legal hogwash. A corporation in litigation over receivership and poor management—cannot on a whim of "druthers" treat you any differently than anyone else involved with that corporation, MORE ESPECIALLY WHEN YOU ARE A MAJOR PART OF THAT LITIGATION! Now, I ask again, WHAT IS IT THAT YOU DON'T UNDERSTAND? No matter what you want to believe—Mr. Green was still an active member of the Board of Directors and an officer of the Phoenix Institute—all the while he was setting up you nice people for his cause. THIS IS UNLAWFUL. N'body has lost anything until you manage to destroy the Institute or some other such nonsense which demands selling at a loss. Then everyone loses and, quite frankly, Mr. Fort—no one else wants to lose so that your lawyers can continue to cover for Green's activities.

Does it not occur to you that Dr. Young also has an interest in the survival of both the Institute and CONTACT? Do you actually think he would jeopardize his reputation—is EVERYONE out of step except YOU? You people continue to try to make our work appear to be some kind of God worship or Cult apparatus—WE ARE NEITHER AND YOUR OPINION WILL NOT CHANGE THE FACTS OF IT ONE IOTA. We revere and honor above all things, God of Light—period. We hope to be able to achieve some goodness and truth into our respective expressions. What you people THINK to be so, again, is none of my business. Further, as long as you serve and protect dishonorable men—you shall be counted among them for ye SHALL be judged, rightly or wrongly, by the company you keep and present as your representatives. In your last statement you claim that "...you have each given up your individual, sovereign god-selves unto the egotistical GOD of Doris Ekker." DORIS EKKER HAS NO EGOTISTICAL GOD and if you base your insults to such other people who happen to live in this community or read a newspaper, on such assumption that anyone FOLLOWS DORIS EKKER—YOU ERR. Earlier in your letter you claimed me to be a God who is a figment of Doris' psyche—fine, you can't have it BOTH WAYS—and NOBODY follows Doris Ekker ANYWHERE! Almost no one even knows such a person exists. Further, it is well noted that you must not read anything in CONTACT or you would certainly recognize that no one is really interested in your circumstance, having a world to consider along with their own values and life-stream. In addition, if YOU set me forth as some kind of a God of Your Life-Journey—that too is not my business for I warned you from onset NOT TO DO SO! YOU ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR THAT WHICH HAS COME UPON YOU—NOT I.

BOY, I'M IN A BAD MOOD TODAY! EVERYONE HAD BETTER STEER CLEAR OF ME!

I HATE EVERYBODY! AS FAR AS I'M CONCERNED, EVERYONE ON THE PLANET CAN JUST DROP DEAD. PEOPLE ARE SCUM.

WELL-L-L? DOESN'T ANYONE WANT TO CHEER ME UP??

The Patience Of Wisdom Goes A Long Way

8/21/95 #1 HATONN

ANYONE FOR A BIT OF WISDOM?

The calls are pouring in as are the letters as to Ronn Jackson's failure to present anything, so far, of all that has been promised. Have YOU presented everything YOU promised?

Yes, yes I know that he was "different"; he was going to take on and bash every politician he ever heard of and buy the world in the first three days after freedom. Didn't it actually sound a bit too good to be true even for a Mega-human? Remember that the talk is of loss of position for individual politicians, mega, mega-money, dreams, hopes, destruction, building—all these things which will bring pain and agony upon the enemies of humankind.

You are readying for war in Los Angeles [see O.J. Simpson outlay in last week's CONTACT] which will actually mean war around your own nation U.S.A. And, as USUAL, your troops are being sent for sham to the Middle East. How OLD can the shenanigans get before you see through the faded tales and worn shrouds? And what of friendships such as you have touched through such as Ronn Jackson which are filled with hope but inability of "substance"? Does it mean HE has failed somehow? Perhaps, but wisdom should shelter everything you do and every act you take. Some steps must be daring and filled with risk but most of you are not even asked to take such drastic actions.

I don't know why some of you, sight unseen, will head for the near wilderness of New Mexico, especially mothers with little children, to await what now appears to be some Messiah (which only means "messenger" at best). Do not false messengers SOUND GOOD? No, I am not saying anything other than my goodness: what does it take for some of you to become more wise in your actions?

Now the calls reflect that it does no good to try to speak to Ronn after the sun is over the "yardarm". I consider a man's habits and addictions to be his own and that which is individual responsibility. If a man presents himself as a drug abuser, alcohol addict, or child molester—you have to discern and decide that which YOU want to place in his care and direction. Leadership comes in all kinds of packages and the "waiting" phase of any operation allows the troops to get to know the leader. Why are you calling him anyway—didn't he say he would "call you" when...? Perhaps today is THE day but will you be so busy denying that you can't be ready? It takes more to serve a nation of citizens and BUILD A REPUBLIC than a bottle of scotch and non-THINKING grasshoppers. WHAT HAVE YOU DONE, ACTUALLY, WHERE YOU ARE?

All I suggest you do is THINK! There is always time to act if thinking is CLEAR and a good foundation built in preparation for whatever consequences. There is hardly ever a way to dig out from under the massive load of entropy that builds thoughtlessly and unrealistically around promisers, prophets or would-be leaders who don't ever seem to have the "right stuff". Don't I ever get annoyed and prickly out of my "wisdom"? No—not often. I do get a bit "testy" when such focus tells others to head for my table to be fed, sheltered and clothed—sight unseen. There is nothing to be found here where we write—so what is the assumption offered in this instance? That we have something or other which is secret and cultish. NO, there is nothing here save a keyboard and computer—hooked, by the way, directly to the same but better equipment at Edwards Air Force Base (now a United Nations base because you no longer have a U.S. Air Force save in name only) and to the CIA wireless receivers for same. Does Dharma always translate correctly? Well, ask the CIA—they pick up the signals just as she gets them.

Am I blasting one Ronn Jackson? No, I AM suggesting that a lot of foolish things are going on on that cart you have pushed in front of the horses which are not yet arrived.

"Why don't you do something?" I am asked over and over again. What would you have me do? I ask you: Why don't you do something? I am NOT on any committee; I have made NO PROMISES UNKEPT; I have a mission and it may well have a lot to do with New Mexico territory but not, other than to assist, in any building of a government, Republic or otherwise. My job is to offer information and to get and keep God's people in safety either on your place or off your place. I HAVE BEEN PROMISED A LOT OF THINGS AND AMONG THOSE THINGS IS SERVICE IN NEEDED WORK AND FUNDS FOR VALID PROJECTS OF INDUSTRIAL NATURE IN A WORLD GONE INSANE. Governments of MEN and kingdoms of physical aspirations are of MEN—NOT GOD.

We have information to offer and integrate, visions to allow dancing alive and awake, and we too, are impatient and irritated at delays but we do not assume that God has forsaken our mission or ourselves. We go right on doing all we can do in the interim sequence and, while "waiting", we have birthed product after product that can literally save the very lives of humankind. We have written thousands upon thousands of pages of RIGHT and CORRECT information and offered the very writings and teachings of the REAL patriots, the REAL scientists and the REAL knowers of GOD. We have birthed and seen MIRACLES at our own hands—what have YOU seen and worked??

Dear ones, with Ronn Jackson, Gunther Russbacher or Mark Twain, you can lay the foundation of a friendship in a matter of moments, but it is a real work of time to build a lasting monument of a true friendship.

Were our knowledge of human relationships a hundredfold more reliable than it is now, it would still be foolish to seek ready-made solutions for problems of living—in the "index" of a book. YOU HAVE TO STUDY THE BOOK!

Mr. Jackson tells us all that he has over 32 million pieces of mail stacked up somewhere unseen. That would mean a LOT of you have written and expressed desire for freedom. Many of those pieces of mail would be duplications but from just CONTACT and other "patriot" groups, you would not reach that number. If Ronn Jackson could, as he offered, write 800 letters in one day—then he certainly can work far more quickly than can I. But if a man tells me a thing—I accept it for I know that sooner or later TRUTH will be proven to confirm or negate the offering.

So, what do "I" know about this man in point? What difference does THAT MAKE? Is it not what YOU know that manages "your" living?

I do know that I have agreements with ones who say they will work THROUGH the conduit of this man. These ones at that level of controlling influence are usually dependable in agreements because they know who I am. I have no input about their relationship with Mr. Jackson. I am not on your committees; I am simply trying to get a mission accomplished in your arena WITH SOME OF YOU.

I most certainly AM IN FAVOR OF, and will assist every way I can, a Republic foundation for government being built somewhere away from Washington D.C. where the bile and bilge of a dying nation is over your heads. However, you have a "free-will" society and, although it appears the "free will" is only on the part of the Usurpers, you CAN do something about it—but you have to wake up before you can even see enough to do anything. It may well shock you to learn that MOST PEOPLE like it exactly like it is. The only time most people feel "alive" is when they are in pain, compromise, war, hardship or whatever gives rise to sensing reaction. The next offerings for you nice woodwork dwellers are virtual reality games and home shopping so that you don't even notice you are prisoners in your own mind. Is this what you want? Is it so unusual to want to experience whatever you perceive to be valid until you die? Someone wrote a crude slogan on a bunch of Tee shirts and coffee mugs: "Life is the shits and then you die!" Is this your slogan as well? Then perhaps you see why things around you abound in crap.

LIFE IS A STAGE OFFERED YOU UPON WHICH TO EXPERIENCE, EXPERIMENT AND LIVE. IT WILL ALWAYS BE THAT WHICH YOU MAKE IT TO BE. HOWEVER, IF YOU LEARN THE TRUTH, YOU CAN LIVE MUCH, MUCH DIFFERENTLY THAN THE PUPPETS OF WHICH YOU HAVE BECOME. GRADUATION REPRESENTS THE REMOVAL OF THE STRINGS (TRAINING WHEELS) AND THE GROWTH TO RECOGNIZE LIVING. THIS IS A TIME FOR STANDING ON YOUR OWN TWO FEET AND TAKING RESPONSIBILITY. YOU HAVE TO MAKE THINGS HAPPEN IN YOUR OWN BEHALF—NO GURU OR POLITICIAN, CON-MAN OR LABORER CAN OR WILL DO IT FOR YOU!! FANTASIA-LAND IS ONE PLACE OF RECOGNITION AND VISION-LAND QUITE ANOTHER. ONE ACCEPTS NO RESPONSIBILITY AND THE OTHER ACCEPTS FULL RESPONSIBILITY. SO, BEFORE YOU ASK ME ANOTHER QUESTION ABOUT SOMEBODY—LOOK IN THE MIRROR AND SEE WHERE YOU ARE, PLEASE.

May we please move on with our presentation in progress. Things of the world will rush on past like lightning in a late summer thunder-storm but REALITY and THE WAY IT IS will be FOREVER. Will you know what IS forever, OR JUST CHASE THE RAINBOWS OF NON-REALITY?

ANIMAL MUTILATIONS: VICTIMS OF TOXIC TECHNOLOGY?

This intriguing article from the August issue of ACRES U.S.A. makes a connection between animal mutilations and crop circles. See what you think, [quoting:]

One of the characteristics of all animal mutilations is a missing tongue deep into the throat. The reproductive organs appear to have been excised or vaporized. Udders are gone. Sometimes the anus appears to be bored out. In many cases the uterus and mammarys are missing, as are the livers, heart—all protein structure. This may take a bit of explaining. Indeed, there is more protein in the tongue and the organs, and we are not required to present too much elaboration to show that there is a direct connection between the organs and high-level protein calculated as nitrogen multiplied by 6.25. Followers of spin theory know that nitrogen is of the negative energy field. Nitrogen is an acid. All negative energy fields spin counterclockwise. The liver, the heart, the tongue—all have a darker color than other parts of the body.

Earlier articles we put forth concluded that a crop circle is nothing more than the spinning out of a positive field to the left and a negative field to the right, therefore, if the energy field present is a negative energy field, then everything in the negative energy field—which protein is—would spin out of the animal trapped in a forming circle. Thus the tongue, the liver, reproductive organs (including the udders or mammarys) all fall into the same categories.

There is no evidence that anyone took the missing

VACATION CONNECTIONS: CLINTONS ROUGH IT AT ROCKEFELLER ESTATE

From the August 14 issue of the ALBUQUERQUE JOURNAL, [quoting:]

President Clinton and his wife, Hillary, waved goodbye to well-wishers Tuesday and left the White House for a two-week vacation of golf, hiking and horseback riding in Wyoming. The Clintons will spend their vacation at a Rockefeller family estate in a valley with a stunning view of the Grand Teton Mountains. [Don't you find that just a bit interesting? As you may recall, it has been rumored that Bill is a bastard Rockefeller child.]

JUSTICES HEAD FOR EUROPE ALL EXPENSES PAID

This article by Paul M. Barrett appeared in the August 14 issue of THE WALL STREET JOURNAL, [quoting:]

During the high court's long summer recess, from July through late September, some members of the court make Europe their regular destination, with U.S. law schools often picking up the tab. Supreme Court Justice Anthony Kennedy moonlights for part of the summer as a law professor. Each July, Justice Kennedy and his wife, Mary, spend three weeks in Salzburg, with all major expenses and a $20,000 stipend paid by a Sacramento, Calif., law school called McGeorge, which runs a summer session here. [McGeorge?]

The high court finished on June 29, and on July 1 Chief Justice Rehnquist was in England to see Andre Agassi and Boris Becker [play tennis at Wimbledon]. Then he headed off to Cambridge, where he lectured on the history of the court, toured cathedrals and war memorials, and was feted by British lords and ladies. [A bit of a royalist, eh?] Tulane Law School in New Orleans and Valparaiso Law School in Valparaiso, Ind., sponsors of summer sessions at Cambridge, split the chief justice's travel and accommodations costs.

Justice Antonin Scalia, meanwhile, jetted to the French Riviera. Hosted by Hofstra University School of Law, Hempstead, N.Y., which paid his expenses, he gave talks in Nice on the Constitution and popped up at posh parties in Cannes and Monaco, where he had cocktails with Prince Albert. [How cozy.] Justice Stephen Breyer spend two weeks in Barcelona, courtesy of the University of Puerto Rico. And Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg sampled the fare at outdoor beer gardens in cozy Innsbruck, Austria, where she was the star attraction and keynote speaker at a summer session organized by St. Mary's University of San Antonio, Texas, which paid her expenses.

Properly disclosed in annual financial reports, these summer journeys by the justices don't run afoul of any ethical or legal constraints on perks. [Interesting how these allegedly stalwart defenders of the Constitution of the United States of America head back to the "Old Country" as soon as the recess bell rings. And what did YOU do on YOUR summer vacation?]

PAWNS IN THE PLAY: HARRY WU HOME—HILLARY TO BEIJING

Chinese-American Harry Wu's exposé, his arrest, conviction, and release from China are juxtaposed against the U.N.'s Fourth World Conference on Women to be held in Beijing early in September. Here are some media snippets:

From the August 25 issue of THE DAILY NEWS, [quoting:]

China's expulsion of Harry Wu is the first good news in months for the dangerously deteriorating relationship between Washington and Beijing, and it opens the way for Hillary Rodham Clinton to travel to an international women's conference in Beijing next month. Clinton can hardly refuse to attend the conference, experts on China say, now that China has made what amounts to a goodwill overture to the United States. [Of course, Hillary has been chomping at the bit to head up the American delegation.]

Harry Wu

From the August 24 issue of THE DAILY NEWS, [quoting:]

Wu was convicted of spying, posing as a government worker and illegally buying, obtaining, and providing state secrets to foreigners, Xinhua reported. The crimes of spying and leaking state secrets are punishable by death. Wu, a U.S. citizen, was dedicated to exposing China's extensive penal colonies. He emigrated in 1985 after serving 19 years in labor camps for criticizing the Communist Party. He returned to China several times, posing variously as a businessman, a worker from Shanghai visiting camp guard friends or a Chinese policeman, to document forced prison labor and the use of organs from executed prisoners in transplants. Wu was well-known in Washing-tissue or bone or blood. Most likely radiation-accelerated destruction simply vaporized the animal material. [Leonard] Rizdon and [T.J.] Mahoney postulate that if one created an explosion, then imposed above the explosion a canopy of sufficient structure to force the initial explosion back to its point of origin, the result would be nuclear-accelerated particle disintegration. The story thus comes full circle to the Acres U.S.A. proposition that using chemicals of organic synthesis with reckless abandon for eventual ionization is playing not with dynamite, but with atomic reaction material. ton as a frequent witness at congressional hearings of Chinese human rights. His testimony helped alert customs officials to the import of Chinese goods produced by prison labor, a violation of U.S. law.

From the August issue of FOCUS ON THE FAMILY, [quoting:]

From August 30 to Sept. 15, 1995, delegates from more than 170 sovereign nations will attend the United Nations Fourth World Conference on Women in Beijing, China. It will represent the most radical, atheistic, and anti-family crusade in the history of the world, and your own government is pulling the strings and supporting a disproportionate share of the costs. The extremists who are preparing for and promoting this conference are a million miles outside the American mainstream, and yet they will be speaking in Beijing with the authority of the United States Government.

First, consider where this international event will be held. No country on Earth has abused and oppressed more women than China, with its forced abortion policy and its "one child per family" law. This is a nation that monitors menstrual cycles so it can identify young women with unapproved pregnancies and drag them into medical clinics to have their babies killed. It is also a country that has murdered tens of millions of female infants. So effective has been its bias against the feminine gender that the sex-ratio in large regions of China favors males by 64 percent. What irony, then that the people who have annihilated their little girls will host a conference on the betterment of women. What breathtaking wickedness! Sending a delegation to China should be unthinkable for two other reasons. A half-dozen witnesses testified that the Chinese government is satisfying its need for hard cash by executing young prisoners and then "harvesting" their organs while their bodies are still warm. Sue Lloyd-Roberts, a BBC reporter [clue] and Harry Wu, who spent 19 years in China's forced labor camps, showed the senators a shocking videotape of the actual executions.

If that isn't enough to turn one's stomach, consider this: According to World, human fetuses have begun to appear on menus of Chinese restaurants as a delicacy and health tonic. It is incredible that the Clinton Administration has not only approved U.S. support for a conference on women's rights in such a country, but it has also granted "most favored nation" trade status to it as well. According to the President, there is no connection between China's abuse of human rights and our economic policies. All that matters, apparently, is that we profit financially from the relationship. [Keep in mind that China is one of the factions in the international power game, and China-bashing and the destabilization of Asia are favorite tactics of the British intelligence kingpins. Not that all this stuff isn't very likely true. It's just convenient to focus on the sins of China and avoid the even worse travesties committed by the likes of, say, the Tavistock Institute. As for the U.N. Conference itself, according to this article, 5 items form the basis for the "politically correct" agenda of the conference: hostility to the institution of marriage, gender feminism (50/50 quotas and elimination of gender identity), population control measures ("safe" sex and abortion rights), homosexual and lesbian rights, and condemnation of religion. This conference is not simply a gabfest cackleberry party. It lays the groundwork for the upcoming, soon-to-be-in-YOUR-neighborhood, New World Order.]

IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE KNEW ABOUT SLAVE LABOR IN U.S.

Have you noticed that everything you buy these days says either "Made in China" (slave labor camps documented by Harry Wu) or "Hecho en Mexico" (outgrowth of NAFTA). The next two articles reveal a network of "sweatshops" here in the U.S. The first comes from an AP article found in the August 5 issue of

the MODESTO BEE, [quoting:]

EL MONTE—As five dozen garment workers slaved inside a prisonlike apartment complex, federal authorities failed to take action for three years even though they knew of the sweatshop. Immigration and Naturalization Service authorities acknowledged they took no action until state officials received a similar tip six weeks ago. A woman who escaped through the air-conditioning duct of the El Monte apartment complex informed state authorities about the conditions at the sweatshop. Some of the Thai-born laborers told of 17-hour days inside the garment factory, circled by barbed wire. "I was told I could come here and make a lot of money sewing in the United States," Vuttithong Vutthiboompronsak said through an interpreter. "There are some who tried to escape, but they were caught and sent back to Thailand."

The workers sewed women's ready-to-wear garments, some of which ended up in East Coast department stores.... Retailers may have legitimately purchased the garments from manufacturers, who in turn had subcontracted with shops that subcontracted with the El Monte operation.

Speaking of corruption, this article from a recent issue of the FEDERAL TIMES tells of sex, drugs, and bribery in the Customs Service, [quoting:]

A former Customs Service employee who has waited years for grand jury investigation into the agency's San Diego district has finally gotten his way. A grand jury in San Diego is hearing testimony on allegations that eight Customs officials here accepted bribes or sexual favors in return for helping Mexican cartels smuggle cocaine into the United States. The investigation is the culmination of numerous government inquiries that control], the Treasury Department inspector general and a congressional committee [in other words, probably bigger crooks than the alleged crooks!], said Bobbie Cassidy, a Customs spokeswoman in San Diego. No charges came out of the investigations. [Reminiscent of the "official" investigations of government involvement in "Waco" and "Oklahoma City" and Gulf War Syndrome.]

The focus of the investigation is reportedly a program known as "line release" that allows companies believed to be of little risk to ship goods into the United States with little or no inspection. The allegations say at least one employee cooperated with drug traffickers in return for sexual liaisons with boys in Mexican border towns and that others accepted money to cover up smuggling. Customs employees also are accused of allowing Mexican customs officers caught with drugs, undeclared U.S. currency and a stolen vehicle to go free.

NEVER A DULL MOMENT IN THE MIDDLE EAST

Disinformation and continual chaos seem to be the goals for the Middle East. Marjorie Miller reports in the August 22 issue of THE LOS ANGELES TIMES, [quoting:]

JERUSALEM—Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin [British Intelligence Zionist] vowed Monday to continue peace talks with the Palestinians as the Islamic extremist group Hamas [creation of British Intelligence] claimed responsibility for a morning rush-hour bus bombing that left five people dead and 108 injured...part of a violent campaign to end peace negotiations between Rabin and Palestinian leader Yasser

Arafat [British Intelligence robotoid or double]. "This is a hard and painful day, but we are determined to fight the Hamas and Islamic Jihad (another militant group) terrorism and to continue to build peace [by THEIR definition: no opposition] with the Palestinians who want peace with us," Rabin said. Israel and Arafat's Palestinian Authority are on the verge of an agreement for expanding Palestinian rule in the Israeli-occupied West Bank. Arafat also condemned the suicide bombing.

The attack touched off dozens of angry protests throughout the country by Israelis opposed to giving up West Bank land to Palestinians. Hamas and Islamic Jihad consider the peace agreement a sellout of their goals of establishing an Islamic state in a Palestinian homeland that covers what is now Israel. [So Rabin comes out smelling like the proverbial rose. Can he help it if his attempts to create peace seem to be thwarted at every turn?]

began in 1990 when Michael Horner, then a Customs inspector in San Diego, reported what he believes was internal corruption. NEW EUTHANASIA FACTORY CAUSES ALARM IN AUSTRALIA

This article comes from the August issue of THE STRATEGY, [quoting:]

Although everything appears to be going O.K. for the globalists, there is a growing uneasiness among the sheep. One of the things that has raised the alarm is the new euthanasia factory in Darwin. Built to international specifications without prior approval from Australians, it is capable of taking large shipments of humans to consign to "a different level of existence". I haven't heard of one single globalist who wanted to visit this "different plane of existence", as they fondly call it.

So why the great expense and excitement to build a railway at billions of dollars, charged to Australia—which is already broke—from Alice Springs to Darwin? Granted, we already have the cattle boxes to put behind the speedy diesel engines, but why the incredible expense? What's going on up there?

STREISAND TO RECORD KOL NIDRE DITTY

From the August 10 issue of THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, [quoting:]

Barbra Streisand is working on a new album, says People magazine, of "religious and inspirational songs of various denomination". Among the numbers she will perform is "Kol Nidre", a religious song traditionally performed during Yom Kippur. [You remember, that's the ritual that grants Jews permission to lie for the next year without repercussion.]

DIPHTHERIA IN UKRAINE?

From the August 5 issue of the MODESTO BEE, [quoting:]

KIEV, Ukraine—The nation is fighting a growing diphtheria epidemic that has experts wondering what happened to the millions of doses of vaccine Western countries donated last spring. Since January, 2,594 people have contracted the disease and 95 have died, including 27 children. An official said the highest outbreak is in regions that received the most vaccine, including Kiev, Donetsk, and Crimea. Ukrainian officials fear the vaccine may have ended up on the black market. [More likely, it was dispensed by injection to the people!]

WINDOWS 95: RUMORS OF ON-LINE SPYING

From a recent issue of the SAN JOSE MERCURY NEWS, [quoting:]

It's the software world's version of the toothpaste tube with a Satanic image, or the bubble gun containing spider eggs: a rumor that won't seem to die about a bit of malevolence supposedly hiding deep inside Windows 95. The report—repeated for most of the year on the rumor-friendly Internet despite repeated Microsoft denials, even turning up in Australia earlier this week—has it that the installation process for Windows 95 surreptitiously searches through an owner's hard drive and those of other computers on a network, and then sends a complete report about what it finds to Microsoft's Redmond, Wash., headquarters.

One version of the rumor, consistently denied by Microsoft, had it that the Registration Wizard sent the serial numbers of the programs it finds so that Microsoft could crack down on pirated copies of its software. Even if demonstrably false, the rumors about the snooping software have been a PR headache for Microsoft. Some companies, for example, have balked initially at installing Windows 95 for fear that competitive information would end up in Microsoft's hands. And earlier this week, there were reports that the Australian Navy was investigating the program, believing it might lead to security violations.

L.A. CITY COUNCIL DETERMINED TO FLUORIDATE OVER CITIZENS' OBJECTIONS

Here is another classic Machiavellian maneuver: If a tactic meets resistance, back off, wait a bit, then dust it off and try again. Persistence always pays off. This article by Rick Orlov comes from the August 24 issue of THE DAILY NEWS, [quoting:]

The Los Angeles City Council on Wednesday ordered the DWP to study fluoridating the city's water supply to help prevent tooth decay. Decades ago, a group of anti-fluoride protesters argued the plan was a Communist-inspired conspiracy to destroy Americans' health. Mounting a well-organized campaign that involved picketing throughout the city, the group in 1966 was key in convincing the council to reject the idea.

Since then, the National Research Council has released a report concluding fluoridation is safe. [As if that made it so!] The research council further estimated last year that about 55 percent of Americans have used fluoridated water without any ill effects [How would they recognize an ill effect as being fluoride-related?] and that it has helped prevent tooth decay.

Councilwoman Ruth Galanter said she hopes the issue is no longer an emotional topic—as it was during the 1950s and '60s when it provoked widespread fears and anxiety in the city—and instead will be considered for its health benefits. [When concerned citizens stand in opposition to government, they are considered irrational and emotional.] "I can assure you that neither I nor the American Dental Association are Communists," Galanter joked after the meeting. [Ha ha ha.]

WORLD BANK WARNS OF WATER CRISIS

What does the World Bank have to do with water? This article comes from the HARRISON (Arkansas) DAILY TIMES, [quoting:]

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unless current trends are reversed, the Earth will have a worsening water crisis, the World Bank warns. We are warning the world that there is a huge problem looming out there," Ismail Serageldin, a bank vice president, said as the bank released a report on the world's water Sunday. "The water problem in most countries stems not from a shortage of water but rather from its inefficient and unsustainable use," Serageldin said. "We need to change our attitudes toward water and stop wasting it the way we do." Global demand for water, which has historically increased at a rate of 2.3 percent a year, doubling every 21 years, must be slowed, the paper said. It recommended that the problem be addressed by establishing associations of river and lake users to manage water, and by selling water at prices high enough to encourage conservation. [More control! And water is a survival commodity. It's amazing how the words "global" and "world" show up with ever greater frequency in the media—have you noticed?]

Setting The Record Straight On Ruby Ridge

CONTACT reader (and loyal and supportive letter writer to our incarcerated friends) Laurie Anteau wrote this excellent letter-to-the-editor to her hometown paper, the Santa Barbara News-Press for 8/19/95. We excerpt parts to share [quoting:]

The Aug. 12 article on the Justice Department investigation of the Ruby Ridge siege in Idaho contained a very inaccurate paragraph: "The FBI siege ended when a bureau sharpshooter accidentally shot and killed Weaver's unarmed wife, Vicki, as she walked out the door of their remote cabin. The marksman said he had been aiming at an armed man nearby."

It galls me that such inaccuracy can be spread over the news wires. It is important the American people know the truth about Ruby Ridge and what atrocities our government forces committed against their own citizenry.

The siege ended nine days after Vicki was shot. IT was an 11-day siege beginning Aug. 21, 1992, when Sammy Weaver, 14, was killed by a team of U.S. marshals, who were illegally and covertly on their land with no warrant and dressed in camouflage. Prior history to this siege was an attempt by authorities to get Randy Weaver to infiltrate, spy and inform on local skinheads; Randy refused. He was arrested on charges of selling illegal arms (guns with barrels one-eighth-of an-inch short of the legal minimum). He was released pending trial. He received a notice to appear in court after the court date had passed.

Psychological profiles on the Weaver family were done prior to the Aug. 21 assault. Vicki was shot the second day, purposely and with "extreme prejudice" intent by a sharpshooter. The sniper testified in court that he could "hit a quarter-inch target at 200 meters", which is over 600 feet. Vicki was "armed" only with her baby, Elisheba, as she held the cabin door open, not while "she walked out the door." Her skull exploded.

During the siege, Vicki's decomposing body lay under the kitchen table, in sight and smell of her children and husband. Randy, his three surviving daughters and Kevin Harris, huddled in the dark cabin with their Bible as our government forces engaged in psychological warfare, naming their camp "Camp Vicki" and taunting the family.

The FBI used a robot to deliver a telephone to the cabin. Attached, undetectable, was a shotgun. Randy was suspicious and refused to go near it. A neighbor with a video camera taped a 20-gallon blue plastic drum being filled by a diesel truck with the same fuel used by the generators and then being placed aboard an FBI helicopter. The helicopter took off and flew toward the cabin. The man with the video camera made sure the pilot of the helicopter saw he was being taped. The pilot circled and landed. This film evidence has survived. The diesel fuel was to have been poured on the cabin where a charge of explosives had been planted on Aug. 23 to set off a fire bomb that would have certainly killed all the occupants of the cabin.

You will remember that there were two young girls (Sara, 16, and Rachel, 10) and a 10-month-old baby inside that cabin, as well as two wounded men. Randy and his family have been marked by different labels, somehow making it acceptable to have had this siege happen. When is it OK to kill? When someone's beliefs are different? Was it OK to murder his son and wife because he is labeled a white separatist? This is a biblical belief by some the races should live separately, not a judgement in value of the races. Is a little hand slapping, letters of reprimand or demotions comparable to murder charges? OR is the promotion to No. 2 official in the FBI of Larry Potts—the man in charge of the Ruby Ridge siege and the Waco siege—justice?

Government witnesses admitted they presented falsified evidence, removed evidence and rearranged evidence from the crime scene for photographs presented as genuine.

Why have no warrant charges for the murders of Sam and Vicki been issued? Why were there unprecedented orders to shoot to kill, in direct violation of Idaho law?

After the siege, I spent many hours in conversation with Randy over the phone and exchanged letters with Sara and Kevin Harris. I know this family. They are an American family, like you and me. They believe in God and country. They are of flesh and blood. They had, and have, dreams and rights, just as you or I. I want you to feel for this family as you have felt for the victims of the Oklahoma City bombing or any family that has experienced an unwarranted tragedy. If this happened to your family, to someone you know, or if you had been given the facts of this outrage, wouldn't you cry for truth and for justice?

FOREWORD

We received a note from a reader of CONTACT who noted my seeming change of subjects and information flow. It was stated that the writer was happy to see the new information but would that mean that my observations would cease regarding solutions for America? I would like to change the word America for World for, in the final equation, "As America goes, so goest the world."

Was America ever a "free" nation under God, indivisible? NO! Well, actually this is not absolutely so, for there was a time when THE PEOPLE (Tribes of the now-called Native Americans) had such righteous respect and reverence of freedom and Creation. Even your CONSTITUTION was taken from American Native tribal councils—then the "takers" allocated the real Americans to reservations and gave them a death sentence to be lived out in those death-row reservation cells.

The thieves of LIFE came right along like the "bouncing ball" and you all sang the lyrics and buried your heads in the sand-pots of "pretend it isn't happening" and "what you don't know can't hurt you..." No, it can't "hurt" you—it simply destroys you!!

Politics is not MY game, readers. I needed to and still need to outlay that which I can to help you "catch up" to FACTS of how it is. Then, I must turn to my REAL task of showing you what YOU ARE! When you understand a bit about what you ARE, then and only then can you begin to understand SOUL ETERNITY. YOU are a miracle! You want miracles to be shown to you? Go look in the mirror!

So what of politics? GO LOOK IN THE MIRROR—for the plight of your lands and order of function MIRRORS THAT PLIGHT OF MISUNDERSTANDING AND CHAOS WHICH REFLECTS WHAT YOU HAVE BECOME. You have no idea of how you REALLY "work" and that lack of understanding of SELF presents the chaos which swirls about every portion of your lives.

Do I speak in languages of another galaxy and elude your own recognition? I hope not, but in that thought perchance you might consider realistically the subject, say, of "American", since the inquiry came from an American. French, British, Australian, Canadian—you name it—could fit into the label.

From a little book called UNCOMMON SENSE, by "A Real American", RAM, Suite 976, Valley Forge, Pennsylvania 19482-0976, (1988) I would like to share a portion of the "Introduction".

[QUOTING:]

What kind of American are you?

Does this question confuse you? It should. Americans are experiencing an identity crisis. They don't understand who they are. Worse yet, they don't understand who they are supposed to be.

You love our great country, are proud to be an American, and consider yourself patriotic, right? But could you give anyone a good definition of the words "patriotism" or "Americanism" if your life depended on it? And, believe it or not, IT DOES. And there's only one accurate definition for each word.

lead and blood. Those heroic revolutionaries are tossing in their hallowed graves because you are squandering away what cost them their lives. Ever wonder if you would have stood to fire the shots heard 'round the world?

What kind of American are you?

There exists an identity crisis in these United States. This book intends to help so-called Americans resolve it by helping them to answer two personal questions: what kind of American am I now, and what kind of American do I really want to be?

You will have only three choices: a Real-American, a Pseudo-American, or a Socialist-American. That's all. There are no other choices. Never will be, ever.

Real-Americans are philosophical descendants of revolutionaries like George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Patrick Henry, Molly Pitcher, and Tom Paine, who all loved freedom enough to fight for it.

[H: Ah and so you lose me. The REAL Americans were the ones HERE WHEN YOU POLITICAL SCUM-SUCKERS ARRIVED! And again, the misuse of the word "fight". Fight what? You don't even know WHAT to fight. The very parties named above were all attached to the Freemasonic Order of Europe. Will you EVER be able to substitute the words "love and live for" in the places you use "fight", "battle" and "war"?]

Pseudo-Americans are philosophical descendants of the cowardly colonial neutrals, who all refused to take a stand for either side during our entire Revolution.

Socialist-Americans are philosophical descendants of English King George, the colonial Tories or Loyalists, and traitor Benedict Arnold, who all loved governmental power and who wished to use it to control other people's lives.

Outside of the RAs, PAs, and SAs mentioned above, every other description of our people hides their true identity. Words to identify so-called Americans such as liberal, conservative, Republican, Democrat, leftwinger, rightwinger, union, non-union, and others, are totally useless and should be ignored. Drop them from your vocabulary.

This could be the most challenging and disturbing book that you could ever read in your lifetime. After reading it, you could possibly consider it an unforgivable sin to refer to yourself or any fellow citizen using the stand-alone title of "American", because you could see the point of using the revealing titles of Real-American, Pseudo-American, or Socialist-American. [H: I prefer you be able to use the terms KNOWING AMERICAN and INFORMED AMERICAN.]

What kind of American are you? What is your true identity? You can't hide any more. It's time to take

I SOUGHT MY SOUL,
BUT MY SOUL I COULD NOT SEE.
I SOUGHT MY GOD,
BUT MY GOD ELUDED ME.
I SOUGHT MY BROTHER,
AND I FOUND ALL THREE

I SOUGHT MY FUTURE AND WHAT CAME BEFORE,
BUT BOTH IN FACT, ELUDED ME.
I AGAIN SOUGHT GOD,
AND HE OPENED THE DOOR
FOR THERE WITHIN,
I FOUND ALL THINGS
I WAS SEARCHING FOR.

YOU ARE A MIRACLE!

Basically you feel patriotic by instinct, coming from your heart, not from your brain, because NOT to feel patriotic about your country is simply unthinkable, isn't it?

You outwardly manifest your patriotism only when you stand for the Star Spangled Banner at ballgames because everyone else does, or when you attend Fourth of July fireworks, or when you fly the flag occasionally, or when you vote occasionally, or when you join the service. It's doubtful whether you can think of one more time. Granted, this doesn't mean that you are a bad person, but it doesn't mean that you are a good American either.

Can you recite the only accurate definition, in a political sense, of the word "freedom", which requires that you NOT use the word "free" or "freedom" in the definition?

As a so-called American, you take your freedom for granted because you inherited it. Who ever appreciates what they haven't earned? Others earned freedom for you, starting at Lexington and Concord, paying for it in sides. The Second American Revolution is starting. You will be part of the problem or part of the solution.

[END OF QUOTING]

FLATLAND

Now, I would like to offer you something from a little book called FLATLAND, by Edwin A. Abbott. ("The fourth dimension, humor, satire, logic combined into a science-fiction classic that has entertained generations.") Copyright 1952, Dover Publications, Inc., 180 Varick Street, New York, N.Y. 10014.

I only want to offer you a short "Introduction" as written by Banesh Hoffman for that little book:

[QUOTING:]

Here is a stirring adventure in pure mathematics, a fantasy of strange spaces peopled by geometrical figures; geometrical figures that think and speak and have all too human emotions. This is no trifling tale of science fiction. Its aim is to instruct, and it is written with subtle artistry. Start it and you will fall under its spell. If you are young in heart and the sense of wonder still stirs within you, you will read without pause till the end is regretfully reached. Yet you will not guess when the tale was written nor by what manner of man.

In these days space-time and the fourth dimension are household words. But Flatland, with its vivid picture of one and two and three and more dimensions, was not conceived in the era of relativity. It was written some seventy years ago, when Einstein was a mere child and the idea of space-time lay almost a quarter of a century in the future.

In those far off days, to be sure, the professional mathematicians were imagining spaces of any number of dimensions. The physicists too, in their theorizing, were working with hypothetical graph-spaces of arbitrary dimensionality. But these were matters of abstract theory. There was no public clamor for their elucidation; the public hardly knew that they existed.

One would think, therefore, that, in order to write Flatland, Edwin A. Abbott must have been a mathematician or physicist. But he was neither of these. True, he was a schoolmaster—a headmaster, no less, and a most distinguished one. But his field was classics, and his primary interests literature and theology, on which he wrote several books. Does this sound like the sort of man who would write an absorbing mathematical adventure? Perhaps Abbott himself thought it did not, for he published FLATLAND pseudonymously, as if afraid that it might besmirch the dignity of his more formal writings of which he betrayed no reluctance to acknowledge his authorship.

Much has happened to our ideas of space and time since FLATLAND CAME INTO BEING. But despite all the talk of a fourth dimension, the fundamentals of dimensionality have not changed. Long before the advent of the theory of relativity, scientists thought of time as an extra dimension. In those days they regarded it as a solitary, isolated dimension that kept aloof from the three dimensions of space. In relativity time became inextricably intermingled with space to form a truly four-dimensional world; and this four-dimensional world turned out to be a curved one.

These modern developments have less significance than one might imagine for the story of Flatland. We do indeed have four dimensions. But even in relativity, they are not all of the same sort. Only three are spatial. The fourth is temporal; and we are unable to move freely in time. We can not return to days gone by, nor avoid the coming of tomorrow. We can neither hasten nor retard our journey into the future. We are like hapless passengers on a crowded escalator, carried relentlessly forward till our particular floor arrives and we step off into a place where there is no time, while the material composing our bodies continues its journey on the inexorable escalator—perhaps forever.

Time, the tyrant, holds sway in Flatland as in our own world. Relativity or no relativity, we still have only one dimension more than the creatures of Abbott's imagination; we still have only three spatial dimensions to their two. [H: And you don't really use those!] The inhabitants of Flatland are sentient beings, troubled by our troubles and moved by our emotions. Flat they may be physically, but their characters are well rounded. They are our kin, our own flesh and blood. We romp with them in Flatland. And romping, we suddenly find ourselves looking anew at our own humdrum world with the wide-eyed wonder of youth.

In Flatland we could escape from a two-dimensional prison by stepping momentarily into the third dimension and coming back on the other side of the prison wall. But that is because this third dimension is spatial. Our fourth dimension, time, true dimension though it be, does not permit us to escape from a three-dimensional prison. [H: Pay attention, readers, for I am trying to show you HOW to get beyond the limitations of this very prison!] It does enable us to get out, for if we wait patiently for time to pass, our sentence will be served and we shall be set free. That is hardly an escape, however. To escape we must travel through time to some moment when the prison is wide open, or in ruins, or not yet built; and then, having stepped outside, we must reverse the direction of our time travel to return to the present. Neither we nor the inhabitants of Flatland can travel thus through time.

Though the crowded years go by, this nigh on seventy-year-old tale shows no sign of age. It remains as spry as ever, a timeless classic of perennial fascination that seems to have been written for today. Like all great art, it defies the tyrant Time. Banesh Hoffman.

[END OF QUOTING]

To better envision "Flatland", picture yourself as a "stick"-figure and you are within the tablecloth on a table. ALL you can see is that which is barely on the surface of the cloth. You cannot rise far enough above the table to look down at the whole of even just the table—but only that which "blocks" your view is presented to your mind through the eyes which are disallowed view and perception. HOW MANY OF YOU ARE IN THE VEIL OF TOTAL FLATLAND? All you have available to your comprehension is that which is WITHIN that table-cloth!

Now, along the same lines of PRACTICAL presentations let me recommend another book for your reading: PIGS IS PIGS, also, I assume, available from Dover Press.

This book is a compiled grouping of stories but Pigs is Pigs has the lesson I would share with you Flatlanders caught in your prison cells. Let us consider this "Foreword" a riddle in what connections you can make and we shall discuss the answers when we return from commercial break, or however it is on your vidiot boxes.

[QUOTING:]

PIGS IS PIGS

Compiled stories by Ellis Parker Butler.

Mike Flannery, the Westcote agent of the Interurban Express Company, leaned over the counter of the express office and shook his fist. Mr. Morehouse, angry and red, stood on the other side of the counter, trembling with rage. The argument had been long and heated, and at last Mr. Morehouse had talked himself speechless. The cause of the trouble stood on the counter between the two men. It was a soap box across the top of which were nailed a number of strips, forming a rough but serviceable cage. In it two spotted guinea-pigs were greedily eating lettuce leaves.

"Do as you loike, then!" shouted Flannery, "pay for them an' take them, or don't pay for thim and leave thim be. Rules is rules, Mither Morehouse, an' Mike Flannery's not goin' to be called down for breakin' of thim."

"But, you everlastingly stupid idiot!" shouted Mr. Morehouse, madly shaking a flimsy printed book beneath the agent's nose, "can't you read it here—in your own plain printed rates? 'Pets, domestic, Franklin to Westcote, if properly boxed, twenty-five cents each.'" He threw the book on the counter in disgust. "What more do you want? Aren't they properly boxed? What?"

He turned and walked back and forth rapidly, frowning ferociously.

Suddenly he turned to Flannery, and forcing his voice to an artificial calmness spoke slowly but with intense sarcasm.

"Pets," he said "P-e-t-s! Twenty-five cents each. There are two of them. One! Two! Two times twenty-five are fifty! Can you understand that? I offer you fifty cents."

Flannery reached for the book. He ran his hand through the pages and stopped at page sixty-four.

"An' I don't take fifty cints," he whispered in mockery. "Here's the rule for ut. 'Whin the agint be in anny doubt regardin' which of two rates applies to a shipment, he shall charge the larger. The consign-ey may file a claim for the overcharge.' In this case, Mither Morehouse, I be in doubt. Pets thim animals may be, an' domestic they be, but pigs I'm blame sure they do be, an' me rules says plain as the nose on yer face, 'Pigs Franklin to Westcoate, thirty cints each.' An' Mither Morehouse, by me arithmetical knowledge two times thurty comes to sixty cints."

Mr. Morehouse shook his head savagely. "Non-sense!" he shouted, "confounded nonsense, I tell you! Why, you poor ignorant foreigner, that rule means common pigs, domestic pigs, not guinea-pigs!"

Flannery was stubborn.

"Pigs is pigs," he declared firmly. "Guinea-pigs, or dago pigs or Irish pigs is all the same to the Interurban Express Company an' to Mike Flannery. Th' nationality of the pig creates no differentiality in the rate, Misther Morehouse! 'Twould be the same was they Dutch pigs or Rooshun pigs. Mike Flannery," he added, "is here to tind to the expriss business and not to hould conversation wid dago pigs in siventeen languages fer to discover be they Chinese or Tipperary by birth an' nativity."

Mr. Morehouse hesitated. He bit his lip and then flung out his arms wildly.

"Very well!" he shouted, "you shall hear of this! Your president shall hear of this! It is an outrage! I have offered you fifty cents. You refuse it! Keep the pigs until you are ready to take the fifty cents, but, by George, sir, if one hair of those pigs' heads is harmed I will have the law on you!"

He turned and stalked out, slamming the door. Flannery carefully lifted the soap box from the counter and placed it in a corner. He was not worried. He felt the peace that comes to a faithful servant who has done his duty and done it well.

Mr. Morehouse went home raging. His boy, who had been awaiting the guinea-pigs, knew better than to ask him for them. He was a normal boy and therefore always had a guilty conscience when his father was angry. So the boy slipped quietly around the house. There is nothing so soothing to a guilty conscience as to be out of the path of the avenger.

Mr. Morehouse stormed into the house. "Where's the ink?" he shouted at his wife as soon as his foot was across the doorsill.

Mrs. Morehouse jumped, guiltily. She never used ink. She had not seen the ink, nor moved the ink, nor thought of the ink, but her husband's tone convicted her of the guilt of having borne and reared a boy, and she knew that whenever her husband wanted anything in a loud voice the boy had been at it.

"I'll find Sammy," she said meekly.

When the ink was found Mr. Morehouse wrote rapidly, and he read the completed letter and smiled a triumphant smile.

"That will settle that crazy Irishman!" he exclaimed. "When they get that letter he will hunt another job, all right!"

A week later Mr. Morehouse received a long official envelope with the card of the Interurban Express Company in the upper left corner. He tore it open eagerly and drew out a sheet of paper. At the top it bore the number A6754. The letter was short. "Subject—Rate on guinea-pigs," it said, "Dr. Sir—We are in receipt of your letter regarding rate on guinea-pigs between Franklin and Westcote, addressed to the president of this company. All claims for overcharge should be addressed to the Claims Department."

Mr. Morehouse wrote to the Claims Department. He wrote six pages of choice sarcasm, vituperation and argument, and sent them to the Claims Department.

A few weeks later he received a reply from the Claims Department. Attached to it was his last letter.

"Dr. Sir," said the reply. "Your letter of the 16th inst., addressed to this Department, subject rate on guinea-pigs from Franklin to Westcote, rec'd. We have taken up the matter with our agent at Westcote, and his reply is attached herewith. He informs us that you refused to receive the consignment or to pay the charges. You have therefore no claim against the company, and your letter regarding the proper rate on the consignment should be addressed to our Tariff Department."

Mr. Morehouse wrote to the Tariff Department. He stated his case clearly, and gave his arguments in full, quoting a page or two from the encyclopedia to prove that guinea-pigs were not common pigs.

With the care that characterizes corporations when they are systematically conducted, Mr. Morehouse's letter was numbered, O.K.'d, and started through the regular channels. Duplicate copies of the bill of lading, manifest, Flannery's receipt for the package and several other pertinent papers were pinned to the letter, and they were passed to the head of the Tariff Department.

The head of the Tariff Department put his feet on his desk and yawned. He looked through the papers carelessly.

"Miss Kane," he said to his stenographer, "take this letter 'Agent, Westcote, N.J. Please advise why consignment referred to in attached papers was refused domestic pet rates.'"

Miss Kane made a series of curves and angles on her note book and waited with pencil poised. The head of the department looked at the papers again.

"Huh! guinea pigs!" he said. "Probably starved to death by this time! Add this to that letter: 'Give condition of consignment at present.'"

He tossed the papers on to the stenographer's desk, took his feet from his own desk and went out to lunch.

When Mike Flannery received the letter he scratched his head.

"Give prisint condition," he repeated thoughtfully. "Now what do thim clerks be wantin' to know, I wonder! 'Prisint condition', is ut? Thim pigs, praise St. Patrick, do be in good health, so far as I know, but I niver was no veterinary surgeon to dago pigs. Mebby thim clerks wants me to call in the pig doctor and have their pulses took. Wan thing I do know, howiver, which is they've glorious appytites for pigs of their soize. Ate? They'd ate the brass padlocks off of a barn door! If the paddy pig, by the same token, ate as hearty as these dago pigs do, there'd be a famine in Ireland."

To assure himself that his report would be up to date, Flannery went to the rear of the office and looked into the cage. The pigs had been transferred to a larger box—a dry goods box.

"Wan,—two,—t'ree,—four,—foive,—six,—sivin,—eight!" he counted. "Sivin spotted an' wan all black. All well an' hearty an' all eatin' loike ragin' hippypottymusses." He went back to his desk and wrote.

"Mr. Morgan, Head of Tariff Department," he wrote. "Why do I say dago pigs is pigs because they is pigs and will be til you say they ain't which is what the rule book says stop your jollying me you know it as well as I do. As to health they are all well and hoping you are the same. P.S. There are eight now the family increased all good eaters. P.S. I paid out so far two dollars for cabbage which they like shill I put in bill for same what?"

Morgan, head of the Tariff Department, when he received this letter, laughed. He read it again and became serious.

"By George!" he said, "Flannery is right, 'pigs is pigs.' I'll have to get authority on this thing. Meanwhile, Miss Kane, take this letter: Agent, Westcote, N.J. Regarding shipment guinea-pigs, File No. A6754. Rule 83, General Instruction to Agents, clearly states that agents shall collect from consignee all costs of provender, etc., etc., required for live stock while in tansit or storage. You will proceed to collect same from consignee."

Flannery received this letter next morning, and when he read it he grinned.

"Proceed to collect," he said softly. "How thim clerks do loike to be talkin'! Me proceed to collect two dollars and twinty-foive cints off Misther Morehouse! I wonder do thim clerks know Misther Morehouse? I'll get it! Oh, yes! 'Misther Morehouse, two an' a quarter, plaze.' 'Cert'nly, me dear frind F'annery, Delighted!' Not!"

Flannery drove the express wagon to Mr. Morehouse's door. Mr. Morehouse answered the bell.

"Ah, hal!" he cried as soon as he saw it was Flannery. "So you've come to your senses at last, have you? I thought you would! Bring the box in."

"Thev no box," said Flannery coldly. "I hev a bill agin Misther John C. Morehouse for two dollars and twinty-foive cints for kebbages aten by his dago pigs. Wud you wish to pay ut?"

"Pay— Cabbages— !" gasped Mr. Morehouse. "Do you mean to say that two little guinea-pigs—"

"Eight!" said Flannery. "Papa an' mamma an' the six childern. Eight!"

For answer Mr. Morehouse slammed the door in Flannery's face. Flannery looked at the door reproachfully.

"I take ut the con-sign-y don't want to pay for thim kebbages," he said. "If I know signs of refusal, the con-sign-y refuses to pay for wan dang kebbage leaf an' be hanged to me!"

Mr. Morgan, the head of the Tariff Department, consulted the president of the Interurban Express Company regarding guinea-pigs, as to whether they were pigs or not pigs. The president was inclined to treat the matter lightly.

"What is the rate on pigs and on pets?" he asked.

"Pigs thirty cents, pets twenty-five," said Morgan.

"Then of course guinea-pigs are pigs," said the president.

"Yes," agreed Morgan, "I look at it that way, too. A thing that can come under two rates is naturally due to be classed as the higher. But are guinea-pigs, pigs? Aren't they rabbits?"

"Come to think of it," said the president, "I believe they are more like rabbits. Sort of half-way station between pig and rabbit. I think the question is this—are guinea-pigs of the domestic pig family: I'll ask Professor Gordon. He is authority on such things. Leave the papers with me."

The president put the papers on his desk and wrote a letter to Professor Gordon. Unfortunately the Professor was in South America collecting zoological specimens, and the letter was forwarded to him by his wife. As the Professor was in the highest Andes, where no white man had ever penetrated, the letter was many months in reaching him. The president forgot the guinea-pigs, Morgan forgot them, Mr. Morehouse forgot them, but Flannery did not. One-half of his time he gave to the duties of his agency; the other half was devoted to the guinea-pigs. Long before Professor Gordon received the president's letter Morgan received one from Flannery.

"About them dago pigs," it said, "what shall I do they are great in family life, no race suicide for them, there are thirty-two now shall I sell them do you take this express office for a menagerie, answer quick."

Morgan reached for the telegraph blank and wrote: "Agent, Westcote. Don't sell pigs."

He then wrote Flannery a letter calling his attention to the fact that the pigs were not the property of the company but were merely being held during a settlement of a dispute regarding rates. He advised Flannery to take the best possible care of them.

Flannery, letter in hand, looked at the pigs and sighed. The dry-goods box cage had become too small. He boarded up twenty feet of the rear of the express office to make a large and airy home for them, and went about his business. He worked with feverish intensity when out on his rounds, for the pigs required attention and took most of his time. Some months later, in desperation, he seized a sheet of paper and wrote "160" across it and mailed it to Morgan. Morgan returned it asking for explanation. Flannery replied:

"There be now one hundred sixty of them dago pigs, for heavens sake let me sell off some, do you want me to go crazy, what?"

"Sell no pigs," Morgan wired.

Not long after this the president of the express company received a letter from Professor Gordon. It was a long and scholarly letter, but the point was that the guinea-pig was the Cavia aparoea, while the common pig was the genius Sus of the family Suidae. He remarked that they were prolific and multiplied rapidly.

"They are not pigs," said the president, decidedly, to Morgan. "The twenty-five cent rate applies."

Morgan made the proper notation on the papers that had accumulated in File A6754, and turned them over to the Audit Department. The Audit Department took some time to look the matter up, and after the usual delay wrote Flannery that he had on hand one hundred and sixty guinea-pigs, the property of consignee, he should deliver them and collect charges at the rate of twenty-five cents each.

Flannery spent a day herding his charges through a narrow opening in their cage so that he might count them.

"Audit Dept.," he wrote, when he had finished the count, "you are way off there mebbly was one hundred and sixty dago pigs once, but wake up don't be a back number. I've got even eight hundred, now shill collect for eight hundred or what, how about sixty-four dollars I paid out for kebbages."

It required a great many letters back and forth before the Audit Department was able to understand why the error had been made of billing one hundred and sixty instead of eight hundred, and still more time for it to get the meaning of the "kebbages".

Flannery was crowded into a few feet at the extreme front of the office. The pigs had all the rest of the room and two boys were employed constantly attending to them. The day after Flannery had counted the guinea-pigs there were eight more added to his drove, and by the time the Audit Department gave him authority to collect for eight hundred Flannery had given up all attempts to attend to the receipt or the delivery of goods. He was hastily building galleries around the express office, tier above tier. He had four thousand and sixty-four guinea-pigs to care for! More were arriving daily.

Immediately following its authorization the Audit Department sent another letter, but Flannery was too busy to open it. They wrote another and then they telegraphed: "Error in guinea-pig bill. Collect for two guinea-pigs, fifty cents. Deliver all to consignee."

Flannery read the telegram and cheered up. He wrote out a bill as rapidly as his pencil could travel over paper and ran all the way to the Morehouse home. At the gate he stopped suddenly. The house stared at him with vacant eyes. The windows were bare of curtains and he could see into the empty rooms. A sign on the porch said, "To Let". Mr. Morehouse had moved! Flannery ran all the way back to the express office. Sixty-nine guinea-pigs had been born during his absence. He ran out again and made feverish inquiries in the village. Mr. Morehouse had not only moved, but he had left Westcote. Flannery returned to the express office and found that two hundred and six guinea-pigs had entered the world since he left it. He wrote a telegram to the Audit Department.

"Can't collect fifty cents for two dago pigs consignee has left town address unknown what shall I do? Flannery."

The telegram was handed to one of the clerks in the Audit Department, and as he read it he laughed.

"Flannery must be crazy. He ought to know that the thing to do is to return the consignment here," said the clerk. He telegraphed Flannery to send the pigs to the main office of the company at Franklin.

When Flannery received the telegram he set to work. The six boys he had engaged to help him also set to work. They worked with the haste of desperate men, making cages out of soap boxes, cracker boxes, and all kinds of boxes, and as fast as the cages were completed they filled them with guinea-pigs and expressed them to Franklin. Day after day the cages of guinea-pigs flowed in a steady stream from Westcote to Franklin, and still Flannery and his six helpers ripped and nailed and packed—relentlessly and feverishly. At the end of the week they had shipped two hundred and eighty cases of guinea-pigs, and there were in the express office seven hundred and four more pigs than when they began packing them.

"Stop sending pigs. Warehouse full," came a telegram to Flannery. He stopped packing only long enough to wire back. "Can't stop," and kept on sending them. On the next train up from Franklin came one of the company's inspectors. He had instructions to stop the stream of guinea-pigs at all hazards. As his train drew up at Westcote station he saw a cattle-car standing on the express company's siding. When he reached the express office he saw the express wagon backed up to the door. Six boys were carrying bushel baskets full of guinea-pigs from the office and dumping them into the wagon. Inside the room Flannery, with his coat and vest off, was shoveling guinea-pigs into bushel baskets with a coal scoop. He was winding up the guinea-pig episode.

He looked up at the inspector with a snort of anger.

"Wan wagonload more an' I'll be quit of thim, an' niver will ye catch Flannery wid no more foreign pigs on his hands. No, sur! They nedar was the death o' me. Nixt toime I'll know that pigs of whatever nationality is domestic pets—an' go at the lowest rate."

He began shoveling again rapidly, speaking quickly between breaths.

"Rules may be rules, but you can't fool Mike Flannery twice wid the same trick—whin ut comes to live stock, dang the rules. So long as Flannery runs this expriss office—pigs is pets—an' cows is pets—an' horses is pets—an' lions an' tigers an' Rocky Mountain goats is pets—an' the rate on thim is twinty-foive cints."

He paused long enough to let one of the boys put an empty basket in the place of the one he had just filled. There were only a few guinea-pig left. As he noted their limited number his natural habit of looking on the bright side returned.

"Well, annyhow," he said cheerfully, "'tis not so bad as ut might be. What if thim dago pigs had been elephants!"

Are YOU going to be "just glad" pigs aren't elephants and continue your journey in Flatland? I wonder! For you adventurous brethren, please come within our workshops and find out about the miracles of living and find that actually Pigs ain't pigs at all. We can PROVE to you, for instance, that the body you know nothing (really) about gets it calcium from silicon. And, unless you learn these things—be VERY glad pigs are not elephants!

NO ONE CAN ACTUALLY TELL YOU HOW TO DO A THING—ANOTHER CAN ONLY TELL YOU HOW THEY PERCEIVE A THING SHOULD BE DONE. THE WAY MIGHT WELL BE CORRECT—OR JUST AN OPINION. YOU HAVE TO DO THE CHOOSING AND THE DOING. THERE IS, HOWEVER, COMMON "HORSE" SENSE TO BE CONSIDERED IN EVERY ACTION! MOREOVER, A PERSON WHO IS ADDICTED AND CANNOT HEAL SELF HAS TWO NEGATIVE THINGS GOING FOR HIM WHICH WILL DESTROY HIM. HE DOES NOT TRUST GOD ENOUGH TO HELP HIM AND HE IS TOO WEAK TO LEAD, FOR WHEN CLARITY OF MIND AND THOUGHT IS COMPROMISED, THE PATHWAY IS OFTEN LOST WHEN THE TERRAIN GETS ROUGH. THESE ARE SYMPTOMS OF A MAN WHO HAS LOST HIS DREAM OR NEVER BUILT ONE—ONLY FANTASIZED WITH A BROKEN HEART.

THERE ARE MANY WAYS OF BREAKING A HEART. STORIES ABOUND OF HEARTS BROKEN BY LOVE OR LOSS OF LOVE, BUT WHAT REALLY BROKE THE HEART WAS THE TAKING AWAY OF ITS DREAM—WHATEVER THAT DREAM MIGHT BE. The Hidden Truth About Biological Transmutations

IN THE HEART BE GLAD

When it seems that nothing is happening and things are stalled in delays and interference, let us be glad and let us give thanks that OTHER THINGS ARE HAPPENING somewhere else and are simply not in our focus of attention nor ability to see. Faith is that which we offer God when our own way seems quite bogged or desperate.

Life can only be understood by looking back and weighing that which has already been experienced and therefore it would be quite reasonable to suggest that life can only be understood backwards and yet must be lived forward. Sometimes that seems to be "fast forward". I also realize that, as we WAIT patiently or impatiently for something expected, it appears to be in sub-slow-motion. You have to MAKE THINGS HAPPEN, Readers. You have to plan the happenings lest life be that which piles upon you while you make other plans for the results and forget to finish the job of the obtaining. Think about this as you complain and focus negative thoughts upon ones from whom you await help. In other words, where that awaited is worldly in goods—MAKE IT HAPPEN. YOU HAVE THE POWER TO ACCOMPLISH ANYTHING YOU WISH IF YOU ACT PROPERLY ON THOSE WISHES. Most often that which you demand, according to your own desires, would lead you directly into the viper's den of chaos and demise. If we pull the cart instead of push it by strings, we shall succeed, for foundations have to be laid soundly before the house can be built.

Let us turn to our subject of Biological Transmutations, please.

We are grateful to Robert James for sharing this work with you readers. We use it for teaching and information because we find the volume containing cellular transmutations no longer is published and this information is apparently no longer reprinted in publication. Again we have to give gratitude and recognition to translators for English was not Kervran's language. It seems the last printing which we can find referenced is in the early 1970s by Swan House Publishing Co. in Brooklyn, N.Y. We could not find such a place but I am confident that if you can do so you will find priceless volumes of information.

Louis Kervran was an active member of the New York Academy of Science but again we have to turn to France for his work to be revealed. It isn't that the theories did not present themselves, it is simply that Kervran is owed the debt of being able to offer explanation in fact of biological transmutation. The information was offered in interest for physicists, chemists, biologists and geologists so you can see what a consideration is offered here for our own understanding.

The information may well NOW seem old—but again, retrospection is the easy way AFTER someone points out something to you. Please remember that things are deliberately HIDDEN from you and certainly the great and honored names at the time of introduction of new revelation do not like their own theories destroyed by the presentation of truth. What happens is that the presenter gets bashed, his work buried and the truth is taken by the adversaries and ultimately used to the advantage of destroyers and lost to the creators.

For you who would wish me to go directly to the "good part" and the lectures, I have this to say: We owe a great honor to Michel Abchsera who has presented this work in English and compiled many of Kervran's presentations into one volume. To allow use of this information we have to either offer ALL so that no context is lost in any instance or fail to give more than an outline. I choose to cause you to sit through ALL.

You are going to find revelation in so many things that you are taking for granted that you will be shocked. For instance, readers, if you need Iron in the body, you will have to take organic manganese. If you need Calcium you have to take organic Silica. The movement of life proceeds from the constant changing of one element into another. This is also called "alchemy".

Right up front here, because so many of you suffer from bone loss and calcium needs, I am ASKING NEW GAIA TO GET AND OFFER SILICA. I do not like to offer information and suggest things be gotten or consumed unless you have resource for products from our own availability. Many of the products you can get at any health store source but some things are available NOWHERE ELSE. Gaiaandria is a product, for instance, birthed here and brought forth by New Gaia. We have had a resource outside our location so that product could be "controlled" and regulated. We are now somewhat changing that flow because we are changing the "diet" of the drias to include colloids of several things in addition. This will offer pre-transmuted minerals which will absorb instantaneously within body cells and will immediately adapt to individual DNA/RNA Programming. We will later integrate the Mitochondria (AquaGaia) but that means changing cholesterol transmutation to prevent or clear out buildup of plaque on blood vessel walls and we need several changes to facilitate an easier transmutation process. When we work with living cells only recently brought back to you after eons of absence, we have to gently bring them up to full-form working capability. We don't need further on this right now but we will be bringing you information within the next couple of weeks about the new product which can simply be integrated with what you have and both will become upgraded. Just remember that when you "feed" drias they eat up everything IN SIGHT and change characteristics of EVERYTHING in their presence—THAT is called transmutation so it is nice to tinker with these precious living cells but often is not too wise, for you find qualities desired for one purpose are negated in the transmutation processing. If you just don't "jump the gun" we will soon be off and running in a race you can better understand. I am simply trying to now offer you explanation about life and why LIGHT is the major ingredient for catalytic action if all other things are present.

Let us, in honoring Michel Abchsera, begin with his "Forward". It will take only a bit of time and lays a language foundation which will enable you to understand the actual work of Kervran.

[QUOTING, Part 1:]

BIOLOGICAL TRANSMUTATIONS by Louis C. Kervran

English translation: Michel Abchsera

FORWARD

This English edition of the works of Louis Kervran is intended for everyone: scholar, layman, or college student. It could have been directed toward a scholar's mind exclusively, presenting itself to him in cold scientific terms, but this would have slowed down progress. If, in Mr. Kervran's words, scientists "have made of science another job", it would not be ethical to present it to them alone. The problems of ecology, medicine and nutrition, and the alarming rise of radioactivity are too acute to be dealt with solely through academic channels. It is within everyone's ability to comprehend the biological transmutations as long as there is a desire for true knowledge. To understand the biological transmutations requires nothing more than to cast aside all rigid thought while studying them. Transmutation is no more and no less than a reality which teaches us about change. In change we find life, and by change we create life. Our only constant is our goal of becoming Man.

The principles of the biological transmutations affect every phase of our existence. They are already being applied without patent or license by industrial, dietetic and pharmaceutical products based on Kervran's research. Transmutations are now recognized in medicine. They have opened the door to new treatments and therapeutics for reputedly "incurable" diseases. There are solutions already projected for curing arteriosclerosis, rheumatism, excessive arterial tensions, decalcification, kidney stones, hormonal deficiencies, etc., in a natural way, without danger to the patient. Agronomists are already practicing Kervran's findings on a large scale. Dietitians are the biggest beneficiaries, because dietetics is too close to man's body and soul to remain an academic and isolated science. In accordance with this law of the change of elements which Louis Kervran uncovered, there is now a movement by hundreds of thousands of people to eat in a natural way.

The U.S.A. is ecologically in bad shape. Only through the understanding and practice of biological transmutations can this alarming problem be solved. The land is not only polluted but is in some parts barren. Heavy chemicals have killed it. No ecological problem can be solved on the surface; it can only be remedied as its name indicates: ecologically. This means that it can be done only through natural law. Ecology starts with man, mind and body. If his body is clean, his environment will be clean, naturally. If our tastes are sensorial, if our measure of happiness and health is comfort, then ecology is relegated to a mere science with man as a hopelessly retarded child who must be dealt with by caresses and long walks for a year or two or three, until the end of his invalid life. Ecology is often synonymous with attractive environment. Cans of beer are removed from beaches; hands are cleaned; everyone returns home satisfied. That is merely a good cleaning job.

What about man? What about his body and mind? If the food being consumed does not change, the problem of ecology will worsen. If scientists do not change their minds about nutrition, man, a biological part of this earth, will soon be extinct. Intestines must be healed, since they are as polluted as our streams. The populace must be educated to choose food that does not come canned, bagged in plastic, or chemically treated. From the need of the consumer, from this need only, can the ecological problems be considered—and solved. From a good earth one regenerates one's health. Our blood is but the product of an agent, the earth. The biological creates the physiological. Has this become a secret, or has man become so mechanical, so enslaved to fast relief in any possible way, that he has become accustomed to the "miracle pill"? His pain is relieved in seconds. This is proof enough for him to believe in the "scientific way". But that is not true science.

In a letter to the author of this English version, Louis Kervran wrote: "I hold the same conception as you do: if one desires to bring about a deep change in science, it is not to the high scientific spheres that he should address himself, but to the masses. Not being narrow-minded like the specialist, they can see the synthesis of things and not just their details. This is how I have been progressing this world during the last ten years. But one should not be so absolute in judgment as to say that all scientists are narrow-minded. I have found great support among known personalities, but they are a minority. They are lost in the crowd and cannot vanquish the obstacles and inertia created by the too many. Science has become a petty job. Fifty years ago there were a few thousand men of science; now it is by the hundreds of thousands that one counts them, so that the average level of quality has greatly diminished."

What Mr. Kervran means is that man has become mechanical in his thinking and doing. The physiological, which is what we "are", and the biological, from which our daily nourishment comes, are but a shadow of what man used to be when he was free. What is freedom if it is not to be free in every way, from our most minute cell to our most expansive dreams? He is free who can afford to let the interactions between cell and spirit take place in the most harmonious way. There is no freedom in intellect. "Freedom" of that sort lasts for the duration of a thought, of an act. To be truly free is to be able to establish peace between all opposites within us. That is at the least the beginning of freedom.

Mr. Kervran, with his discovery of biological transmutation, has given this chaotic and scientific world the Alladin's Lamp by which we can save ourselves and our diseased earth. From mechanical men we will raise ourselves to physiological and spiritual beings. That which is mechanical does not believe in change nor in beauty, nor even in man. The mechanical mind lives within the hour. If it projects an idea for the future, it is but a steel-like construction erected out of stress, a protection from the "invaders". The mechanical man is afraid. He thinks the enemy is outside of him, so he protects himself a bit more every day until he loses the natural immunity he inherited from this just world.

With biological transmutations we are taught a lesson about freedom. We learn that an element is free to become another when it meets its opposite. It travels from one state to another, procreating newborn atoms. It is the hope of Mr. Louis Kervran and this author that biological transmutations will be applied to the fullest extent in the U.S.A. and in the whole world.

In 1799 the French chemist Vauquelin was so intrigued by the quantity of lime excreted every day by hens that he decided to put a hen in a cage and feed it oats exclusively. Having measured the quantity of lime that was present in a pound of oats, he gave the oats to the hen. When the grains had been eaten, he analyzed the quantity of lime excreted through the eggs and fecal matter. The hen was found to have excreted five times more lime than it had taken in the food. Vauquelin concluded that lime had been created, but he could not determine the cause.

In 1822 Prout, an Englishman, was the first to clearly define the problems of the transmutation of elements. He systematically studied the increase of limestone (a compound consisting chiefly of calcium carbonate) inside an incubating chicken egg, proving that limestone is not contributed by the shell.

In 1831 the Frenchman Choubard let watercress seeds germinate in an insoluble dish (sand, glass, etc., washed with acids, rinsed with water, heated). He verified that the young plants contained minerals which had not existed in the seeds.

Others followed. In 1844 Vogel experimented with watercress seeds placed under a large bell jar. Keeping the air "analyzed", he added a nutritive solution containing no sulfur whatsoever. After their germination he analyzed the young plants, finding that they contained more sulfur than the seeds from which they stemmed. This phenomenon remained obscure to Vogel, who concluded that either sulfur is not a simple body or there was an unknown source of sulfur.

A few years later Lauwes and Gilbert considered the weight variations of ashes during vegetation. They observed, in analyzing the ashes, an inexplicable variation in the amount of magnesium. In 1875 von Herzele went a step further by verifying a weight increase in the ashes of young plants stemmed from germinating seeds. He made a culture without soil in a well-studied medium. Later on he carried out experiments related to Vogel's earlier study of weight variations of magnesium, already considered by Lauwes and Gilbert. Von Herzele then concluded that there was a transmutation of elements.

He seems to have been the first to research the origin and destination of an element. His remarkable work remained without echo in the scientific world. In 1950 Hauschka took it out of the dark to publish von Herzele's findings in one of his books.

Branfield, Lakhovsky, Spindler and Freundler, among others, followed. None of them arrived at clear conclusions.

Baranger, chief of the laboratory of organic chemistry at the Ecole Polytechnique in Paris, became acquainted with von Herzele's work. In 1960 he published the first results, handed to him by A. Spindler, of the variations of phosphorus and calcium in germinated seeds. Baranger concluded that a transmutation of elements had occurred, but his research, like that of his predecessors, failed to show the mechanism by which the discrepancy was produced.

It was in 1959 that Louis Kervran started publishing his discoveries. At about that time the coincidental works of the above scientists became known to him. In the summer of that same year, Mr. Kervran came to a conclusion concerning his many years of systematic research. He did his best to prove his conviction to the scientific world, a conviction that none before him had been able to put down in clear formulas. Having waited for years, witnessing thousands of convergent analyses, he succeeded in demonstrating that not only molecules but atoms themselves can be transformed. He verified that there is transmutation of matter from one simple body to another, from one atom to another.

All the proof was presented, yet Kervran encountered violent opposition from skeptical people who were reluctant to accept something new. On the other hand, warmest congratulations and encouragement poured in from very great personalities of science, who now saw light in what had always been obscure to them. Already in 1959 Kervran had found solid help among those having true scientific spirit.

In July 1960 a French scientific review published an article on Louis Kervran. That was enough for the public to know what many scholars had refused to see. Magazines, radio and television gave millions the chance to be informed about the "transmutations". It was not until 1962 that Biological Transmutations was published by Librairie Maloine. In a matter of a few months, the first edition was sold out and reprinted. A third one was to follow two years later. Successively came Transmutations Naturelles, Transmutations a' Faible Energie, Preuves Relatives a' l'Existence en Agronomie.

In the preface of Transmutations Naturelles Jean Lombard, a geologist of worldwide reputation, wrote these words: "The true workers of science, who are always ready to welcome new suggestions, sometimes ask themselves if the greatest obstacle to the progress of science is not bad memory on the part of the scholars; they wish to remind the latter that some of their predecessors were burnt because they proposed 'interpretations' which have now become foremost truths. If pioneers of science were still being burnt, I would not give much for Louis Kervran's skin."

In January 1963 a group of scientists listened to Louis Kervran. After that meeting a report was written by Fishoff, saying: "We are convinced that there is here a series of observations and phenomena of the highest importance for the progress of our knowledge in physics, biology, geology, cosmology, etc. The great merit of Louis Kervran is to have felt strongly that there was something strange in the facts he brings to us and that there was a need for something 'new' to explain it. He obstinately followed an idea and patiently, for many long years, accumulated facts, observations, and results—having no apparent link—at last assembling all these converging facts and ideas to form a daring hypothesis, solid and thrilling. Daring, for it appears to be opposed to the classical conception of nuclear physics and biology. Solid, for the invoked and observed facts are very many, sustained by an infallible reasoning argument. Thrilling, for it opens new perspectives and horizons in biology, medicine, energetics, physics, cosmogony, etc."

Twelve years have passed since Biological Transmutations became public. The debate of the times continues. France is now divided into two camps, those for Kervran and those against him. English scientists have invited Louis Kervran to give a series of lectures and demonstrations. Scientists from Switzerland, Italy and Belgium have already heard him and are starting to put transmutations into practice. Russia contacted Kervran. All books about transmutations have been translated into Russian, but not yet on a commercial scale. They can be consulted now in the Moscow Library. Russian scientists are now organizing a congress exclusively dedicated to transmutations, to be held in 1973. The Chinese Embassy officially and insistently invited Kervran many times to go to Peking for three months to give Chinese scholars a chance to learn about his work. Nine years ago the Dow Chemical Company invited Kervran to come to the U.S.A. Mr. Kervran, however, could not honor the invitation at that time.

After I had finished the present book and had written the major part of this Foreword, I went to see Mr. Louis Kervran in Europe to make corrections. What I had done was to put all his books into one. It was not an easy task. Choosing the most essential parts was the first difficulty, for everything seemed essential. Another difficulty kept arising at almost every sentence. Kervran's statements were directed at French scientists, who do not ask for as much precision as their American colleagues do. My problem, then, was to well enough to decipher Kervran's texts. I reasoned and convinced myself thus: this is a new way of looking at science; it is up to the reader—whoever he may be, scientist or layman—to go ahead and grow with it. My role will be limited to that of a catalyst. [H: Glory be that he would not tamper to his own pre-determined opinions and ruin another goodly work. In so many cases the original receiver and offerer of information is correct but those who come along afterwards manage to destroy the value and validity of the original product. This can either be by total misperception or deliberate tampering or through a desire to actually remove the information from public understanding and availability. Most often this is accomplished through the "religious" aspect of focus in some manner or another.]

This I may have done well, but I humbly declare myself incapable of doing what really ought to have been done. Being busy with studying and teaching, I could afford to spend only six months on the book (twelve hours daily). Truly it needed another six months. In short, this book needed a man richer than I in all respects, one who would have spent a year or two at his desk thinking and working only on the transmutations.

This book is not a textbook or something to use in the laboratory. Its sole purpose is to stir the minds of those who are still truly concerned about this earth ecologically. I would never finish if I were to cite all the possible applications of the biological transmutations. Of special importance is the place they will occupy between the scientist and the metaphysician. So far there has never been a direct dialogue between the two, because of the differences in language. Now I believe their meeting is possible, for the biological transmutations teach us about the movement of life. From this movement the scientist will see that science can no longer limit itself to the study of the physical alone, for movement also implies elevation toward the metaphysical, not entropy. From this same movement, animating the invisible elements, the metaphysician will learn that life is worth studying in its most singular aspects. He will discover in the minute that which he always knew, that life is a continual renewal of self and cell.

I would like to end this foreword by presenting, in a few words, Mr. Kervran. I had expected to meet a scientist with whom I would discuss—as men usually do when they meet—philosophy. But things did not happen as I anticipated, for he showed himself such a dragon in science that nothing but science was discussed. Mr. Kervran knew his subject well; he seemed to have read all the scientific books and articles published all over the world, to know the work of every living scientist. And when I told him that he had given to science a new direction and hope, he answered, his face growing red, "I simply pointed out what has always existed."

The chapters of this book have been placed in the best possible order for the reader who is unfamiliar with the biological transmutations to become acquainted with them.

The reader will perhaps meet some difficulties which I myself met upon first reading Mr. Kervran's books. For this reason I advise him to read this book more than once, or, if he wishes, to go directly to the remain loyal to the text while rendering it in a manner suited to the American scientific mentality. In other words, what was required was a first-class writer who reasoned as well as he wrote, who was thoroughly familiar with English and French, chemistry, biology, nuclear physics, etc., and who was flexible enough to trust the concept of transmutation as a "new science".

If I ever chose myself to do the present work it was not because I am that kind of a writer, but simply because I could not find anyone even half-qualified to do it. There are not many scientists who know French

May this book be the instrument of a new era in which men of good will and understanding bring justice and peace on earth.

[END OF QUOTING]

As you go through this work you, if you are a generalist at all, will find yourself being most creative. You will find that in the assumption that one thing remains that original thing—you err. Therefore, realize that the most precious gifts to life are those things which most readily transmute for usability of body cell structures. Just as a body will evolve to be able to utilize that which abounds in its environment, so too, will things of mineral-vitamin content be transmuted to produce the things necessary for abundant and full-life cellular cycling. Just as the mustard seed may well present a weed which invades crops and can be used in tiny amounts to flavor sandwich spreads—it has great and wondrous uses if presented to the body for use in its original form. The results are not mustard plants—but a wondrous transmutation into vascular dialators of controlled measure which will simply commit to body needs. It also cleans vessels as it works in the dilation process as it transmutes itself in the presence of lecithin. This is just a for-example. Clear those vessels to the brain and ability to “think” becomes increased in less than 24 hours.

So be it, brethren, “A bird in the hand is worth a hundred in the bush”—and sometimes weed-seed can be the cure for mankind’s ills. Salu.

“One perceives the fundamental essence of life in the living, not in the inanimate, in that which is changing, not in what is finished.” Goethe

[QUOTING, PART 2:]

INTRODUCTION

It is premature to reduce the vital process to the quite insufficiently developed conceptions of 19th and even 20th century physics and chemistry. L. de Broglie.

Lavoisier was a great scholar of the 18th century. He is considered the father of modern chemistry. The general principle with which he worked and from which he derived his new science is that nothing is lost, nothing is created, everything is transformed. The atom being considered the smallest particle of matter and a constant in nature, it was assumed that no element could be created. The atom could not disappear. If it should separate from a molecule of two or more atoms, it could be found unchanged in another molecule.

This principle could in no way be refuted or even debated. It was the basis of the official science of the 19th century. Those who studied it gave it a general extension and applied it to every science close in spirit and form to chemistry. There were enough experiments to support it. It was not until the 20th century that this principle, left undiscussed for more than one hundred years, saw its first officially recognized contradiction. This was the discovery of natural radioactivity, showing that some bodies can be transmuted into different bodies, a principle for which the alchemists of the Middle Ages were so exaggeratedly ridiculed in the 18th and 19th centuries. An atom of radium was finally transformed into a non-radioactive and stable atom of lead, as one can read in books concerning the discovery of radium by Marie Curie.

“Specialists in biochemistry fail to tell us why a chemically pure reaction, such as the one in which an atom of nitrogen and an atom of oxygen are combined, can be realized only in vitro at the electric arc temperature (or at a very high temperature and pressure). Living organisms do the same at room temperature! Many similar cases can be cited showing that the living organism is capable of reactions which can be reproduced in the laboratory only by a great deal of energy. Proteins are hydrolyzed in the stomach at 37°C in a slightly acid medium, but this same reaction requires a 120°C temperature and a highly concentrated acid medium to be realized in vitro.”

In chemistry the label “element” is given to what in common language is termed a “body”. “Element” is the actual scientific term, which is why we label oxygen, sulfur, calcium, copper, etc., elements. Atoms have a number of protons (heavy particles charged with positive electricity, constituting, along with the neutrons, the atom’s nucleus) equal to the number of electrons (light [-weight] particles charged with negative electricity, moving in orbits around the nucleus). An atom is electrically neutral because it has an equal number of electrons and protons.

Elements were long ago called “simple bodies” because they represent the simplest possible unit of matter. They had existed since the creation of our planet, and could be neither created nor broken down by man. They could only be “moved” from one molecule (or composed body) to another. It is on these simple bodies that Lavoisier’s law is based.

It was established that there are 92 elements in nature, this being deduced and assembled from analogous cases concerning properties of matter by Mendeleev who, in the middle of the 19th century, classified the known elements in a table. The table was charted with empty boxes which were to be filled with new elements corresponding to the characteristics foreseen in a specific box.

Some boxes remained empty, not only because some elements were yet to be isolated, but also because some of the elements no longer existed on earth, being radioactive elements which had long ago been transmuted into other elements. This theory remained precarious until the 20th century when it became possible to produce these lost elements artificially, with nuclear physics. These elements might never have existed in natural form, but may be created under artificial conditions in a laboratory. This breach with Lavoisier’s law, however, concerned only radioactive bodies studied in nuclear physics. In chemistry the teaching continued as before that nothing is lost, that it is impossible to create something by chemical reaction. This is conceded in “chemistry”.

CHEMISTRY AND ITS LIMITS

The serious error of scientists consists in their saying that reactions occurring in living matter are solely chemical reactions, that chemistry can and must explain life. That is why in science we find such terms as “Biochemistry”. It is certain that a great number of manifestations of life are produced by chemical reactions. But the belief that there is only chemical reactions and that every observation must be explained in terms of a chemical reaction, is false. One of the purposes of this book is to show that matter has a property heretofore unseen, a property which is neither chemistry nor nuclear physics in its present state. In other words, the laws of chemistry are not on trial here. The error of numerous chemists and biochemists lies in their desire to apply the laws of chemistry at any cost, with unverified assertions, in a field where chemistry is not always applicable. In the final phase the result might be “chemistry”, but only as a consequence of the unperceived phenomenon of transmutation.

This severe error has led the scientific world to believe that one should find at the other end of an organism exactly what was originally given it. In other words, scientists expect to obtain a null balance sheet, counting that which has been retained by the organism or that which the organism has used up from its reserve. But balance sheets are never null. Today’s scientists avoid the problem by saying that something escaped them during the experiment—unfortunately, a confession of incompetence.

Specialists in biochemistry fail to tell us why a chemically pure reaction, such as the one in which an atom of nitrogen and an atom of oxygen are combined, can be realized only in vitro at the electric arc temperature (or at a very high temperature and pressure). Living organisms do the same at room temperature! Many similar cases can be cited showing that the living organism is capable of reactions which can be reproduced in the laboratory only by a great deal of energy. Proteins are hydrolyzed in the stomach at 37°C in a slightly acid medium, but this same reaction requires a 120°C temperature and a highly concentrated acid medium to be realized in vitro.

Enzymes, which are a kind of biological catalyst, are no doubt responsible for making this in vivo reaction possible at low temperature. But the exact mechanism is not known; (it differs, however, from the catalysis with which we are familiar in chemistry).

Again, Lavoisier’s law is not being rejected here, nor is any law of chemistry. What is rejected is the attitude of too many chemists who apply chemistry in every domain. This phenomenon studied in the next pages is not chemistry. Einstein wrote, “The essential is to get rid of deeply rooted prejudices, which we often repeat without examining them.” [H: I guess this is about the only thing Einstein ever wrote with which I absolutely and whole-heartedly AGREE.]

The aim of this book is not to give a very detailed explanation of the mechanisms of biological transmutation, but only to show that they exist and, better, that they are being applied. They will be explained, perhaps, in the future at a time when science is ready.

We are probably on the eve of a great change in physics. Too many physicists have thoroughly committed themselves to paths which but lead to quicksand. But we are departing from our subject. My intention was only to remind the reader that great men of science, such as Einstein, de Broglie, etc., are teaching us to remain modest, to recognize that our knowledge is far from absolute, that teachings are not always true, and that there are transient hypotheses, even in physics which is labeled an “exact science”. This is even more true in biology, where the complexity is enormous and where we must be most cautious in our explanations. We observe results, but to describe the detailed mechanism leading to these results is always more or less subjective. It is hoped that this book may be objective so that it might assure the reader of the existence of a phenomenon other than chemistry—a deeper kind of phenomenon, not a mere exchange of electrons in the peripheral shell of the atom.

The limitations of chemistry can be revealed by a few typical examples in which researchers have failed to give any substantial explanation of certain phenomena. Other examples will demonstrate that there is a biological transmutation of elements. If the reader finds his faith in Lavoisier's law somewhat shaken, he will be further surprised to find that many other explanations given him in the past are unfounded or tenuous, existing only to satisfy the dogma of "the invariability of elements".

For example, it is said that when a plant is enriched in an element different from those it previously contained, it has "obviously" taken that element from the soil or from the jar in which the experiment was conducted. Terms such as these are used: "Concentrated", "preferentially fixed", etc.; and the question is dismissed. Those who employ such terms have never measured the total content of the element in question—neither in the experimental jar nor in the soil—before and after cultivation. The latter should have been done if only to determine whether what was added to the plant was still in the jar. There is much talk about a possible source "by migration", but coming from where? And why? By what process—through impermeable soil? [H: I do not want to change subject in mid-cycle but I would consider "impermeable" as to not be absolute as the term would imply. You cannot contain [or block] such as cosmic waves, or for that matter, any type of high frequency sound or light waves. However, as in a growing medium with fertilizers, etc., for soil and plant growth medium you do need, in Gaianria for instance, the PARTICULATE of these elements which give whole life to the Dria cells. It is elevation in frequency that we try to achieve for the "healing" characteristics in repelling damaging microbes of one sort or another—BUT THE WHOLE LIFE CELL MUST HAVE THE ELEMENTAL PARTICULATE TO REACH FULL MATURITY WHICH IS THEN CATALYZED BY COSMIC ENERGY WAVES. THE FREQUENCY IS SIMPLY NOT ENOUGH WHEN THE SUBSTANCE IS FOR INTRODUCTION INTO THE BODY FOR IMMUNE SYSTEM PERFECTING. There is no concern "here" but as we get further along and more tampering and tinkering is going to be taking place by those who THINK they have DRIAS, there will be incomplete substance making its way to you-the-public. PARTICULATE of the elements MUST BE PRESENT TO PERFECT ABILITY OF TRANSMUTATION IN THE GAIANDRIANA GROWING AND CONVERSION MEDIUM.]

Thus we must change our way of thinking entirely and be more cautious about what teachings we accept. Let us cite F. Dagognet who, in Atoms, revolts against the simplistic teachings of many of his colleagues. To use just one of his examples, he writes about respiration: "The CO₂ is exhaled before the oxygen enters; more exactly, the formation of the pyruvic acid or the 'acetyl-coenzyme A' takes place without its help, or at least without its direct influence. We are miles away from Lavoisier and the first biochemists who believed that respiration is combustion."

Brillouin, a great physicist, readily admitted that not all laws of physio-chemistry deduced from experiments performed on dead matter are necessarily true with regard to living matter. He cites the case of one of the laws of thermodynamics, that of the degradation of matter. It is the force opposite that of entropy ("negative entropy") which maintains life. Explanations given by physicists—where they try to show that this law of Carnot is an absolute law, always true, applicable to the "living"—are of baffling naiveté. They do not dispute the fact, proven by experiments, that energy is provided by the living, but they declare that the living being receives that energy from its environment. Why then bring out the 2nd law of Carnot-Clausius, which has value only in a closed medium with no exchange whatsoever with the outside? This has nothing to do with entropy, positive or "negative". These are empty words. J. Rueff declared that Clausius, by setting forth his principle, "committed an audacious, if not hazardous, generalization, for it has value only in isolated systems formed of elements

"The greatest men of science now recognize that neither the chemistry nor the physics of inert matter is integrally applicable to living matter. Szent-Gyorgyi, who was awarded the Nobel Prize, expressed this point quite well in his disagreement with the physicists of yesteryear: 'This makes the relationship between the physicist and the biologist rather delicate... If I had always accepted the physicist's verdict, I would have abandoned this way of research. I am glad that I did not do it.' He arrived at the conclusion that molecular biochemistry is not enough to make us understand what happens in living matter, that one should take a step down in the structure and study the atom, because it is at the sub-atomic level that the unknown is being produced. Otherwise 'physics is the science of probabilities... biology the science of the improbable.' (Szent-Gyorgyi, Introduction to a Submolecular Biology, Acad, Press [London, 1960.])"

independent of one another."

It is not difficult to see that life itself is in complete opposition with the law of entropy. Why? What is the secret? It is not known. What we can see, nonetheless, is that there are inexplicable phenomena which it is our role to decipher, be it with chemistry, physics, or biological transmutations.

PHYSICS

All laws of classical physics have been deduced from experiments made on dead matter. The principle of divergence—of elastic waves, acoustic, luminous, or material: all the physical waves of the inert—is not applicable to biology. Physicists such as Watan, Adams, MacLennan, Penrose, and Percival have shown the link between a progressing entropy (a degradation of energy or, more exactly, an increasing degree of molecular disorder) and the retardation of the waves. With Costa de Beauregard we can speak of a unity in physics, whose laws about dead and living matter would be as front and back, inseparable and complementary. We recognize here the concept central to Far Eastern philosophy, that of Yin and Yang, a unique principle with two faces.

Physicists were not surprised at the news: the biological transmutations made sense to them. In a way, they had been waiting for them. It was in the order of things. That is why the physicists were the first to give their support. To reject the biological transmutations a priori in the name of nuclear physics—a science based on observations of dead matter—is to evince an ignorance of this duality (yin and yang) which exists in all aspects of physics.

The greatest men of science now recognize that neither the chemistry nor the physics of inert matter is integrally applicable to living matter. Szent-Gyorgyi, who was awarded the Nobel Prize, expressed this point quite well in his disagreement with the physicists of yesteryear: "This makes the relationship between the physicist and the biologist rather delicate... If I had always accepted the physicist's verdict, I would have abandoned this way of research. I am glad that I did not do it." He arrived at the conclusion that molecular biochemistry is not enough to make us understand what happens in living matter, that one should take a step down in the structure and study the atom, because it is at the sub-atomic level that the unknown is being produced. Otherwise "physics is the science of probabilities... biology the science of the improbable." (Szent-Gyorgyi, Introduction to a Submolecular Biology, Acad, Press [London, 1960.]) The improbable surely happens, because quantum mechanics proceeds only on the basis of statistics. But in biology things are different. An electron makes a sure jump and one only; it never misses the target. (This explains the small amount of energy necessary.) Why? This fact brought Szent-Gyorgyi to write: "Even quantum mechanics should be improved in order to be applicable in the analysis of most problems in biology." We are hanging in the air!

Let us recognize, however, that Szent-Gyorgyi and the others who follow the same path have but glided over the atom. They saw only what happens in the outer layer. They then remained in the field of physio-chemistry as it is now conceived—that is to say, the physical study of the movements of electrons in the peripheral layers. (The electrons, becoming "excited", jump to place themselves in levels other than those of their normal orbit.)

It will be widely demonstrated that there are other biological phenomena unexplainable by the movements of the electrons—that is, by chemistry or physico-chemistry—because of a frequent incompatibility between biology and these sciences.

L. de Broglie recognizes this incompatibility in Matter and Light. [H: Readers, you who can't wait for our dissertation on the subject of Light relative to "matter" which we presented in the now-banned series of volumes—you may wish to seek out this man's work. It is excellent and completely covers more understandable aspects of the "science" and spiritual realms of LIGHT secrets. Otherwise just stay with us a bit longer and we will help you make sense of the relationship and with that of "soul" energy.] He wonders if "the new conceptions of physics would help us understand why the classical methods of objective science have difficulty in adapting themselves to the vital order." Modern physics, as it was developed in the second half of the 20th century, has its roots in quantum mechanics. It took shape with Bohr and Planck and found precision with L. de Broglie in the beginning of this century, blossoming in 1960 with Gabor and Brillouin. Then came Jorden, Augier, Davilliers, etc., who touched on the different observations which had led them to believe that the microscopic physics of the inert is not always valid in living matter, where the parts are interdependent. These parts are all coordinated and have obvious interaction; otherwise there is no life. All this brings us far from Einstein, Heisenberg, Schrodinger, and Dirac. [H: And here you find the greatest few giants of misinformation toward building of a misinformed society in order to relate to and gain a New World Order. The only ones who would be left to know truth would be the ones with the ulterior motivation of the Zionist Khazarian rulership of your globe. Such obvious truth-bringers would be burned out and the work disallowed publicity and such daring ones who would come forth would be ridiculed and stripped of their "Rockefeller" credentials toward a healthy and strong civilization. You, through these methods, became totally an unadulterated PEOPLE OF THE LIE. There is no way that Einstein's theory of relativity can be correct—no way—and worse, he knew it. He was busy, if you recall, helping to build atomic BOMBS.] It is now widely admitted that a molecular reaction in living matter is controlled by a modification of the position of the electrons in their orbit (thus by their energy); that it is at the subatomic level that the chemical reaction is first prepared. But one must probe even more deeply in the study of the atom, not only because it is unknown why and how these electrons "get started", but because other phenomena intervene in the heart of the atom.

Today physicists are obliged to recognize that at the subatomic level laws such as the conservation of mass or energy are not always observed, even in the physics of the inert. Bohr long ago recognized that we cannot say a priori that the law of conservation is valid at the level of the atom. J. Debiesse, director of the Centre d'Etudes Nucléaires of Saclay, remarked that the emission of π -mesons occurs with the sudden increase of the system's mass and energy. (Thus the energy does not increase due to a loss of mass; there is also an increase of mass.) Debiesse writes, "It remains to be seen whether at the speed of exchange 10^{-23} seconds the law of conversion of mass and the law of energy are still valid." Such things brought R. Furon to say, "The rapid advance of our scientific knowledge excludes any orthodoxy and conformism." (In the magazine Revue Générale des Sciences, Paris).

Let us accept these lessons of modesty from our most eminent scholars. We shall then be ready, with no preconceived purpose, to become acquainted with the following study. Einstein's law of $E = Mc^2$ will not, then, be accepted as absolute in advance. Even Einstein himself indicated the limits of this law of "special relativity", special because it is applicable ONLY to non-accelerated and non-circulatory movements. (Einstein's first postulate admits that his law is valid only in a uniform and rectilinear movement.) Another restriction, pointed out by Einstein, is that this law is valid only if one accepts as the second postulate a constant velocity "c" for light. He then declares that that same postulate is cancelled out by his law of General Relativity; otherwise it would be impossible to explain the curvature of light under an intense gravitational effect. (A constant speed is represented by a straight line. If positive energy is given to the mobile, the line curves in upward. A negative energy X reduces the speed, causing the line to curve in downward. The acceleration by gravitation curves the light. Its speed is no longer constant.) Let us take the example of the luminous ray coming from a star skimming over the sun's edge. The star is visible sooner than would be possible if the calculation were made when light comes in a straight line. (This phenomenon has been observed during solar eclipses.) It was thought that it might be the result of diffraction occurring when light goes through the chromosphere of the sun (or perhaps only through its "crown"), in other words, when the ray goes through an area more dense than the "vacuum" of space. This occurrence implies a variation of the speed of light, which diminishes or increases in proportion to the density of the media passed through. This curvature would then allow us to calculate the refractive index of the solar chromosphere.

I could continue to point out "weaknesses" in the presently practiced science of physics. However, it would take many pages simply to discuss the fact that not all energies brought into play in biology are of the same nature of those of gravitation.

There is not the least doubt that Lavoisier was perfectly correct in his field. We understand why. Chemistry is the science of the combination of atoms; it studies in a specific way the variations in the links between the peripheral electrons of the atoms, which gather into molecules.

[H: But how could we KNOW that Einstein's laws were not actually "laws"? He said they were not. Now how can you know that Einstein was a controlled man and a servant to his controllers? Well, for one thing, a scientist of his supposed caliber would not be attracted to the usual sexual "stings" of blackmail or bribery. This "scientist" was so mortal, my friends, that he actually had an affair with a known mind-controlled "MON-ARCH" with a stage name of Marilyn Monroe. So, "which" Einstein? The one that sold you out for a bill of goods in a sexpot's butterfly. Einstein was, just as his cohorts were, a presentation of the Evil Empire.]

THE SYMBOLS IN NUCLEAR PHYSICS

The chemical symbol for the atom is not always sufficient when we are dealing with the atom's nucleus. It is often necessary to indicate the total number of particles (i.e., protons and neutrons, which are both nucleons or particles of the nucleus). This is because the natural elements are made of different atom combinations: all the atoms of the same element have an identical number of protons and electrons, since a normal atom is electrically neutral, but it was discovered that the number of neutrons in a nucleus can be different. A neutron owes its name to its being neutral. It has almost the same mass as a proton.

Atoms having the same number of protons but a different number of neutrons are called "isotopes". They are written thus: ^{24}Mg , ^{25}Mg , ^{26}Mg [these being stable (non-radioactive) isotopes of magnesium], which means that in those nuclei there are 24, 25, or 26 nucleons. Since all have 12 protons, the number of neutrons can easily be found by subtraction. Likewise, we have ^{10}B , ^{11}B for boron, ^{12}C and ^{13}C for carbon, ^{28}Si , ^{29}Si , ^{30}Si , for silicon, etc.

Notations of this kind can often be found: ^{16}O , ^{17}O , ^{18}O , for example, which are the three stable isotopes of oxygen. The small index 8 means that there are $16-8=8$ neutrons in the isotope 16, $17-8=9$ neutrons in the isotope 17, and $18-8=10$ neutrons in the isotope 18.

The phenomenon of biological transmutation applies to the nuclei of the atoms, but the most important and abundant of these transmutations are found to occur mostly with the first 20 elements and to a lesser extent with the next 10 (from a total of 92 elements). [H: Actually we know from our writings on "Secrets of Light" that there are far more elements than this.] The elements are put in order according to the number of their protons (and electrons). Thus hydrogen (H) comes first; it has only one proton and one electron. Then comes helium (He) which has 2 protons; lithium (Li), 3, etc. [H: Now, here is where it gets very important to know that THERE ARE MORE THAN THE LISTED 92.]

Simplified notations have been chosen so that everyone can understand. Our aim is not to pursue theoretical explanations but to observe facts which cannot be understood in terms of chemical reaction. It is in explaining these that comparisons with chemistry might sometimes prove useful. Reality is too complex to be always accessible by our present scientific knowledge. We do not know, for example, why, during electrolysis (with no system of evaporation in effect), hydrogen and oxygen appear on the electrodes in gaseous form, although in water they do not exist in this form.

No one knows much about what goes on in a catalysis, nor even what happens in a chemical reaction (ignoring, for example, the instantaneous energies). No one knows how the releasing process from wake to sleep comes about, how aspirin works, etc. This is why theories will be avoided here. Only results will be shown, together with phenomena observed in the past and kept in the dark.

Many answers will be given in the following chapters. Systematic experiments which have been made to verify the conclusions of the past ten years will be cited. All precautions will be summarily indicated in order to avoid assuming the position of an analyst of mineral chemistry.

It may be that some chemists and atomic physicists will be hurt. Biological transmutation is a new science which has not yet found its own language, hence there is no way to make ourselves understood except to use the "old" symbols familiar to us all.

In such a study as the present work, it is rather difficult to avoid approaching the many separate fields of science. May the specialists of every particular branch excuse such presumption. Sometimes the exact and desired term is not used, either because the branch under consideration is insufficiently familiar or because hermetic terms would have rendered the text inaccessible to a larger public. This applies even to the specialists themselves, because the vast synthesis projected here places the essential part of this work outside any single discipline. It is hoped above all that no aspect of this exposé has been distorted for the sake of simplification.

SYMBOLS FOR THIS BOOK

We have proposed the symbol \rightleftharpoons to distinguish it from the symbol $=$ which is good in mathematics or chemistry, indicating two valences, and to distinguish it also from the symbol \rightleftharpoons used in chemical reactions, which means that the reaction is reversible. If we want to indicate the only direction the reaction takes, we write (in chemistry): $2\text{Na} + \text{O} \rightarrow \text{Na}_2\text{O}$.

With this type of reaction occurring in biological transmutations, in order to make clear that no chemistry is involved and thereby avoid confusion, we note $\text{Na} + \text{O} \rightleftharpoons \text{K}$. This indicates a reaction from left to right. There is no reversibility as is found in chemistry where one may end up with an equilibrium between the atoms on the left (the constituents) and the composed molecule on the right. In our reactions when we indicate \rightleftharpoons we mean that the reaction is reversible but not with the same agents. Different enzymes are required; some can be made only by animals and some by plants.

"This place is all right. Two more weeks, and I'll be a molecular biochemist."

The reactions can be subtractions; the potassium nitrate in saltpeter—which is found in the lime on walls—comes from calcium when bacteria cause a subtraction of hydrogen in the middle of the calcium atom. Calcium - hydrogen = potassium, or $^{40}\text{Ca} - ^1\text{H} = ^{39}\text{K}$.

It can be seen that potassium has two origins: sodium plus oxygen, and calcium minus hydrogen. A law now emerges from these biological transmutations: reactions at the nuclear level of the atom always involve hydrogen and oxygen. In biology, there are not only chemical reactions with oxygen (oxidation) or hydrogen (reduction). There exists a phenomenon deeper than the mere "hookings" of the peripheric electrons.

It might be useful to know that very often, to simplify our writing, we write only the number of nucleons (above and at the left of the symbol); we do this because we take for granted that the reader knows how many protons there are—see Mendeleev's periodic table—and the number of protons is sufficient to identify the element. Thus if, for example, the symbol Na is given, one knows it is sodium; it would be repetitive to add the number of protons to again indicate that it is sodium.

For practical reasons, however, one may record the proton number also. If one has $^{23}_{11}\text{Na} + ^8_6\text{O} := ^{39}_{19}\text{K}$, he adds the protons (written below and on the left) and automatically gets the atomic number of potassium.

The same method would be used for other elements.

The complete writing is $^{23}_{11}\text{Na} = ^{16}_8\text{O} := ^{39}_{19}\text{K}$, the numbers on the left giving the numbers on the far right. It is important to note that in this type of notation the number above and on the left is not the atomic mass, but the number of nucleons.

[QUOTING, PART 3:]

CHAPTER I ABERRANT OBSERVATIONS:

ON CHICKENS

[H: Word meaning: "Aberrant": deviation or distortion.]

My parents had a few chickens which they kept in a chicken coop adjoining a yard. We lived in Brittany, France, where my father worked as a government official. The area was full of slate rock and granite, but absolutely devoid of limestone. Limestone was never given to the chickens, yet every day during the egg-laying season they laid eggs with calcareous shells. At that time I had not yet asked myself from where that limestone came, but I was intrigued to observe that when the chickens were let loose in the yard, they scratched about incessantly for fragments of mica strewn on the ground. (Mica is one of the components of granite, along with quartz and feldspar; all are components of silica. This is all I knew then when I was in elementary school.) I noticed this neat choice that had been made by the chickens, when the sun shined after a rain: well washed off, these hundreds of visible fragments looked like tiny mirrors. The imprints of the chickens' beaks were easy to follow.

No one could explain to me why chickens scratched mica and not sand. Whenever a chicken was killed I observed my mother opening the gizzard and finding small grains of sand, but never mica. Where did this mica go? Into the stomach? Why was this mineral swallowed by the chicken? This problem intrigued me and remained in my subconscious like anything mysterious, because I rather liked to have "solid and logical" explanations... the whys of all children.

ON INCANDESCENT STOVES

In the elementary school classroom in the borough where I lived, we were heated by a rudimentary stove made of cast iron. There was a key on the pipe to regulate the draft—or we could push or pull the ashtray. Old oak was mainly used. When the wood caught fire, the stove very quickly began to "snore" and became red. Then everyone complained of headaches. That is why an "officer in charge" was appointed to turn off the key or push the ashtray when the stove started growing red.

The headaches, the teacher told us, came from the carbon monoxide emitted by the stove at the red-hot point. At school, however, the belief was that slow combustion gives off carbon monoxide (CO), while fast combustion produces carbon dioxide (CO₂), which is less dangerous. We were advised against sleeping in a room having a stove with a slow draft.

I couldn't make up my mind. If the stove becomes red, it is precisely because it has a good draft system, a very good one, and there should be no formation of carbon monoxide. All the explanations given to the questions I later asked my teachers were so little convincing that this mystery also stayed in my subconscious. [H: Can you now see the impact of misinformed teachers? A child is required to believe whatever his teachers, through force, teach. If the lessons be incorrect the child is destined to probably be forever ignorant of truth in just about everything for one lie builds upon another, one ignorant thought upon another until there remains no truth and a bunch of ignorant people trying to make reality of the farce.]

The scientific answer is this: red-hot cast iron becomes porous and allows the CO within the stove to seep out instead of leaving by way of the smoke pipe. If I objected that there could not then be carbon monoxide from a fast, complete combustion, the reply was that CO₂ went through the red-hot cast iron, became rich in carbon, and then became carbon monoxide. This meant that the cast iron would eventually lose its carbon! I have never seen a few hundred grams of coal (approximately 40 grams per kilo of cast iron) disappear from a cast iron stove to produce a stove of steel! These hundreds of grams of carbon would have burned quickly! Even if cast iron is porous when incandescent, I do not believe carbon monoxide is produced in the contact of

CO₂. Thus, to make things worse, we are considering unreal conditions, since if the stove draws well it is because there is depression. This means that if the cast iron is porous, there won't be any gas seeping out. On the contrary, there will be an "air call" through the porous wall!

But what really happened? Undeniably a red-hot stove in a closed room brings about intoxication, sometimes deadly, from carbon monoxide.

The explanation of all this came to me indirectly when I was fifty years old, although when I was still a child the problem had already repeatedly presented itself. I had to wait until 1955 for a convergence of mortal accidents to make me doubt the theory of the "invariance of matter". Notwithstanding the current respect for official prescriptions, there were nonetheless many people who had met death by carbon monoxide intoxication, although it was attested to by many analyses that the victims could not have inhaled carbon monoxide. I crossed the Rubicon, and with coworkers (eleven were engineers from the finest schools of France) undertook a long series of experiments. We secured the help of official laboratories along with the cooperation—for blood analysis—of many M.D.s. I abandoned my postulate concerning the invariance of matter in order to confirm or nullify my hypothesis about the real cause of death, intending to concentrate only on results, whatever they might be.

In the meantime, in the spring of 1959 I was led to conclusions which revealed the explanation. Balance sheets had been established on teams of workers. The Minister of the Sahara himself, Jacques Soustelle, an ethnologist, had given me the opportunity to make a close study near petroleum wells. In spite of the prevalent classicism, I decided in the summer to publish these aberrant balance sheets, established from chemical and physical points of view, but resulting from research I had made with the cooperation of the most eminent specialists of organic chemistry, together with professors of medicine who believed that I was on solid ground.

As a high official of the French government, I had the unique privilege of using any official laboratory. I could thus have the collaboration of the most eminent specialized chiefs of laboratories, professors of universities, etc. (for it is impossible nowadays to ask the same laboratory to make different experiments). This privilege proved very useful to me. Without such a synthesis of disciplines my task would have been impossible. No isolated specialist could have succeeded.

ON WELDERS

In 1935 I made an observation which left me perplexed. A blowtorch welder was mortally intoxicated by carbon monoxide. My job was to investigate the conditions surrounding the accident in order to determine the causes and eventually prevent them. Nothing enabled me to discover the source of this carbon monoxide.

Many times after that such accidents occurred, and on no occasion could I find the link which would lead me to the origin of the inhaled carbon monoxide. These facts remained in my subconscious until 1955. It was not until that year that I saw the light.

That same year in the space of a few months, three oxyacetylene welders died. I received all the detailed reports, including autopsies. All evidence indicated that the welders, who were all steel cutters, had died from oxycarbonaemia and not from nitrogen oxides.

Analysis showed that the inhaled air had too small a percentage of carbon monoxide to be dangerous. It was then decided, with the assistance of M.D.s working for the companies, to make blood analyses on all the victims' comrades, although they looked in rather good health. We found that those doing the same work were deeply affected with chronic oxycarbonaemia, some to a level approaching that of fatal accident.

I put together all I had and imputed the fault to working conditions, although analysis of the air inhaled by the workers proved that there was no source of carbon monoxide anywhere. Investigations were made in different places. The impregnation with oxycarbonaemia was general. After four years of research, using the most delicate of methods, I could conclude:

- (1) that the strong blow-torches with which the workers cut metal do not liberate carbon monoxide, but do bring a large surface of ferrous metal to incandescence.
- (2) that those workers who were bending down to their work—and only they, not their helpers standing by—inhaled the air which licked the ferrous and incandescent metal.
- (3) that the analysis of the inhaled air showed an absence of carbon monoxide, meaning that the air was always a combination of nitrogen and oxygen. This explained the fact that never, even though a great number of investigations were made the world over, was carbon monoxide found in the inhaled air.
- (4) that carbon monoxide—being detected in the blood of workers, not in the blood of the helpers—could only have an endogenous formation when this air is breathed. In other words, it was activated by the air's contact with a ferrous and incandescent metal. This would shed light on the observations made in places using cast iron stoves heated to incandescence.

The oxygen in the inhaled air was not sufficient to allow a formation of CO in the organism. There is O, but C is needed. From where does it come? After much research I thought that it was activated nitrogen which produced carbon in the organism (at the level of red corpuscles irrigating pulmonary alveoli). This question hasn't been cleared up. The nitrogen molecule (there is never free atomic nitrogen; isolated nitrogen is always in the form of N_2) contains two nuclei of nitrogen enveloped by the electrons of the molecular orbit. In the heart of the molecule the two nuclei vibrate at a known frequency. Were this submitted to a vibratory and outer energy more or less of the same period, could it be a resonance which at a certain time provokes the passage of a proton with its neutron from one nucleus to another? All this occurs without any change of the peripheral electrons. On one hand, there remains a nucleus with one proton missing, thus carbon; the other nucleus acquires one more proton and cytes going through the air cell. It has not yet been proved that I was mistaken. [see figure 1]

Controversies arose when I published the above explanation in 1960. A specialist advanced the following opinion: the heat of the inhaled air led to a dilation, a reduction of density, thus to the rarefaction of the inhaled air. From this would result a diminution of the oxygen pressure, which is conducive to "bad combustion" in the blood, hence CO is formed instead of CO_2 .

It is easy to see that this hypothesis has no value whatsoever. The breathing in of hot air would not lead to the same effect if there were no contact with an incandescent metal.

Nevertheless, a systematic study was made in 1963 by a friend, Professor Desoille, and his colleague Truffert, both holding high official positions. They demonstrated that the phenomenon was independent of oxygen pressure. (H. Desoille, Absence de corrélation entre la pression de l'oxygène et l'oxyde de Carbone dans le sang, Arch. Mal. Prof. July 1963.) In 1964 I also showed that this phenomenon does not occur when the metal sheet is brought to a temperature of 400°C; one needs at least the deep red, and when the sheet is bright red the effect is quick. Oxygen is not the cause; thus my first publications in 1960 were confirmed. Nor does this same effect occur if one exchanges the nitrogen of the air with helium. Nitrogen alone is the origin of this endogenous production of carbon monoxide. The phenomenon being clarified, since my position in the scientific world permitted it, I notified "inspectors" of the measures to be taken in factories to avoid oxycarbonic intoxication once and for all.

[END QUOTING OF PART 3]

Do you begin to see that YOU are a magnificent piece of transmutation apparatus? If you don't learn as much you have no purpose in having so-called freedom for you will never be more than you are in ignorance. You can become a creator of self and destiny only when you come to KNOW that which you are. Thank you.

becomes oxygen. It is thus a phenomenon having nothing to do with nuclear physics; one remains at the molecular state. But we have here an internal remodeling by the removal of a proton from one nucleus to another. The measurements taken show that in the molecule N_2 the distance between the two nuclei of nitrogen is 1.12 Angstroms, whereas in the CO molecule the distance between the C and O nuclei is 1.09 Angstroms.

This removal of a nuclei when a proton and its neutron exchange places does not seem radioactive: it could occur under the energetic action of an unidentified enzyme at the level of the pulmonary air cells, or perhaps in the thickness of the membrane of the erythro-

New Gaia Offers Journey To Health

What Should We Be Taking?

5/26/95 SANDRA TULANIAN, D.C.

The times in which we live in do not afford us the opportunity to keep life simple enough that health can be taken for granted by just ingesting food and water. The game rules have been changed by bureaucrats (directed by crooks higher up the ladder) who dictate questionable farming practices which, when added to the already choking pollutions of our atmosphere and water, ends up depleting the soil, the food supply, plus the air & water we breath of many of the essential nutrients that would otherwise allow our bodies to function optimally.

Aside from a core of products that New Gaia carries which will be discussed further on in this article, two brand new products are being offered that are extremely important to present first. They are GaiaCol and OxySol. GaiaCol is a combination of Colloidal Silver, Trace Colloidal Gold and Trace Crystalline Drias. This combination of ingredients has produced a product that is so high-frequency and potent that it could quite possibly be the solution to our ongoing fight against the new antibiotic-resistant diseases that we face today. Colloidal Silver was used extensively and very successfully against bacteria, virus, fungi and the like before the advent of the first antibiotic, penicillin; and the uses for Colloidal Gold at that time were just beginning to present themselves. Once the chemical companies began manufacturing the myriad of antibiotics, silver and gold were no longer looked to for treatment. Interestingly, the antibiotics that they were producing had no effect on the more resistant viruses, fungi and parasites yet this did not stop the medical community from prescribing these drugs regardless of the type of infection. Now we face a new generation of bacteria that are completely resistant to any antibiotics merely due to antibiotic overprescribing and resultant survival of the fittest bacteria.

Research has demonstrated that Colloidal Silver is non-toxic to humans and allows no known disease-causing organism to live in its presence. With the addition of Trace Colloidal Gold and Trace Crystalline Drias, the frequency of GaiaCol is remarkably enhanced to allow these newer, more powerful viruses and bacteria to be eliminated. GaiaCol is gentle enough to use topically on just about any skin, hair, or mouth condition without fear of toxicity and is outstanding for burns. For internal use it is recommended to maintain with 3-4 drops, 3-4 times per day under the tongue and if an infection is present, start with 1 teaspoon the first day and then 10-12 drops, 3-4 times per day under the tongue until the infection clears. Important: Due to the powerful nature of this product, friendly bacteria can be affected so it is advisable to replace the natural intestinal flora with some type of acidophilus/lactobacillus supplement daily or, at the least, when symptoms are noted (symptoms may include cramps, bloating, diarrhea/constipation and a general feeling of malaise).

Please note that this product is said to be perfectly safe for children and pets and can be taken with other medications without incident. Colloidal Silver is not addictive and the body does not build up a tolerance to it. For your information only, Colloidal Silver has been used effectively on the following: acne, conjunctivitis, allergies, rheumatoid arthritis, bladder inflammation, venereal diseases, eczema, appendicitis, boils, cancer, candida, otitis media, prostate problems, whooping cough, ulcers, plus many, many others. GaiaCol can also be used to wet wound dressings and bandages and help heal cuts, scratches, abrasions, fever blisters, etc. There is a myriad of uses for this product which makes GaiaCol, in my opinion, one of the most exciting and valuable products on the market today.

OxySol contains Colloidal Silver and Trace Colloidal Gold but has Hydrogen Peroxide (food grade) and other trace minerals to add a new dimension to the effects. Organisms that have plagued us for centuries may be destroyed using this product but the new, more resistant strains will require the higher frequency GaiaCol. When added to water, the OxySol will help to purify, which makes this ideal for taking to restaurants or for travel. When taken with GaiaCol you get a two-fold effect of combating foreign invaders and providing a greater oxygen content for the health of the cells from the Hydrogen Peroxide. OxySol is wonderful topically as well, but is not advised for burns (use GaiaCol for burns). The trace minerals found in OxySol are vital to our health because the nutrients that were once taken for granted in our vegetables and fruits have been systematically farmed out of our soil. These trace minerals need to be replaced, otherwise our bodies continue to be open season for aggressive bugs. Another use for OxySol is to rid the oral cavity of harmful bacteria by brushing your teeth with 4 drops OxySol on your toothbrush or use as a mouthwash or gargle. The recommended amount to take daily for system clearing is 6-10 drops, 3 times a day on an empty stomach. If taken with GaiaCol, reduce both daily requirements in half. If you are adding OxySol to your water, just add 1-2 drops in each glass of water. Both OxySol and GaiaCol are very powerful additions to our pursuit of health.

Without these "food"-based essential nutrients our immune systems and body physiologies are sitting ducks for any attack—from chemical and biological "warfare" practices, to increased nuclear radiation pollution, as well as from other high-energy photon bombardment as this planet prepares itself for the upcoming changes.

It is up to every individual to take personal responsibility for their health and prioritize the needs their bodies may have at this time as well as pay special attention to the needs of their children. I hope to describe here some good products available to you so that your search for a basic, complete arsenal against disease can come to an end.

New Gaia has presented many products to the public that you can pick or choose for individual needs. But there is a core of products, which should be taken regularly, that is felt to be essential to health and well being. These products are: Gaiandriana, AquaGaia, Gaialyte, Kombucha Tea, Kombucha Vinegar, CarbraGaia, GaiaCleanse Program, Chlorella, Spelt, and 3-In-1. Each of these provides a service to the body that is a necessary assistant to the other. We will discuss each one individually to provide you with the information you need to understand why these items are necessary.

The physiology of the body is basically governed by the actions and programming found within the cell. The cells make up the tissues of the body, the tissues make up the organs such as the heart or liver which, in turn, make up the organ systems that work in harmony with each other to keep the entire body functioning. If the cell structure has been altered or is malfunctioning (for whatever reason), every organ system is affected. To what degree they are affected depends on the offending substance that has caused the cell's breakdown or the length of time that cell has been subjected to abuse.

Gaiandriana is a product that is said to help correct the faulty programming that has occurred at the cell level by correcting into perfection the cell's DNA/RNA blueprint. Viruses, unlike bacteria, have the ability to fuse with the DNA strand within the cell, creating a mutation to that cell. By perfecting the DNA/RNA blueprint, the cell may be returned to a level of vitality which allows it to fight off an incoming virus and maintain the homeostasis within the cell and, in turn, within the organ systems.

This is essential for the immune organ system, because without healthy cells that can fight off offenders like free radicals, viruses, and cumulative levels of radiation, the immune system is overtaxed to the point of exhaustion—eventually leading to disease. Another benefit from consuming Gaiandriana is its ability and nature to thrive on the invisible, higher photon frequencies which are bombarding us daily. Gaiandriana is able to speed up the frequency levels of the cells to more nearly match the energies pouring in and assaulting the body. This, in turn, can offer a two-fold benefit: One benefit is the ability of the cell to withstand and actually adapt to these otherwise damaging energies; the other benefit is to help protect ourselves from mind manipulation through pulse beams that are irradiating mankind relentlessly. Originally the dose was 10 drops, 3 times per day, under the tongue. However, with the growing number of "manufactured" epidemics and other stepped-up plans for our demise by the Elite, perhaps more is better. One ounce or more per day may produce faster and more effective results.

Aquagaia was introduced to benefit the mitochondria system that lies within the cell. The mitochondria is the energy producer of the cell and is essential to convert the food we eat into usable cell fuel and to produce enzymes that are absolutely necessary for survival of the body system.

Aquagaia is also said to feed on vessel plaques adhering to blood vessel linings. Most all of us, by the age of twenty, have plaques developing on the arterial walls due to the American diet that is filled with saturated fats, high protein, white flour products, and limited consumption of fresh fruits and vegetables. This product provides added fuel to any compromised system to assist in strengthening the immune system, as well as cleaning out blood vessels and enhancing the pliability of the vessel walls throughout the body. Both Gaiandriana and AquaGaia work in harmony to strengthen and eliminate mutations of all cells by working together within the cell structure itself.

Another product that you will find essential in your daily regime is Gaialyte. This is a fully integrated electrolyte liquid that is brought forth from the Kombucha Tea. The combination of tea and juice, vitamins, minerals, Ginkgo Biloba, Echinacea, Chlorella, oxygenators, Aloe Vera and Gaiandriana are a powerful combination that helps boost energy levels as well as provides electrolyte balance within the body to help enhance the performance of the Gaiandriana within the cells. Electrolytes are substances which dissociate into ions in solution and thus become capable of conducting electricity. The balance of these electrolytes in the body will aid in the protection from the various high-frequency energies that we are now subjected to as well as enhance the effectiveness of all the other products you are consuming for your health.

Another beverage that should be taken in a dose of approximately 8 ounces per day is the "Tea Breeze" Kombucha Tea. Enough can not be said about this fermented drink from the mushroom fungus found long ago by a prominent Japanese woman in a town called Kargasok, Russia. What she found amongst these villagers astounded her. The women were virtually without wrinkles or other signs of aging and the overall population was comprised of unusually healthy people. She was told that these people drank 8 ounces of Kombucha Tea daily. She brought the mushroom fungus back to Japan and, today, over a million Japanese people drink the fermented tea daily. With the high content of special proteins and enzymes, this tea is said to reduce cholesterol, restore hair growth, strengthen eyesight, help insomnia, aid in weight reduction, help with allergies, bronchitis, asthma and a myriad of other debilitating conditions including the prevention of certain cancers.

While these are claims from people who have used or researched the product, it would simply be prudent to regard Kombucha Tea as a must to add to your daily health regime. Many people make their own tea with the mushroom that is available through New Gaia Products, but for those of us with limited time, the ready-made tea in the 1-liter and 2-liter bottles is both delicious and convenient. Try mixing the tea with the Gaialyte and your favorite juice, or just drink it straight.

There is a Kombucha Vinegar that has been developed which offers similar properties to unpasteurized apple cider vinegar, which has been used for centuries to care for all types of ailments. This product packs a punch when fighting off the common cold and is great as a digestive aid. Many are using this product in their salad dressings or other recipes to enhance the nutrition that their families receive. While Kombucha Vinegar is not recommended for canning or preserving, it certainly is recommended for general consumption.

CarbraGaia is the membrane that is found in the mushroom fungus of the Kombucha Tea bathed in a nurturing amniotic-like fluid of Gaiandriana to aid the body in repair of connective tissue. This product was designed to replace the need for Shark Cartilage supplement, which has been well researched and documented in recent years and which is said to program the body to never develop cancer tumors. By mixing one teaspoon in to any of the above mentioned drinks, you add one more weapon to your arsenal in the quest to build the immune system to its optimum healthy state.

A 14-day program called GaiaCleanse has been developed that assists in the elimination of the nasty parasites found within the body. Very few people realize the kinds and types of diseases that these parasites can contribute to, such as Cancer, AIDS, Hepatitis, Hodgkin's Disease, Diabetes, just to name a few. There have been reports that people have been able to turn their conditions around by utilizing a program such as the GaiaCleanse Program to eliminate the myriads of parasites, such as flukes, keeping house in their internal organs.

The beauty of this program is that 14 days every 3 months is all that is required to insure a body that is free of most parasites. The GaiaCleanse line includes tinctures that can be mixed in any one of the above beverages or in juice. There is also an intestinal cleanse that comes in the kit to ensure proper elimination and cleansing during the two weeks. These steps to health are important if one is to realize optimum health within the cellular structure and organ tissues of the body.

Chlorella is a single-celled, fresh-water algae which is a nutritionally balanced whole food that is extremely high in protein (60%) and contains more than 20 essential vitamins and minerals, 19 of the 22 essential and non-essential amino acids, enzymes, plus Chlorella growth factor. The combination of these factors results in a product that has been found to be excellent in the healing of wounds, injuries and ulcers, immune strengthening, age retardation, protection against radiation, normalizing digestion and bowel function, and protection against toxic pollutants, to name but a few of the benefits.

Chlorella is a rich source of chlorophyll, which is extremely effective in controlling body odor both internally and externally. The suggested daily consumption is 3 grams per day, but dosages should be adjusted to your individual needs. Many times the alkaline reserves in the body are so depleted that Chlorella, in larger doses, is warranted.

Moreover, because of its superb food value, Chlorella is an important addition to anyone's emergency food storage stash.

As part of an ongoing nutritious diet, the grain of Spelt (Triticum Spelta) should be added to every diet in replacement of the standard wheat grain. Spelt is superior to wheat in that it contains more protein, crude fiber, and fats than wheat. It also contains special carbohydrates (Mucopolysaccharides) which help stimulate the all-important immune system.

Many people who are allergic to wheat find Spelt to be easily digestible. What is most exciting is the delicious nutty flavor that Spelt offers to any baking needs. Another advantage of Spelt is the large amount of vitamin B-17 found in the grain (also known as Laetrile) which has a reputation for retarding cancerous cell growth and aiding in the healing of other serious illnesses. Spelt also has an exceptionally thick husk around the center grain, which protects it from all kinds of pollutants and insects far better than happens with other grains. The Spelt grain can be ground up into flour and used in any recipe where flour is required. New Gaia offers the whole Spelt grain bread mixes, or the grain itself to be ground into flour, or the flour already milled for your convenience. This simple addition to your family's diet can provide a wealth of extra nutrition for your loved ones as well as a great taste experience.

The last product I wish to discuss is a newer product of which you may not be fully aware. Many of you have heard of the latest craze using a product called "Pycnogenols". Pycnogenol comes from the bark of the pine tree and is said to have remarkable anti-oxidant properties that are aiding in the relief of a number of chronic conditions. The 3-In-1 product offered by New Gaia has been found to be superior to Pycnogenol. The research that has been conducted on the elements found in Pine Bark were primarily conducted on Grape Seed Extract because this, too, had the components that offered the superior anti-oxidant protection.

What was discovered is that the Grape Seed Extract was even superior to the Pine Bark in that it contains a higher level and higher potency of OPCs (Oligomeric proanthocyanidins) which are the active ingredient for free-radical scavenging. These OPCs found in the Grape Seed Extract are known for their instant bioavailability to seek out nasty free radicals and produce rapid counter-effect results. While no claims are here being made for the healing qualities of any product, the OPCs found in Grape Seed Extract have been identified with: Anti-aging protection, improved vision, decrease in wrinkles, resistance to mental deterioration, reduced risk of heart disease, reduced risk of stroke, enhanced immune system, faster healing, subdued PMS, and reduced inflammation of arthritis.

The other substances found in 3-In-1 are Ester-C and Aloe Vera. Ester-C is found to get into the blood stream faster and in larger amounts than other forms of vitamin C and wastes only a fraction of what other vitamin C products lose through elimination. It is also found to penetrate white blood cells more efficiently, which is necessary for their metabolism. There is also a reduction, if not an elimination, of the side effects from the acidity of regular Vitamin C because Ester C has a neutral pH. Each capsule also contains 150 mgs. of Aloe Vera which is the equivalent of one-and-one-half ounces of natural Aloe Vera juice. Excerpted from an article by John C. Pittman, M.D., we read: "Acemannan, a mucopolysaccharide, is a long-chain sugar which is found as an active ingredient in Cold Processed Whole Leaf Aloe. It interjects itself into all cell membranes. This causes an increase in the fluidity and permeability of the membrane, allowing toxins to flow out of the cell more easily and nutrients to enter the cell. The net result may improve cellular metabolism throughout the body, resulting in a boost of energy production."

These three powerful ingredients are found in one product called 3-In-1. It is a potent product that should be utilized by anyone suffering from a chronic condition or for those wishing to maximize the functioning of their immune system on a day-to-day basis.

All the above products discussed: OxySol, GaiaCol, Gaiandriana, AquaGaia, Gaialyte, Kombucha Tea, Kombucha Vinegar, CarbraGaia, GaiaCleanse, Chlorella, Spelt and 3-In-1 can be the keys to a healthier and more vibrant life by reinvigorating the immune system, increasing the metabolic activity of the cells, providing more complete nourishment to allow the organ systems to function in harmony with one another, and to increase our bodies' overall frequency levels to withstand the onslaught of various high-frequency energies that are thrown our way. These products work synergistically together to maximize the effects of each product.

Of course, right thinking, right exercise, and right eating are absolutely necessary to add to any health regime, but the benefits and gifts found within these various products are priceless to our well being in this high-stress world.
